Kirk Praises Italian Role In Education

400 Attend Columbus Day Celebration Held by Abruzzi Lodge

Italy's interest in education and culture, transmitted to this country by Columbus and his successors, was a prime factor in the American creation of the world's highest standard of living.

Charles A. Kirk, executive vicepresident of International Business Machines, developed this theme at Endicott's annual Columbus Day celebration Saturday The affair, sponsored by duca degli Abruzzi Lodge 443, Sons of Italy, drew about 400 persons to the Sons of Italy Clubhouse in Odell Avenue. It was the thirtieth celebration of its kind. "We in this country have the
