MADISON POLICE DEPARTMENT 2006 ANNUAL REPORT

The 150-year commemorative badge for the
City of Madison, Wisconsin Police Department – 1856 to 2006

MISSION STATEMENT

We, the members of the Madison Police Department, are committed to providing high quality police services that are accessible to all members of the community. We believe in the dignity of all people and respect individual and constitutional rights in fulfilling this mission.

VALUES OF TRUST-BASED POLICING

Trust Challenges

We must recognize that trust-gaps exist within some of the communities we serve. It is our responsibility to participate in a dialog that promotes collaborative relationship building to close those trust-gaps.

Ethical Behavior

We understand that public trust is the foundation of our profession. We further recognize that it is our responsibility to uphold the laws and ensure that justice is served. We are committed to being consistently fair in the execution of these duties, while maintaining the highest standards of integrity and honesty.

Problem Solving and Quality Focus

We must assure that our commitment to quality and continuous improvement shows through the service that we provide to the community. This will be accomplished through collaborative problem-solving models, and continuous evaluation of internal work systems.

Citizen Involvement

We believe all members of our community are responsible for public safety. We strive to educate our community about our capabilities and limitations, while empowering them to have a voice in public safety solutions. It is a community expectation that we hold people accountable for their criminal behavior.

Leadership

We believe in a situational leadership model that is flexible and responsive. The focus is on employee engagement, balancing task and relationship needs, that provides structured leadership behaviors that are supportive to employees. We view all our employees as leaders.

Employee

We believe that each employee offers a valuable contribution to our department. We also recognize that it is the diversity of our workforce that provides the foundation for success. It is the goal of the department to empower all employees to carry out the mission of the Madison Police Department.

A MESSAGE FROM POLICE CHIEF NOBLE WRAY

This past year has been one where I believe the Madison Police Department has risen up to meet the challenges of our ever-evolving city. Certainly day-to-day protection and service to our citizens is paramount, but we are also pushing forth with a vision for the future, which I think will build bridges with our citizenry for years to come.

To that end we have developed six trust-based value statements aimed at guiding the men and women of our department toward the goal of providing the very best, highest quality, community-oriented policing service. These statements are included in this report.

We also saw a great improvement in the annual State Street Halloween celebration, which is now titled "Freak Fest." Since the riot of 2002, the department has worked hard each year to improve our safety plan. We had been successful in reducing the amount of property damage and the number of serious injuries every year leading up to 2006, but until this past year we had still been forced to end the night in protective gear and clearing the streets with the aid of pepper spray. We hope 2006 was indeed a real turning point as we were able to shut the party down pretty much without incident.

This past year also brought forth an ordinance we believe will significantly cut down on the amount of time officers spend responding to false alarms. The adoption of this ordinance will allow officers to respond to actual alarms, "verified alarms," in a more effective manner.

I am also proud to highlight what we believe is a real honor for the City of Madison, the hosting of the 2006 International Problem-Oriented Policing Conference. Over 400 law enforcement officers from around the globe gathered in our own backyard to share innovative ideas in solving crime and improving the quality of life for citizens.

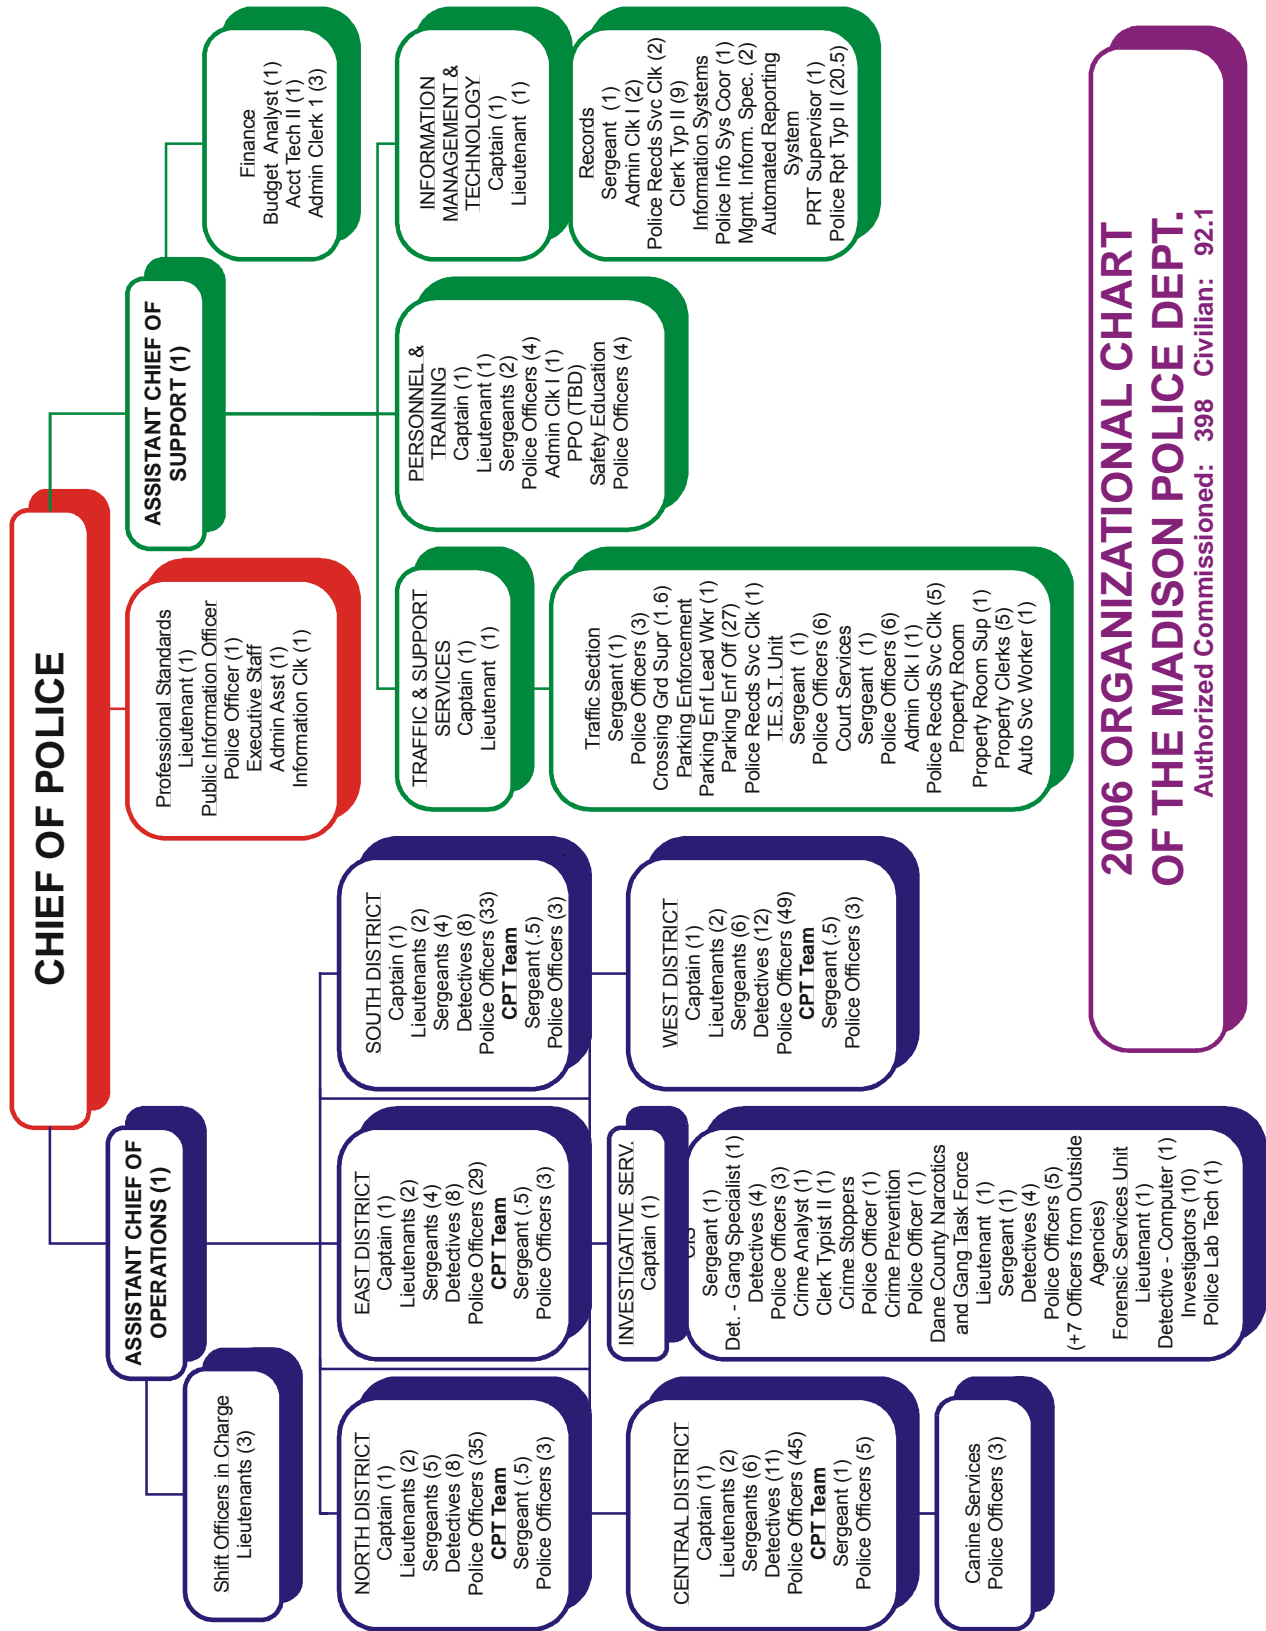

Thanks to the leadership of Capt. Jill Klubertanz, our latest push towards decentralization, "getting closer to the people we serve," became a reality with a festive grand opening that drew many community members. The opening of the East District station marked the fourth district station constructed in the past decade.

In closing, let me say the men and women of this department remain dedicated to meeting ever-increasing demands and making sure Madison continues to be one of the best places to live in the country.

I hope you enjoy the 2006 Annual Report,

Noble Wray

DISTRICT SERVICES: Reporting to the Assistant Chief of Operations, District Services was divided into five Police Districts - East, West, North, South, and Central, with each District being led by a Captain. Each District was also staffed by: one primary services (patrol) Lieutenant, Sergeants and Police Officers (including Neighborhood Officers and Educational Resource Officers) who, with their leaders, were responsible for initial police responses on a twenty-four-hour/seven-day-per-week basis; and one Detective Lieutenant and District-assigned Detectives who were responsible for follow-up investigations. The total resource allocation to the five Districts was: 5 Captains, 5 primary services Lieutenants, 25 Sergeants, and approximately 191 Police Officers (dependent on existing vacancies resulting from turnover). District allocations for follow-up responsibilities included 5 Detective Lieutenants and 47 Detectives. Resource allocations were determined by proportions of documented service demands, adjusted annually, assessing needs by time of day and between individual Districts. District Services was also allocated three Lieutenants who served as Officer in Charge, or shift commander, responsible for the coordination of operations on a time-of-day basis during time frames of: 7:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m., 3:00 p.m.-11:00 p.m., and 11:00 p.m.-7:00 a.m.

Also working in District Services were three community policing teams. These three teams were made up of a Sergeant and 5-6 Police Officers, and were divided up between the five police districts. Two districts, North/East, shared one team. The third team was assigned to the Central District. The overall function of these teams was very dynamic in nature as they served to support and enhance district police services delivered to the community. The primary emphasis for these teams continued to be proactive traffic enforcement, collaborative problem solving, community policing initiatives, and response to significant or emerging issues in the districts.

2006 U.C.R. HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Negligible change in overall Part One Crime. However, “violent crime” (defined as homicide/manslaughter, forcible rape, aggravated assault and robbery), increased 16.5% in 2006 (979 total offenses) compared to 2005 (839 total offenses).
- ❖ Robberies and aggravated assault were responsible for the increase in violent crime; forcible rape decreased.
- ❖ 109 robbery offenses in 2006 were cleared by arrest (thus far) for a clearance rate of 25.1%. This compares to a clearance rate of 21.2% for robberies in 2005.
- ❖ 141 burglary offenses in 2006 were cleared by arrest for a clearance rate of 8.6%. This is significantly higher than the Madison Police Department clearance rate of 5% over the last several years; however, this is still below the State average of 16% for burglary.

Source: <http://www.fbi.gov/ucr/05cius/offenses/clearances/index.html>

- ❖ Total adult and juvenile arrests were down 10.1% in 2006 compared to 2005. A reduction in the number of arrests associated with Halloween and Mifflin Street is partially responsible for this decrease.

Explanation of categories:

Wages & Benefits: Permanent and hourly wages and all benefits

Other Agency Costs: CCB Use, Workers Comp, Insurance, Motor Equipment, City Attorney, etc.

Purchased Services: Utilities for district stations, phone costs, service agreements on equipment, training, the pre-service academy, prisoner costs for use of the Dane County Jail, costs for the sexual assault nurse, etc.

Required by Contract: Uniforms, clothing allowance, tuition reimbursement, etc.
