Counsel for Carl Wayne Buntion

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS OF THE TEXAS BOARD OF PARDONS AND PAROLES:

Carl Wayne Buntion is scheduled to be executed on Thursday, April 21, 2022, after 6:00 pm. Mr. Buntion was sentenced to death in the 178th District Court of Harris County on January 24, 1991 for the capital murder of Houston Police Department Officer James Irby.

There is no question that Mr. Buntion is responsible for Officer Irby's death. There is no question of his guilt. However, being guilty of the murder of a police officer, one of the gravest of all murders, is not sufficient, in and of itself, for a Texas defendant to be executed. At a minimum, such a person must spend the remainder of his life in prison, but to be executed pursuant to a judgment entered in a Texas courtroom, he must be someone who would likely harm others if he is not executed.

What has been made perfectly clear during the thirty-one years that he has been incarcerated on death row is that Carl Wayne Buntion does not pose a danger to anyone in any Texas prison. Moreover, as he has aged (Mr. Buntion turned seventy-eight years old the day before this Petition is being filed), he has developed physical impairments which would prevent him from harming anyone even if he was someone who was inclined to harm others while in prison.

Accordingly, Undersigned Counsel respectfully request this Board recommend the Governor commute Mr. Buntion's sentence to a lesser penalty. In the alternative, Counsel request this Board recommend the Governor issue a 90-day reprieve to allow the courts an opportunity to decide what access to his spiritual advisor Mr. Buntion should have while in the execution chamber.

Procedural history

Carl Buntion was convicted of Houston Police Officer James Irby's murder and sentenced to death on January 24, 1991. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ("CCA") affirmed his conviction and sentence on May 31, 1995. Buntion was denied relief in his first state habeas proceeding on November 5, 2003 and was subsequently denied relief in federal habeas. Soon after the conclusion of his initial federal habeas proceeding, Buntion's then-attorney filed a subsequent state habeas application, which raised a Penry claim, arguing that his sentence was unconstitutional because the jury was not allowed to properly consider mitigating evidence presented at his 1991 trial. The Court of Criminal Appeals agreed and, on September 30, 2009, ordered Buntion receive a new punishment hearing because the 1991 punishment hearing did not satisfy what is required by the Constitution. Ex parte Buntion, No. AP-76,236, 2009 WL 3154909 (Tex. Crim. App. Sept. 30, 2009). In other words, eighteen years after Buntion began serving his sentence, the state's highest criminal court found the sentence was unconstitutional.

Finally, in 2012, Buntion received a new punishment hearing, which did not suffer from the problem identified by the CCA in 2009. On March 6, 2012, Buntion was again sentenced to death. His sentence was affirmed by the CCA on January 27, 2016, and he was subsequently denied relief in both state and federal habeas.

On December 8, 2021, Counsel filed a state habeas application on behalf of Mr. Buntion, which raised three claims, two of which are relevant to the issues addressed in this petition: 1) given the amount of time Buntion has been incarcerated on death row (most of which was pursuant to an unconstitutional sentence), it would violate the Eighth Amendment's prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment to execute him now; and 2) during the thirty years he has been incarcerated on death row, Buntion has demonstrated he does not pose any danger to fellow prisoners or TDCJ staff. The application was dismissed the morning this Petition is being shipped, and Counsel anticipate they will pursue the claims in federal court.

Buntion is largely a product of his horrific childhood.

Buntion's father was an abusive alcoholic whose gambling addiction caused many issues for the family. Buntion's father would come home drunk and assault his wife and children multiple times a week. His father was paranoid that his wife (i.e., Buntion's mother) was cheating on him and one night, while drunk, he knocked her front teeth out of while his children watched. Buntion's brother, Bobby Buntion, testified at trial about their father. Specifically, he testified about an incident that occurred one night after their father came home from a night of heavy drinking and told the family they had to pack up and leave; he had lost their house, its attached garage (from which he operated his business), and all of his tools in a card game. The family was forced to relocate to a rundown, roach-infested, and rat-infested house.

Only a few years later, when he was only seventeen, Buntion was convicted of theft, having seemingly be driven to such a life by his father, which resulted in his first of many incarcerations.¹

During the thirty-one years he has been incarcerated on death row, Buntion has proved his does not pose any danger to others in the prison.

Buntion is Texas' oldest death row inmate. During the thirty-one years he has been incarcerated under a sentence of death, he has been cited for only three disciplinary infractions, and he has not been cited for any infraction whatsoever for the last twenty-three years. Copies of the reports of these three incidents are contained in Exhibit A.

Buntion was cited for no disciplinary infractions during the first five years he was incarcerated under a sentence of death. Then, on May 16, 1996, he was cited for having more towels, shorts, and sheets than he was allowed to have. On September 20, 1997, he was cited for refusing to be strip searched. Finally, on January 13, 1999, he was cited for hitting another inmate with his fist. This single incident is the only violent offense for which Mr. Buntion has been cited during the entire period has been incarcerated on death row.

Because of his advanced age and physical impairments, Carl Buntion is no longer capable of being dangerous.

Carl Buntion is no longer the middle age man who was cited for hitting another inmate over twenty-three years ago. On March 30, 2022, he turned seventy-eight years old. During the time Buntion has been incarcerated under a sentence of death, he has developed multiple ailments including: arthritis, vertigo, hepatitis, sciatic nerve pain, and cirrhosis. (An excerpt of Buntion's medical records is attached as Exhibit B.)

Buntion's sciatic nerve pain in his back, hip, and left leg make it difficult for him to walk.² His medical records note that Buntion must sometimes use a wheelchair because of the severity of the sciatic nerve pain.³ Sometimes the pain is so bad, he is unable to walk to the shower without falling.⁴ In addition to the sciatic nerve pain, Mr. Buntion has periarthritis in his right wrist which is so severe that he cannot be handcuffed with a single set of cuffs and must be double cuffed.⁵

Mr. Buntion also suffers from nonobvious physical ailments. He was diagnosed with Hepatitis C and cirrhosis of the liver.⁶ In addition, Mr. Buntion has developed severe vertigo that requires him to be housed only in cells on the ground floor.⁷ Simply put, Mr. Buntion is a frail, elderly man who requires specialized care to perform basic functions. He is not a threat to anyone in prison and will not be a threat to anyone in prison if his sentence is reduced to a lesser penalty, both because he has shown no inclination toward being violent and because, given his physical limitations, he is not capable of being dangerous. As Buntion ages, his physical ailments will only become more severe, and he will likely develop additional conditions which would further limit his physical abilities.

This Board should recommend the Governor commute Mr. Buntion's sentence to a lesser penalty.

Texas is unique in the context of capital punishment in two ways. The first is widely known: Texas executes far more people than any other state. Since 1976, Texas has carried out 573 executions. Virginia, which recently abolished the death penalty, is in second place and has carried out 113.

⁵ Exhibit B at 78, 98, 619-621.

⁶ Exhibit B at 619.

⁷ Exhibit B at 116, 147.

But there is another, less obvious, respect in which Texas is different: It is the only death penalty state in America in which a jury's decision to sentence a defendant to death is based largely if not entirely on a prediction that, if not executed, the defendant will be dangerous in the future. This second dimension of Texas's uniqueness places this Board in a position unfamiliar to clemency boards in other states, because this Board has the opportunity to know whether the jury's prediction that a defendant would be dangerous has proved to be in error.

The jury that sent Carl Buntion to death row believed he would likely be dangerous while in prison; the jury was mistaken. In the last thirty years, Buntion has been anything but dangerous. Because he is not dangerous, has never been dangerous in prison, and is now incapable of being dangerous, it would be a miscarriage of justice for him to be executed. Counsel respectfully requests this Board recommend the Governor commute his sentence to a lesser penalty and allow him to live the rest of his life in prison.⁸

The Board should recommend the Governor issue a 90-day reprieve so that the courts can decide whether Buntion's spiritual advisor will be allowed to touch him and audibly pray over him when he is executed.

Buntion has requested that his spiritual advisor, Barry Brown, be permitted to audibly pray for him and physically touch him while he is in the execution chamber. Consistent with TDCJ's current execution protocol, which does not permit religious touching or audible prayer in the execution chamber, Buntion's request was denied. Last week (i.e., after Buntion's request was denied), the Supreme Court held that TDCJ's categorical ban on audible prayer and religious touch in the execution chamber is inconsistent with an inmate's rights under the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act. Ramirez v. Collier, No. 21-5592, slip op. at 4, 18 (U.S. Mar. 24, 2022).

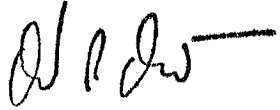

In light of Supreme Court's decision, it would seem that TDCJ will have to amend its answer to Buntion's request and its execution protocol. Accordingly, the day after the Supreme Court issued its opinion, Undersigned Counsel wrote to TDCJ's General Counsel to inquire as to whether TDCJ intended to amend its execution protocol in light of the opinion and, if so, when. As of the date this Petition is being shipped, TDCJ's Counsel has not responded. In other words, only three weeks before he is scheduled to be executed, neither Buntion nor his attorneys know whether his request will be granted or whether TDCJ will stand firm in its decision to deny Buntion's request, necessitating further litigation on this issue.

In last week's opinion, the Supreme Court made clear that the best course of action would be for Texas to adopt clear rules about religious touch and audible prayer in the chamber well ahead of an inmate's execution so that any arising issues can be litigated well ahead of a scheduled execution. See Ramirez, slip op. at 21. The time that remains before Texas intends to execute Buntion is not a sufficient amount of time for this issue to be litigated, and for that reason, Buntion respectfully requests this Board recommend the Governor issue a 90-day reprieve so his attorneys can litigate the issue of whether his spiritual advisor should be allowed to audibly prayer over him and touch him while he is in the execution chamber.

Respectfully submitted, this 30th day of March, 2022.

CR for BP checks which were never completed
This visit was part of a grievance by the patient and his attorney
Part of my last note:

S:

Have had complaints in past regarding occasional dizziness
Also injured right wrist in past and his arm and wrist hurt when in single cuff
Also, when walking down the stairs while cuffed behind back with single cuff, he feels as though he might lose balance and fall
Requesting ground floor and double cuff pass

Being evaluated because he was referred to medical by Mr. Keller and third party (attorney)

1. Dizziness and aging:
 - BP checks to adjust meds as indicated
 - CR in one month for the same
 - DCP until March 20, 2014 when he should be re-evaluated with the others
 - Ground floor- HSM changes asap- for safety

These BP checks MUST be completed:

Reordered once a week for 4 weeks
CR in 4 weeks
