IAAF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It has been 15 years since Birmingham last hosted the IAAF World Indoor Championships but we have strong and fond memories of those three days at what was then the National Indoor arena. The local support, facilities and officials were also superlative at the IAAF World Half Marathon Championships here in 2009, a level of quality which continues at the annual IAAF Diamond League meeting.

One of the countless details set out in this book is that the single world indoor record set at the 2003 championships in Birmingham was in the women's pole vault. That's not the only women's milestone the city has seen in athletics; the first sub-five minute mile was run in Birmingham in 1954 and the first official women's heptathlon was staged here in 1978. Now Birmingham becomes the first city to hold the official World Indoor Championships twice, this time in the renamed Arena Birmingham.

The point of this book is to package the results and stories of 2003 and every other World Indoor Games and Championships, along with records, lists and other relevant details. For the four days of the championships, and hopefully beyond, you will find plenty of useful information in the handy form which has been a hallmark of IAAF statistics handbooks for decades.

We are lucky to have such intrepid collaborators who put in an extraordinary amount of time to keep track of the new, historic and amended details necessary for this compilation. Their statistics narrate our heritage. The IAAF is grateful for the continued efforts of all such enthusiasts but in particular members of the Association of Track & Field Statisticians.

MESSAGE DU PRESIDENT DE L'IAAF

Quinze ans se sont écoulés depuis que Birmingham a accueilli pour la dernière fois les Championnats du monde en salle, mais l'IAAF conserve le souvenir intact de ces trois jours de compétition dans ce qui était alors le National Indoor Arena. L'investissement des autorités locales, les installations, les officiels furent également des atouts de tout premier ordre pendant les Championnats du monde de semi-marathon en 2009 ou encore lors du meeting annuel de la Diamond League.

Parmi les innombrables informations mentionnées au fil de ces pages, on peut citer le record du monde en salle du saut à la perche féminin, le seul de l'édition de 2003. Ce n'est toutefois pas l'unique fait d'armes féminin dont Birmingham ait été le témoin en athlétisme; en effet, c'est dans cette ville que les femmes ont, pour la première fois, couru le mile sous les 5 minutes, en 1954. C'est aussi ici que la première compétition officielle d'heptathlon féminin s'était déroulée, en 1978. Aujourd'hui, Birmingham devient la première ville à organiser les Championnats du monde en salle à deux reprises, cette fois dans le célèbre stade Birmingham Arena.

Le but de cet ouvrage est non seulement de compiler les résultats et anecdotes de 2003 mais également de tous les Championnats du monde ou Jeux en salle, ainsi que des records, des classements et toutes sortes de détails intéressants. Durant les quatre jours de compétition et j'espère au-delà, vous trouverez dans ces pages une mine d'informations sous une forme éminemment pratique qui est la marque de fabrication des manuels de statistiques de l'IAAF depuis des décennies.

Nous avons la chance de bénéficier du travail infatigable de collaborateurs zélés qui consacrent tout leur temps et leur énergie à la compilation de données historiques, aux mises à jour et à l'enregistrement de nouvelles données. Leurs statistiques témoignent de notre patrimoine. L'IAAF remercie tous ces passionnés de leurs efforts inlassables et en particulier, les membres de l'Association des Statisticiens d'Athlétisme (ATFS).

Sebastian Coe
Président de l'IAAF

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

REMERCIEMENTS

A book of this nature is very much a team effort. I am therefore grateful to the select band of experts who have devoted many hours of attention keeping on top of the facts and figures we'll need at the IAAF World Indoor Championships. The principal feature of this book is the section detailing results and reports from all past editions, sorted by event and year. The 2016 coverage is new, while all the earlier results have been adjusted to incorporate two years' worth of retrospective doping disqualifications, some of which go back a decade. Six medallists from past championships have been replaced. It's not just medal tables which are affected by such amendments, the ripples are felt far lower in the rankings. Untainted athletes have had their placings improved and several of these are now the best ever for their country in their event. All these developments are highlighted in this book.

Many new national indoor records are shown here together for the first time. Encouraging evidence of progress is that as many as 18% of the marks presented have occurred since the previous edition was published, including more than 80 from last autumn's Asian Indoor Games in Turkmenistan.

My usual thanks go to the usual "indoor" contributors, who have each provided years of unfailing support which I do not take for granted. These are György Csiki, Ed Gordon, Tomas Magnusson and Giorgio Malisani. Ed Gordon's perennial all-time lists deserve special mention, for they go much deeper than the presentation within this book. I am also thankful to Thomas Byrne, Mirko Jalava, Alfons Juck, Hans van Kuijen, and the staff and departments of both the IAAF and AIU (Athletics Integrity Unit) for all their support.

Acknowledgments also to www.tilastopaja.com, www.iaaf.org, "Athletics International," "Track Newsletter," Ed Gordon's TAFWA All-Time Indoor List 2018, ATFS/Peter Matthews Athletics 2016 & Athletics 2017.

GENERAL ABBREVIATIONS & SYMBOLS

South Africa

Performances by South African athletes in the period between the Republic's suspension from the IAAF (July 1976) and admission as a provisional member (May 1992) are marked with the symbol “†”.

Athletes' Names

In this book, we have attempted to use the most understandable, recognisable and pronounceable versions of athletes' names, in accordance with the policy of the ATFS. In general, we strive to use the names the athletes actually want, which may well not agree with those given on entry forms and/or passports. So I am now showing Yelena Isinbaeva as that is what she has told us, and is as shown on her website. With Belarusian and Ukrainian names we have used generally Russian transliterations. Therefore we show Bogdan Bondarenko not Bohdan, and Sergey Bubka rather than Serhiy Bubka, etc.

City Names

In keeping with ATFS policy, native spelling is used for the names of cities given in lists in this book. In text, the English (or French) version of the name is used.

WORLD INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIPS QUICK REFERENCE

A total of 5684 athletes (3314 men, 2370 women) from 215 different countries (see page 251 for a list) have competed in the IAAF World Indoor Championships, 2552 reaching finals (or placing among the top eight), 1081 winning medals, of which 380 have won golds. A total of 69 athletes have had their results disqualified due to doping violations as at January 31, 2018. (See from page 195 for a survey of all IAAF world gold medallists and 52 for a list of doping offenders at World Indoor Championships.)

The biggest IAAF World Indoor Championships, in terms of competitors, were Paris 1997 with 705 actual participants from 118 countries. There were more countries at subsequent stagings including Istanbul 2012 (171, excluding Bhutan who entered but did not declare), but with tighter entry standards the number of athletes who actually competed then was only 630. (See from page 14 for participation figures at all World Indoor Championships.)

The most medals won by an individual at the World Indoor Championships is nine by two women, Natalya Nazarova (RUS) and Maria Mutola (MOZ). Nazarova won hers across the 400m and 4x400m relay, whereas all of Mutola's came in a single event, the 800m. Both each won a record seven golds, though only two of Nazaova's were individual. Two Cuban jumpers are the most bemedalled men, Javier Sotomayor and Iván Pedroso. High jumper Sotomayor won four golds plus one silver and one bronze. Pedroso won five successive long jump titles in 1993-2001. The most successful athletes in terms of top eight placings are shown from page 47.

The most successful country at the World Indoor Games and Championships is the United States, with 108 gold, 67 silver and 64 bronze medals. Russia is the only other country with a total of more than 100 medals. Tables of all national placings are given from page 28.

The closest finish to a World Indoor Championship event came in the women's 60m in Moscow 2006, when Me'Lisa Barber beat Lauryn Williams (both USA) by one thousandth of a second (7.008 to 7.009). In the second semi-final of the men's 60m in Budapest 1989, the first five finishers all clocked 6.58 or 6.59.

The oldest World Indoor Champion is Yekaterina Podkopayeva (RUS), winner of the 1997 women's 1500m at 44 years 271 days. The oldest male champion is Bernard Lagat, winner of the 2012 3000m at 37 years 90 days.

The youngest gold medallists are Mohammed Aman (ETH), who won the 2012 men's 800m at 18 years 61 days, and Vashti Cunningham (USA), the 2016 high jump winner and one day older than Aman, 18 years 62 days. More details of the youngest and oldest competitors are given from page 25.

The most championships contested is nine by Maria Mutola (MOZ). The most by a man is eight by Javier Sotomayor (CUB), Manuel Martínez (ESP) and Chris Brown (BAH). A fuller list of most appearances is given from page 23.

CHAMPIONSHIP PERFORMANCE TRENDS

These lists show the trends in the standard of performance at successive World Indoor Championships. For each event, the winning mark is given along with that for sixth best and the best non-qualifying performances. The best mark in each category is shown in bold. The third mark is the best not to qualify for the final from the semi-final or field event qualifying group. Where there were first-round heats in track events, the best non-qualifying mark from that stage is always shown in the rightmost columns.

PLACING TABLES

Scoring eight points for first place, seven for second, six for third down to one for eighth place. Points are shared in the case of a tie (=)

Number of World Indoor Games & Championship & non-championship events (1991 Women's TJ & 1993 Combined Events & Medley Relays):

	Men	Women	Totals
Paris 1985	13	11	24
Indianapolis 1987	13	11	24
Budapest 1989	13	11	24
Seville 1991	14	13	27
Toronto 1993	16	15	31
Barcelona 1995	14	13	27
Paris 1997	14	14	28
Maebashi 1999	14	14	28
Lisbon 2001	14	14	28
Birmingham 2003	14	14	28
Budapest 2004	14	14	28
Moscow 2006	13	13	26
Valencia 2008	13	13	26
Doha 2010	13	13	26
Istanbul 2012	13	13	26
Sopot 2014	13	13	26
Portland 2016	13	13	26
Totals	231	222	453

The columns in the overall placing tables do not all add up to 453 because of ties, non-finishers, disqualifications and non-starters. For instance there was a tie for gold in the 2014 women's high jump, so instead of 453 golds we have 452 plus 2 tied.

Where relevant each table is followed by a breakdown of the placings of the constituent states of the former USSR, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. These three competed as single countries up to 1991, 1993 and 2003 respectively before dividing into the independent nations we know today. For Germany, separate placings by the GDR and FRG are given in the yearly tables up to 1989. The unified Germany competed for the first time in 1991.

Doping Offences:

The symbol "X" is shown for those events where an original finalist or top eight finisher was disqualified for a doping offence. In these cases, where relevant, the rightful finalists are also highlighted. They are those athletes or teams who were kept out of finals by doping offenders.

The editor's interpretation of the IAAF doping rules in force is that up to the end of 2005, only marks made on or after the date of the positive sample are disqualified. From 2006, all performances by guilty athletes at a championships (before or after the day of the positive test) are declared invalid.

Paris 1985

Final (Jan 18: Non-championship)

1, Ben Johnson	CAN	6.62
2, Sam Graddy	USA	6.63
3, Ronald Desruelles	BEL	6.68
4, Lincoln Asquith	GBR	6.69
5, Bruno Marie-Rose	FRA	6.73
6, Cameron Sharp	GBR	6.74

At the 1984 Olympics, Graddy and Johnson finished second and third behind Carl Lewis. In the Paris final, those two were next to one another in lanes 1 & 2. Graddy got the better start, but Johnson – who clocked 6.56 just before Paris compared to the then world best of 6.54 – won by 0.01. The two very nearly collided at the finish as the American strayed into lane 2 in his effort to stay ahead.

It should be remembered that Johnson has since admitted to doping violations at the time of this race, as noted below for 1987. As at January 31, 2018, the IAAF have not formally stripped him of the gold medal he won in Paris.

(1,) Ben Johnson	CAN	DQ (6.41)

Rightful finalist: Valentin Atanasov BUL

Johnson, now the world indoor record holder at 6.44, was clearly in superb form. He won his semi-final, easing up, in 6.49. There was drama before the start of the final. First, a twitch by McRae set the field off. Then Johnson got a brilliant and apparently valid start – only for the recall gun to be fired when he was halfway up the track.

For each event, the following data are given:

Full results and brief report from each IAAF World Championship event
Reports by Mark Butler or Richard Hymans. WR = World Indoor Record

Multiple Medallists:

Athletes having won two or more medals in the event

Most Finals:

Athletes having contested most finals (top eight if straight final) in the event or everyone having contested five or more

Most Appearances:

Athletes having made the most appearances in the event or everyone with six or more

National Placings:

A table of placings by country in the first eight of each final. Point scores are computed by giving six points for first place, five for second etc, down to one for sixth. Placings by the GDR and FRG are given in a single entry for Germany. Ties are denoted by the character "="

Please note that results from the 1985 World Indoor Games and the non-championship women's triple jump of 1991 and heptathlon, pentathlon and medley relays of 1993 are included in these statistics

Rule numbers are given in the event of disqualifications for the 1997 World Indoor Championships or later. The equivalent rule numbers in the current IAAF Competition Rules (2018-2019) are given, which are:

149 – Entry to championships on the grounds of invalid performances

162.7 – Two false starts

163.2 – Obstruction

163.3 – Running out of lane

168.7a – Illegal clearance of hurdle

170.6c – Dropped baton not retrieved by the athlete who dropped it

170.17 – Outgoing runner in 4x400m relay begins running and/or breaks from lane too early

218.4 – Illegal change of position by waiting relay runner (indoors)

Further IAAF Anti-Doping Rules (now ADRs 10.1 / 10.8 / 11.1):

40.1 – Doping violation during or in connection with current competition

40.9 – Doping violation prior to current competition

41.1 – Doping violation any members competing on a relay team

While the 20,023 crowd booed, Johnson was penalised for a false start. After studying the reaction times, the judges changed their minds and blamed Haas. When at last there was a valid start, the muscular Canadian was again away blindingly fast. He won by a metre from McRae in a world record of 6.41, and was moving so quickly after the finish that he propelled himself into a somersault over the padded barrier on the edge of the running oval. Johnson was unhurt but was not completely happy, either, estimating that he would have run 6.36 if he had not been recalled from that second start.

In June 1989, Johnson admitted for the first time that he had taken anabolic steroids regularly for six years before his disqualification at the 1988 Olympic Games. The IAAF Council subsequently stripped him of his world records and 1987 world title. McRae was thus promoted to world indoor champion and his time of 6.50 declared to be the official world record.

Simón became the favourite after the semi-finals, where he won his heat in a personal best of 6.54. The charismatic Cuban, only 1.60m tall, got the best start in the final and was a clear winner in another lifetime best. He proceeded to sprint back down the straight in celebration before running a lap of honour carrying a Cuban flag.

The second heat of the semi-finals produced one of the biggest mass finishes ever at this level – five men within the space of 0.01. One of the unlucky runners was Stanley Floyd, meaning that the United States were unrepresented in a world sprint final for the first time.

Johnson – making his return to major competition following a two-year suspension – stole the limelight when he stumbled and almost fell at the start of his heat.

The Canadian made the final as a fastest loser, by which time it was clear that the title would go to Cason or Christie. The American got the best start, leaving the much taller Christie little time to try to close the gap. Christie failed to catch Cason by a margin of just 0.007.

Surin, eighth in 1991, became Canada's first official World Champion after edging in front of Olympic sprint silver medallist Fredericks in the final 15m. The Haitian-born Canadian, who had clocked 6.45 earlier in the year, equalled the championship record of 6.50 in both heat and semi-final.

In a reference to Ben Johnson, who had subsequently failed another doping test, Surin said: "The message I want to send is that some people think that an athlete can't be top without being on drugs but I am the guy saying now it is possible."

Surin retained his title with a 1995 world best time which was also a championship record. It was another Canadian – Esmie – who got the better start. The Canadian pair were split by Braithwaite, who set a personal best. The other British representative, Michael Rosswess, was less happy. He lost a place in the final on the toss of a coin. Both he and Marc Blume clocked exactly the same time of 6.619 in the semi-finals, but there was only room for one of them in the final.

On the day that Athens was shortlisted as a candidate for the 2004 Olympic Games, Greece provided the most surprising winner of the Paris World Indoor Championships. Papadiás showed he was a big threat by recovering from a false start to win his semi-final in 6.53. In the final most eyes were on Surin to see if the Canadian could take a third title. In fact he could not even get among the medals.

Green (6.49 in 1997) started best with Papadiás no better than fifth for most of the race. However, the Greek finished faster than anyone else to nip in front at the finish and become the first European winner of this event.

Greene was drawn in lane 3 with Gardener in 5 and Harden in 6. The two Americans, both from Kansas, raced clear from the opposition. Greene, the world record holder, appeared to cross the line first though it was hard to judge as the two men were three lanes apart. Gardener was a clear third. The replay confirmed the race had been very close; with Greene winning by just one hundredth.

Maurice Greene decided not to defend his title, despite having equalled the world record at the US Championships ahead of Tim Harden. Yet the United States still took gold and silver medals in Lisbon.

The three semi-final winners were Harden, Montgomery and Aliu. In the 1997 championships, Aliu was disqualified from the semi-final after committing two false starts. In Lisbon, the same thing happened to him in the final to the Nigerian's disgust. The commotion took place in the lane to Harden's left, but it did not seem to affect the American who started well and won easing up from Montgomery.

The revelation of the race was Mark Lewis-Francis, the 2000 World Junior Champion at 100m and still only 18. Drawn in the lane between the Americans, the British teenager won the bronze with a world junior indoor best (and now an official IAAF world junior indoor record). At 18 years 188 days, he became, for the time being, the youngest ever male medallist in the history of the championships starting in 1987.

Gatlin had been lauded as a great talent in the United States but had never raced outside of that country until the first round during the opening session in Birmingham. He quickly made an impact, staying unusually low with his head down for half of the race before striding smoothly away to win. Gatlin's compatriot Trammell went out in the first round with an injured right hamstring. The semi-finals were won by Gatlin and the two British entrants, Gardener and Lewis-Francis. Kim Collins of St Kitts appeared to struggle to reach the final but once there, he made the fastest start in lane two. Across the track in lane six, Gatlin was also away well and surged in the last 20m for a clear victory. Collins edged Gardener, who repeated his 1999 bronze.

The two-time bronze medallist Gardener was favourite, in spite of a defeat in his last race before Budapest when he was left at the start thinking a false start would be called. Gatlin did not defend but his training partner Crawford had moved down from 200m (which he won in Lisbon) and was the fastest in the heats. In the semis Gardener was the more impressive and from lane 3 had much the best start and pick-up of the finalists. He was not caught, although Crawford (lane 6) closed slightly at the end despite swerving from one side of his lane to the other.

Scott was the fastest entrant (6.52), and further enhanced his position as favourite with a semi-final win in 6.50 ahead of Fasuba. Other semi winners were local man Yepishin and hurdler Trammell, who had been fastest in the heats with 6.60. Scott led from the gun in the final, but was pressured all the way by the surprising Yepishin. Trammell, recovering from a stomach infection, was a close third.

"I never dreamt that a silver medal was possible," said Yepishin, whose mother Yekaterina Podkopayeva was World Indoor Champion at 1500m in 1997.

The 2004 champion Jason Gardener vacated the title, preferring to contest the Commonwealth Games (outdoors) in Melbourne later that month.

Fasuba, a distant relative of Don Quarrie, had set the world's fastest time of the year – 6.51 – on the same track four weeks earlier. He duplicated that clocking in winning the third semi-final with some ease. The Nigerian's closest rivals appeared to be US champion Rodgers, who won his semi in 6.54, and Chambers.

The final saw Fasuba take control of the race after 10m, and he won by 30cm over Chambers and the ever-competitive Kim Collins, who tied for the silver. Rodgers placed fourth after reacting much slower than in his semi.

With a time of 6.50, Valencia silver medallist Chambers was the fastest entrant. The form book was closely followed, as the Briton was the fastest in the heats and semi-finals. Rodgers had the quickest reaction in the final, then Chambers powered away to win by a half-metre from the American. In fifth place, Nigerian transferee Francis provided the best placing in Doha for the host nation. Sadly that distinction was removed in 2017 after a re-test of his sample from the Beijing Olympics showed a prohibited substance. Two years' worth of his results were deleted.

For Chambers it was a first global gold medal, and the finest moment in his controversial career which included a three-year doping suspension. At 31 years 342 days, he became the oldest man to win this particular title. A less welcome record was set by Switzerland's Rolf Fongué in heat five of the first round. He became the first athlete at an IAAF World Championship to be instantly disqualified under the tightened false start ruling.

There was controversy in the heats when the stadium's acoustics produced a "double sound" of the starting gun, which gave the impression of a recall. One of those misled was 6.47 performer Clarke, who reacted in 0.420, clocked 7.05, and was eliminated. The semi-finals saw Gatlin and Carter respectively run 6.50 and 6.56 to cement themselves as favourites for the title.

Former champion Gatlin got the better start, and powered away to win the final by a metre from the Jamaican, with defending champion Chambers just edging Kimmons for the bronze. For Gatlin it was a repeat of his win from 2003, and in exactly the same time. "It feels like a rebirth," remarked the returning drug offender.

Kilty was only third in the British Trials, then got the chance to compete in Sopot following an injury to the winner of that race, James Dasaolu. In Poland, the unheralded Briton reached a brilliant peak, with personal bests and the fastest reactions in all three rounds.

In the final, Bracy (lane 6) seemed to be edging ahead in his red bodysuit. Then, on the other side of the track, the British athlete appeared to cross the finishing line first. Kilty said he instantly felt he had won, but "had to watch the replay to make sure". Just seven thousandths covered places 3-5, while former winner Chambers found 6.53 good enough only for sixth.

Final (Mar 18)

1,	Trayvon Bromell	USA	6.47	0.121
2,	Asafa Powell	JAM	6.50	0.135
3,	Ramon Gittens	BAR	6.51	0.132

7,	Marvin Bracy	USA	6.56	0.125
8,	Kim Collins	SKN	6.56	0.152

Powell impressed greatly in the first two rounds, winning each race impressively in 6.44. Not only were these Central American records, but they were also the world's quickest since Dwain Chambers clocked 6.42 in 2009. The other semi-final winners were 2015 world outdoor 100m medallist Bromell and former World 100m Champion Collins. At 39 years 348 days, the Kittian and Nevisian became the oldest ever world indoor competitor and finalist.

In the final, youth beat experience, with Bromell scoring a clearcut win and becoming the youngest-ever 60m champion. Collins was never a factor, while Powell recovered from a poor pick-up to take the silver. That was a respectable result for the 33 year-old Jamaican who had last appeared in these championships in 2004, but a repeat of his 6.44s would have secured gold. "I don't know exactly what happened," he admitted, "but I just didn't come out in the final."

Indoor specialist Yevgenyev – the European Indoor Champion – just managed to hold on for victory from the fast-finishing junior Mafe, two lanes to his outside. The 18 year-old Briton had set Commonwealth bests in both semi-final and final.

As they stood at the start, the finalists' concentration was broken by the commotion which accompanied the winning pole vault by Sergey Bubka and a world high jump record by Stefka Kostadinova.

Once the race started, the early leader was United States record holder Butler, but he faded to fifth at the finish as the ungainly Baptiste surged ahead of world record holder Marie-Rose.

Final (Mar 3)

1,	John Regis	GBR	20.54

5,	Rob van de Klundert	NED	21.55
	Róbson da Silva	BRA	DQ

The final had Regis in lane 4, da Silva in 5 and Mafe in 6. Regis had successfully protested about originally being drawn in 2 despite being the fastest semi-final winner.

The Briton later admitted that his anger about that issue spurred him on once the race started, and he closed up on da Silva who responded but in doing so took three strides in Regis's lane on the second half of the bend. Regis drew clear in the finishing straight while Mafe closed slightly on the Brazilian.

Da Silva was duly disqualified for a lane infringement and Regis also was investigated after having apparently ran on the outside edge of his lane going into the last bend. "Because you're running at a certain speed the momentum throws you out and I was fighting to stay in my lane," he admitted.

After four faulty or false starts, Christie (lane 5) sped off the quickest in a bid to go one better than his 60m silver. Antonov (lane 4) had finished impressively in the earlier rounds and did so again, passing Christie halfway down the homestraight. The Bulgarian seemed more surprised than anyone else by his victory and was in tears at the medal ceremony.

Some observers – including the coach of outdoor European Champion – were displeased with the track which had flat, sharp bends. It was Moen, however, who coped best. In the semi-finals he scored a psychologically important win over former champion Regis, who withdrew from the final injured. The Norwegian was an easy winner of the final from the outside lane. Keitel won his country's first ever IAAF medal, a bronze.

Among the absentees were Linford Christie and Frankie Fredericks. Three weeks earlier in Liévin, both had ran faster than the previous world record with times of 20.25 and 20.26 respectively.

Final (Mar 8)

1,	Kevin Little	USA	20.40
2,	Iván García	CUB	20.46
3,	Francis Obikwelu	NGR	21.10

5,	Rohsaan Griffin	USA	21.27

Defending champion Moen did not even start his semi-final, withdrawing after having been assigned lane 3 in a race where he needed to beat Boldon or the experienced Little to reach the final. Boldon, the double Olympic bronze medallist, won in a championship record of 20.41 to establish himself as favourite for the gold.

In the final García was drawn in lane 4, inside Boldon and Little. Boldon was slightly ahead on the final bend before García closed suddenly on his inside. On Boldon's outside, Little was also in close contention. The American edged in front and appeared to be heading for victory when Boldon dramatically pulled up and fell over with a hamstring injury. The Trinidadian was booed, somewhat unsympathetically, by the crowd, as he was surrounded by helpers. Meanwhile he had lost his championship record to Little, who concluded: "I know how to take the bends."

4,	Francis Obikwelu	NGR	20.85
5,	Koji Ito	JPN	20.95
6,	Rohsaan Griffin	USA	22.06

Fredericks (lane 6) was never headed as he sped to the finish in 20.10, second only to his world indoor record of 19.92. In the last 50m Thompson (lane 5) closed slightly, and his time of 20.26 moved him to third place on the world all-time list. In third place, defending champion Little collected his third world indoor 200m bronze medal.

The results showed how significant lane draws are in indoor 200m races. The runner drawn in lane 6 was first, lane 5 was second, lane 4 third etc. Griffin, world number one before Maebashi but the slowest of the qualifying semi-finalists, drew lane one – just as he had in Paris 1997 – and wound up sixth.

5,	Allyn Condon	GBR	21.69

Crawford had placed only third in the US Championships but came into the team when the man who won that race, Coby Miller, broke a bone in his left leg. The other American, 1997 winner Kevin Little, pulled a muscle after winning his semi-final. Therefore only five men started the final, with the favourite being European Indoor Champion Christian Malcolm (lane 5). However, Crawford (lane 4) entered the straight three metres ahead. Malcolm closed a little but the American was never threatened.

The advantage given by outer lanes in this event was acknowledged in that lanes 1 and 2 were not used for the preliminary rounds. They were in the final, where prize money was at stake for six places.

Defending champion Crawford crossed the line first in his semi in 20.50 but was disqualified for running inside his lane, as was his teammate Williams after a blatant transgression in the third semi. These were two out of 25 such disqualifications in Birmingham.

The United States' loss was Britain's gain, for Devonish emerged as favourite and drew the favourable lane six in the final. That race was marred by the disqualification of the British number two, Condon. He false started twice yet disputed the judge's decision and insisted on racing under protest. Condon placed fifth but his disqualification held. Meanwhile, Devonish raced clear of Batangdon, who won his country's first medal at these championships.

The IAAF Council Meeting at Berlin in November 2003 decided that from 2006 this event would be removed from the programme of the World Indoor Championships because "it was clear that top performances depended solely on the lane draw." So Budapest 2004 would see the final world champions at the one-lap event.

The 1999 winner Fredericks became a victim of poor lane draws, he was assigned lane 4 in his heat where Ernst was able to win comfortably from lane 6. The Namibian qualified, but as a second-placer, he missed out on the chance for lane 5 or 6 in the semi-finals. In fact he was given lane 2 and did not start the race. In the final, Unger (lane 4) led until the advantage of the outer lanes came into play.

Birmingham bronze medallist Demeritte made the most of the outside draw to defeat the favourite Wissman.

Final (Jan 19: Non-championship)

6,	Angel Heras	ESP	54.09

The East German teenager Schönlebe produced the best performance of the 1985 Games by substantially improving the world best of 45.79. Drawn in lane four, the reigning European Junior Champion raced through 200m in 21.48 to lead by five metres. Bennett also ran hard from lane 2 to hold second spot and gradually started to gain on the East German, who flashed through 300m in around 33 seconds. The Briton's reward was a silver medal and a sub-46 time for himself.

"Actually, I got excited and went out too fast," admitted Schönlebe. "But I was able to hold on, to my surprise – and pleasure."

It was Hernandez who rushed to the front at the bell in 21.76. Franks followed with the favourite McKay third and stumbling at the end of the first bend. Hernandez – just one day after his 20th birthday – continued to run cleanly from the front and held a 2m lead from Franks into the straight while McKay was fighting to hold off Morris for the bronze. McKay then changed gears, passing Franks and then the young Cuban just before the line.

McKay defended his title, but once again did so without leading until the second lap. This time it was Branković and Cornet who duelled for the lead with the Spaniard prevailing in 21.76 at the bell.

The American then timed his effort much better than in 1987 to move ahead on the last backstraight, hitting the front at 300m precisely. Morris also ran strongly in the second lap to make up three places. The winner's time was a US indoor record. "I wanted a world record," he said, "but I couldn't do it because of all the pushing."

Morris took control of the race with a 21.80 first half and had just enough left in the second lap to hold off Kitur. A relieved Cornet made up two places in the last lap to repeat his 1989 bronze.

It was a pity that several potential winners, including Danny Everett, Michael Johnson and Thomas Schönlebe, chose not to compete for various reasons.

For the second successive world indoor championships, Bada set the pace in the 400m final (21.31 at 200m). He won silver again, but came much closer to victory than in 1993. Hall moved in front only in the last 20m. "I was surprised when [he] took the lead," said Hall, "but I showed a lot of poise and character. We just had to see who was the stronger."

After silvers in Toronto and Barcelona, Bada finally won a world indoor gold, defeating one of the major favourites in Paris in the process. Olympic relay silver medallist Baulch had been unbeaten all winter and seemed to be heading for another victory after a 21.30 first lap which gave him a healthy lead. Bada followed and struck at the start of the homestraight. He stole past Baulch to set a new African indoor record. Karube also finished fast to take Japan's first ever individual world indoor medal.

The athletics family was shocked and saddened by news of the death of Sunday Bada at the age of 42 on December 12, 2011.

Baulch (lane 5) was again the favourite, but he looked to be in trouble at the break when the men either side of him were a few strides ahead. Then within 50m, the Welshman produced a breathtaking piece of acceleration to emerge in front at exactly 200m (21.13).

Despite the fast pace, Baulch held his form and into the straight it was clear he would not be caught. There was a close battle for the minor medals. McIntosh led off the last bend, but he was passed first by Campbell then, with his last stride, Cárdenas. All three fell over as they dipped for the line.

Jamie Baulch did not defend but the title stayed in British hands through Caines. The 21 year-old led at halfway in 21.41 from McFarlane and Campbell. The Jamaican and American were close behind before Caines surged again on the final bend. Campbell made one final effort, overhauling McFarlane and almost catching Caines. He therefore repeated his Maebashi silver.

"I had two things to do today," reflected the winner. "Get to the bell first, and then work, work, work!"

This event provided the clash of the championship: Defending champion Caines, a local favourite, versus the United States Champion Washington. Their rivalry was evident from the first heat, where they were drawn together. Both wanted to get to the halfway point in first place and Washington prevailed by running a scorching 20.87 first half, with Caines alongside. The tall American impeded Caines twice on the second lap, but the Briton came through to win in an extravagant 45.85, far faster than his winning time in Lisbon. Though the British runner complained about Washington's actions, his team decided not to make an official protest. The two met again in the semis, when Caines followed Washington (21.45 at 200m) before edging past to win.

In the final, Caines (lane 5) again allowed Washington (lane 4) to race ahead at halfway in 21.12, following close behind and attacking down the final straight. He closed the gap, but the relaxed Washington stayed in front.

For the bronze medal, former champion Baulch and Irishman McKee crossed the line together. At first they were listed as equal third in 45.99, then Baulch was given third and McKee fourth. That's how it stayed for the medal ceremony, but a protest on behalf of McKee was upheld and he was awarded a shared bronze medal in a separate presentation at the end of the championships.

Francique – who was disqualified from the heats in 2003 – ran comfortably from lane 5 to lead at the bell in 21.57 with Clarke and Kikaya following. On the last backstraight, Clarke edged in front, but not by enough to be able to overtake the Grenadian athlete on the bend. In the final straight the Jamaican moved wide again and closed on Francique, but like Caines versus Washington in 2003, the man who led at the bell held on for the gold. So Grenada gained their first World Champion.

Defending champion Francique was the slowest heat winner with 46.79, some 1.05 seconds slower than Molefe, the quickest man in the first round. Disqualified for a lane violation was US number one LaShawn Merritt. Francique edged Molefe 45.86 to 46.02 in the semi-finals, and then the Grenadan surged to the front in the final, passing 200m in 21.11, just ahead of Brown. Molefe improved from fourth to second in the last 100m, but for the fifth time in succession, the leader at 200m went on to be the victor.

Christopher, who had not even run an indoor 400m before February 2008, was top of the entry list with 45.80, but Wissman stamped himself as the favourite with a first round win in 46.12. Wissman was edged by Christopher in the first semi-final, and eliminated was David Neville, who would go on to win Olympic bronze in Beijing.

In the final, Wissman drew lane four with Christopher in five and Brown in six. The three were level approaching the bell before Wissman edged ahead in 21.10. Christopher then fell back while the other two battled it out. With 100m to go Wissman and Brown were duelling for the lead, and Christopher was two metres behind, but then the Canadian produced an irresistible finish to win clearly from Wissman while Brown repeated his 2006 bronze.

Jackson (45.41) and Gillick (45.52) had the fastest pre-Doha times of those entered, and they were quickest in the semi-finals, with marks of 46.13 and 46.15 in the first of the semis. However as the Irishman only placed second in that heat, he ended up with an unfavourable draw (lane three) for the final. In that race, the two-time bronze medallist Brown led at halfway (21.28) from Jackson, Torrance and Gillick. The Irishman progressed to third place round the final bend, but then attempted to pass Jackson on the inside, causing a collision which destroyed the chances of both men and led to Gillick's disqualification. Meanwhile Brown glided to victory, while an ecstatic Collazo swept through for the silver.

Outdoor World Champion James won his heat, but then was pipped by Brenes in his semi-final so drew the inside lane for the final where he was never in the hunt. Brenes – fourth in 2008 & 2010 – led at 200m in 21.24 from Pinder and Brown. He continued ahead through 300m (32.7), before winning in 45.11, two metres clear of the Bahamian pair. The previous month the Costa Rican had fallen in the homestraight at the Birmingham meeting. Then his splits were 21.18 and 32.6 and he insisted would have had an even faster total time than his winning mark at Istanbul.

At the age of 35, Brown set a world masters' best and collected his fifth successive medal, but the gold went to the European Champion outdoors, Maslák. The Czech had lost to Brown in his heat, yet clocked a fast enough time to give him a good draw in his semi which he won after a quick first lap of 21.19.

Maslák was even faster in the final with 21.17 at the bell, just ahead of Brenes and Brown. While the two former champions clashed in the next 100m, Maslák – wearing red and blue sleevelets – continued to run strongly and pulled away in the finishing straight.

The first semi-final proved crucial as victory went to defending champion Maslák, but only just. He beat the Qatari transferee Haroun 45.701 to 45.703 and so therefore guaranteed himself an optimal lane for the final. The second semi was much quicker when the 45.20 performer Taplin clocked 45.38. The US challenge evaporated with the disqualification of Norwood and the elimination of Clemons. Instead the final featured two Trinidadians.

Taplin drew six with Maslák in five and Haroun three. The Grenadan passed halfway well ahead in 20.89 with Maslák clear in second from Lendore with Haroun fifth. Taplin still led at 300m (c 32.3), but by now the Czech was poised on his shoulder and went ahead in the finishing straight. Haroun ran the quickest second lap of the race to charge through for the silver, while Lendore also stole past the struggling Taplin.

Drăgoescu led at halfway in 53.05, before a decisive burst along the final backstraight carried Trabaldo into a winning lead. The Spaniard had employed precisely the same tactic to win the 1983 European Indoor title. It was a Spanish 1-2 as the silver went to former European Indoor medallist González.

The Romanian ended up without a medal, having been outkicked by Britain's Ikem Billy.

4,	Stanley Redwine	USA	1:47.54
5,	Ray Brown	USA	1:47.93
6,	Ikem Billy	GBR	1:48.97

With one of the most dazzling finishes ever to a championship middle distance race, Ereng not only broke the world record but became the star performer of the second World Indoor Championships. The Olympic Champion was given special permission to compete after the rest of the Kenyan team withdrew from Budapest at the last minute due to a reported lack of funds. As a result, he ran in a vest from his American College, the University of Virginia.

Ereng's main opponent was Barbosa, the defending champion, who unlike 1987 had prepared thoroughly for the meeting. The Brazilian had clocked 1:45.73 just before the championships and won his semi from Ereng in a championship record of 1:46.79.

In the final, Brown set a very fast pace of 24.58 and 50.83. Barbosa was a close second with Ereng 12m back in fifth place at halfway. Brown succumbed to Barbosa after the bell (77.98), while Ereng was 10m behind and seemingly out of the hunt. The Kenyan suddenly tore down the backstraight and quickly passed three men by the last bend. He caught Barbosa with 80m remaining. The Brazilian responded but could not hold Ereng in the straight. The Kenyan crossed the line 0.07 below Sebastian Coe's world record, having run the final two 200m segments in 26.6 and 25.7. Barbosa clocked the third-quickest ever.

At the banquet held on the final evening of the championships, Ereng took another award – he was named as the most handsome male athlete of the championships.

Ereng retained his title in less spectacular but more controversial circumstances than 1989. He almost went out in the semi-finals, having stumbled at the bell, losing several places in the process.

In the final, another Kenyan, Tanui, went into the lead while Ereng held back to avoid trouble. Redwine took over by 400m (54.00), but he and the rest of the field were left when both Tanui and Ereng launched their victory bids at the same time in the final lap. Tanui managed to stay in front and crossed the line first in 1:46.94. He was, however, disqualified for breaking from his lane too early at the start of the race.

Poor Redwine found himself fourth for the third consecutive World Indoor Championships.

5,	Freddie Williams	CAN	1:51.26

McKean ran from the front, passing 200m in 24.86 and 400m in 51.59. His tactics were designed to avoid the sort of trouble the Scot had found himself in previous championship races. He was proved right when Nkazamyampi, Barbosa and Motchebon collided in his wake just after the bell. The Brazilian – contesting his third world indoor final – came off the worst and failed to finish.

Meanwhile, McKean continued to move away for an untroubled victory. But there was embarrassment at the medal ceremony, when the Briton missed the main presentation after failing to find a quick route from the press concourse, from where he was making calls to home.

Terrelonge had been disqualified from his semi-final for obstruction and was not even on the original start list for the final. Late on the night before the final, an appeal led to his re-instatement.

In the final, Tengelei appeared to be setting the pace in order to help his team-mate, Koech, who clocked 1:43.17 outdoors in 1994. Tengelei passed 200m in 25.2 and 400 in 53.4 before falling back. It was Terrelonge, not Koech, who then made the decisive move. The Jamaican – a student and assistant track coach at Lincoln University – had a 5m lead at 600m and held off Koech to win.

Final (Mar 9)

Kipketer missed the Olympic Games because Kenya had refused to give clearance for him to run for his new country, Denmark. Nevertheless he was the obvious world number one at 800m in 1996, and his first indoor appearance of the winter was eagerly awaited.

The smooth-striding Dane quickly got clear of the small field in his heat after a 24.96 opening 200m. At 400m (50.77) there were murmurs of recognition of a world record pace. By 600m (77.23), something special was clearly on the cards. Kipketer crossed the finish line in new world record figures of 1:43.96 and became the first athlete to take the $50,000 award for a world record at a World Indoor Championships. He did not appear to be out of breath, and did not pause to recover. Instead, he smiled broadly and soaked in the acclaim of the crowd.

“It was not my intention to demolish the field or the record,” he said. Why did he not save the record for the final? “It is better to think about one thing at a time. In the final I must think about becoming world champion and not about breaking records.”

However, after gliding through his semi-final, the Dane did go even faster in the final, 1:42.67 (24.22, 50.22, 76.49). “The decision to go for a second record came during the warm-up,” he conceded.

Not surprisingly, the other finalists were effectively in a separate race which was won by Haïda, who was a distant last at halfway.

The race started more slowly than the Maebashi women's 800m final. The three principals – Kipketer, Motchebon and Botha – crossed the 200m marker abreast in 27.11. The German then took up the running, clocking 53.70 at 400m. It was a surprise to see Kipketer fall back after this point. At 600m (Motchebon 79.48), he was 4m in arrears.

Then at the start of the final lap, the world record holder started to kick. Botha was shoulder-to-shoulder with Motchebon around the final bend before moving clear. Meanwhile Kipketer was closing rapidly and passed the flagging German. Could he catch Botha in time? No, although his dip brought him to within 0.02 of the South African, who crossed the line upright in 1:45.47.

Bucher raced through 200m in 25.38 and 400m in 51.48. By this point, he was 10m up, but most eyes were on the 19 year-old Borzakovskiy. The Russian was well-known for his tactic of holding back then producing spectacular finishes. He moved into second place on the third lap, then swept past Bucher on the final backstraight as if he was running a 400m race. He went on to win by almost 20m. At 19 years 333 days, Borzakovskiy was one of the youngest-ever world indoor champions. A fast-finishing Botha pipped Bucher for the silver.

After recovering from injury and illness, Kipketer had made a fine comeback in 2002 to regain his status as world number one. He was favourite to regain his title and tracked Bungei who led with splits of 25.79, 52.93 and 79.78. The Dane moved ahead after the bell and appeared to be gliding to victory when it became clear that Krummenacker would not be dropped. The American sprinted past in the final straight, having run the last lap in 25.8 compared with Kipketer's 26.0. This was the first United States victory in any IAAF World Championship 800m.

Mulaudzi then overtook the Brazilian while Ramzi – who qualified for the final by less than one hundredth – came from far back to nip past dos Santos for the silver. Moscow 2006

Final (Mar 12)

1,	Wilfred Bungei	KEN	1:47.15
2,	Mbulaeni Mulaudzi	RSA	1:47.16
3,	Yuriy Borzakovskiy	RUS	1:47.38
4,	Dmitrijs Miļkevičs	LAT	1:48.01
5,	Juan de Dios Jurado	ESP	1:48.44
6,	Jimmy Watkins	GBR	1:48.56

The three prospective medallists were semi-final winners Mulaudzi and Bungei, together with Olympic champion Borzakovskiy, who was very much the crowd's favourite. In the final, Mulaudzi took the field cautiously round the first lap (26.93), with Bungei taking over in a slower second 200m (28.72), as Borzakovskiy lagged in fourth place (in 56.0). Bungei continued to lead (600m: 1:21.87), before Borzakovskiy made his challenge with 100m to go. Off such a slow pace the Kenyan had plenty in reserve and held off the Russian on his outside, though was apparently unaware that on the inside Mulaudzi closed with a rush to finish 0.01 seconds behind, despite being badly spiked. The crowd were left silent after the defeat of their star athlete.

Final (Mar 9)

1,	Abubaker Kaki	SUD	1:44.81
2,	Mbulaeni Mulaudzi	RSA	1:44.91
3,	Youssef Saâd Kamel	BRN	1:45.26
4,	Dmitrijs Miļkevičs	LAT	1:45.72
5,	Dmitriy Bogdanov	RUS	1:45.76
6,	Nick Symmonds	USA	1:46.48

Of the 2006 medallists, only Mulaudzi was in attendance, as world leader Borzakovskiy (1:45.58 in 2008) decided to run only the relay, and reigning champion Bungei was injured. Bogdanov was surprisingly the fastest in the preliminary rounds with 1:46.83 in his semi-final, giving little clue as to the quality of the final.

Kaki, who had run 1:46.06 before the championships, took out the pace, and passed 200m in 24.92. By halfway he was more than 5m clear of Mulaudzi in 51.26. His third lap was the slowest of the race (27.02), but he still held a 3m advantage over the 2004 champion. Kaki managed to get home a metre clear of Mulaudzi in 1:44.81, and became the youngest ever winner of a world indoor title at 18 years 262 days. Mulaudzi won his third consecutive medal. All six finalists ran indoor personal bests.

A further statistical quirk, Iglesias of Bolivia placed fifth in heat two in 1:50.55. In Moscow he filled the same position in the same heat in 1:50.65!

Kaki had established his reputation as a fierce front-runner in the 2008 championships, and in Doha he used the same tactics. One of his most dangerous rivals, US Champion Symmonds, ran 1:46.89 in his heat only to be disqualified for cutting in before the break from lanes. In the final, Kaki raced through laps of 200m in 24.96, 27.22 and 27.68 then finished off with a lap of 26.37 to become the youngest man ever to retain a world title. Remarkably all six positions remained unchanged from the moment the field settled down in single file after 100m.

Final (Mar 11)

6,	Michael Rutt	USA	1:51.47

Aman, the only man to beat world outdoor record holder David Rudisha in 2011, won a tactical race which was the slowest final in World Indoor Championship history. Kszczot led at 600m (1:22.56) but was passed by the Ethiopian junior who covered the last 200m in 25.7. Holuša and Osagie overhauled the desperate Pole in the home-straight. The Ethiopian (18 years 61 days) became the youngest ever World Indoor Champion.

5,	Thijmen Kupers	NED	1:47.74
	Marcin Lewandowski	POL	DQ (r163.3) (1:47.09)

Kupers led a furiously fast first 100m, then things settled down with everyone in contact. Halfway was reached in 53.29 with the Dutchman still leading. At 500m, Lewandowski hit the front and by the bell (1:20.57) he was joined by Kszczot, so the host nation held the top two places. Tracking them both was defending champion Aman.

Kszczot made his bid for victory on the last backstraight with Aman responding. The younger Pole entered the finishing straight ahead, but was overhauled by the Ethiopian. Lewandowski just held off Osagie for the bronze by one hundredth. The Briton was then upgraded when it was noticed that Lewandowski had taken one step inside the track at the end of the final bend. He was disqualified by the referee, but only after the medal ceremony had taken place.

4,	Mohammed Aman	ETH	1:47.97
5,	Abdulrahman Musaeb Balla	QAT	1:48.31
6,	Mostafa Smaili	MAR	1:52.32

Berian became only the second American to win this event and did so with tactics which sharply contrasted those of his compatriot David Krummenacker 13 years earlier. He'd only made the final as the slowest of the fastest losers, but sprung into the lead after the break and flashed through 200m in 23.92. His next lap of 25.21 left him 10m ahead of Balla in 49.73.

Most of that gap was still there at 600m (1:17.37 after a 27.64 circuit), but it seemed likely that the American would soon be caught by the pack. Well, they did close up, but everyone was slowing. Just as either Gakeme or Balla looked as if they might catch the leader, they collided with one another on the crest of the final bend, the Qatari coming off the worst. Berian's front-run continued without challenge despite a 28.46 last lap. His halves had been 49.73 and a painful 56.10. "My game plan was simple," he admitted. "Get the lead and hang on."

Chesire stayed at the back after a shuffling first lap (30.22), but near the end of the second circuit, he suddenly shot into a 30m lead with a 26.98 lap between 400m and 600m. The Kenyan inevitably slowed with laps of 28.59, 30.17 and 30.88, but was still 15m in front at 1200m. By this time, the chasing pack, led by Hillardt, were closing rapidly. The Australian caught the Kenyan on the last backstraight and went on to a clear win. González pipped Chesire on the line.

Spivey led the finalists through 400m (61.68) and 800m (2:01.70) before Abascal pulled away. O'Sullivan made up 3m on the Spaniard in the first half of the last lap. Abascal responded and the two raced side by side along the finishing straight. The Irishman proved the stronger.

Ireland were denied further possible success in the final after a dramatic second heat in which Eamonn Coghlan fell on the sixth lap. The world indoor mile record holder lost almost 30m but made up enough ground in the last two laps to gain an apparent qualifying position. He then made a bad error, easing up before crossing the line and allowing Dieter Baumann and Dave Campbell to go past. Coghlan's time was insufficient for progression as a fastest loser, and an attempt to add Coghlan to the final was rejected after protests by three countries.

O'Sullivan, who had just lowered the world record to 3:35.6, was untroubled by the pace of 58.32 at 400m and 1:56.75 at 800m set by Maree. The Irishman followed the American until the bell, where he ran away to victory with a final lap in 26.83. The gallant Maree was caught by Fuhlbrügge and lost the bronze to Atkinson in his last stride.

The slow early pace was the work of Damian (400m: 63.59, 800m: 2:06.22) and Burke (1000m: 2:36.16). The field played into the hands of fast-finishing O'Sullivan, who went ahead in the last 300m and took his third title with a last lap of 26.14.

"I thought three would be too much to ask," said O'Sullivan of his third world indoor gold. "It was like playing poker out there and I guess you could say I ended with a royal flush as it was slow and tactical."

The big favourite was Olympic Champion Fermín Cacho, and the race looked to be going his way after a slow 65.9 first 400m. On the third lap, El Guerrouj went to the front and speeded up to pass 800m in 2:06.4. The young Moroccan gradually raised the pace with laps of 29.3 and 28.0. Cacho was at El Guerrouj's shoulder at the bell, but surprisingly faded on the final circuit, which the Moroccan covered in 27.3 to win. Consolation for Spain came when Cañellas took the silver.

Tanui made this race fast. He towed the field through 400m in 56.71 and 800m in 1:54.20. Gebrselassie and Rotich followed. With two laps to go, Rotich shot ahead (1200m: 2:52.58). Gebrselassie again settled in behind the Kenyan leader, but Rotich was sprinting hard and it looked as if the Ethiopian might have to settle for silver.

As the two leaders turned into the finishing straight for the final time, Gebrselassie swung wide to make his final effort. He slowly closed and caught Rotich six metres from the finish. The Ethiopian's last lap took 27.0 and last 100m 13.4. "He is from another galaxy," said bronze medallist Díaz.

This event was probably the high point of the Lisbon championships, for it not only provided a home winner but also a terrific finish. The early pace was even slower than the women's heats earlier in the day, and was actually booed by the crowd. The first 400m took 70.66, but then Olympic Champion Noah Ngeny stretched out the field. Estévez and Silva latched on to the Kenyan, then Estévez suddenly bolted ahead before the bell. Ngeny was dropped, but to the delight of the crowd, Silva stayed near. The Portuguese swung wide and edged past Estévez in the straight for a wildly-acclaimed victory. His final lap had been covered in 25.7 compared with 26.10 for Estévez.

Pursued by the Kenyan pair, Maazouzi held on throughout the last lap, though Lagat closed up in the straight and Hachlaf finished faster than anyone to snatch the bronze from Chirchir. At 33 years 151 days, the winner became the then oldest ever individual male World Indoor Champion. He ran the last lap in 27.30. For 800m the pace was slower than the Budapest women's 1500m final, with Korir reaching 800m in only 2:15.52. The Kenyan, who reached the final as a fastest loser, then stepped up the pace with a 58.22 third 400m, followed by a 13.05 100m section to the bell. Tracked by Heshko and East, Korir then covered the first half of the last lap in a scorching 12.64. The event had developed into a 300m race and though Heshko closed in he couldn't quite get in front by the bell. Korir's last lap was covered in 25.52. East held third place in sight of the finish but as Rotich challenged the Briton drifted out from lane 1 to lane 5. Was he deliberately trying to block the Kenyan? The judges decided yes and East was disqualified.

With two clockings in the 3:34 region, Komen was the only man present to have run quicker than 3:38 in the 2006 season. After controlling the fastest heat from the front, Komen again led the final from the gun, though at a pace which did little damage to his opponents. He passed 400m in 64.48 and 800m in 2:06.69. The Kenyan then kicked in 200m laps of 27.85 and 27.56. These weren't enough to drop Heshko, who sped past on the last backstraight to go one better than in 2004.

Komen was the fastest entrant (3:34.80) and he duly led for the first lap of the final in a quick 27.88. The pace slowed over the next three laps as the lead changed from Mekonnen (57.72) to Baba (1:59.10). Mekonnen then increased the pace after taking the lead at 1000m (2:29.34). Komen surged to challenge, but the Ethiopian kept everyone at bay with a closing 400m in 54.6, which featured a final lap of 26.30. Komen took the silver ahead of Higuero, who just edged his teammate Casado for the bronze.

Mekonnen and fifth-placer Willis (3:39.1) were initially disqualified for stepping on the infield as the field bunched. It was therefore announced to much acclaim that both Spaniards had won medals, but before everyone went home that night, Mekonnen was reinstated on appeal. Willis was not.

9,	Diego Ruiz	ESP	3:52.45

The final started slowly with a 31.75 opening lap by Heath, then he was replaced by Iguider who didn't raise the pace (63.98 at 400m). At 500m Keitany swept through from last to first. The pack strung out but the laps were still slower than 30 seconds until defending champion Mekonnen struck with a 28.40 circuit to 1000m. After another 100m, Iguider nipped ahead again, only for the Ethiopian to return to the front at 1200m. A further 100m later, at the bell, the lead changed yet again as Iguider made another effort with Laâlou in tow.

Laâlou surged down the last backstraight and at 1400m having run the last 100m in close to 13 seconds, so there was a third different leader, making a bid to win, in the space of a lap and a half. Mekonnen stuck to the Morrocans, but Laâlou led into the straight. Having looked so impressive up to that point, the Moroccan then crumbled as first Mekonnen passed on his outside then Iguider on the inside. The Ethiopian retained his title while a resurrected Keitany came from behind to deprive the fading Laâlou of the bronze. The last lap was covered in 26.74.

As with the 2012 800m, the final was the slowest in the history of the championships, but the involvement of Turkey's Özbilen gave the event a powerful resonance. The Kenyan, previously known as William Biwott, became a Turkish citizen in June 2011 and was not due to be eligible to compete for Turkey until June 2013. Then on February 27, 2012 the IAAF Council agreed to end his waiting period, enabling his entry for Istanbul.

Iguider led to 1000m (2:39.20) in the final, and then Özbilen took over, covering the next 200m in 26.45. Only Gebremedhin and Iguider could keep up. Iguider moved into second on the last lap and went past Özbilen with 15m remaining, despite Özbilen's efforts to force his opponent into an outer lane. "The race was quite easy for me," said the Moroccan.

Nick Willis NZL DQ (r163.3) (3:38.47)

At the 2013 World Championships outdoors, it was a major surprise that Souleiman and Wote failed to make the 1500m final. Atonement came in Sopot with gold and silver for the African pair. Souleiman led from around 80m and would not give up the kerb despite sharp challenges on the outside from Birgen and Wote. He completed the last lap in 26.26 to win his country's first world indoor medal and Djibouti's first IAAF world title. Wote just held off defending champion Iguider for the silver. Less happy was Willis, who for a second world indoor final was disqualified for stepping inside the track on a bend.

The Ergo Arena was bisected by the border between two of Poland's Tri-Cities, and it was noted that this race actually began on the backstraight in Sopot but finished in Gdszańk!

Unlike the Portland men's 800m, this final started slowly but finished with a bang. Defending champion Souleiman, fresh from a world record at 1000m, was the early leader for five laps, registering 400s of 61.81 and 66.07. He would not allow anyone past and upped the tempo to pass 1000m in 2:37.67. The Djibouti was gradually winding it up, but the experienced Willis wasn't waiting any longer. He moved from last place to the lead just after 1100m, taking with him Centrowitz. The fifth lap was covered in just 27.07 and the next 100m, to the bell, in 12.77. The New Zealander led into the straight before the American, a resident of Portland, moved ahead for a wildly-acclaimed victory. Wolde and Wote battled for third spot, then Holuša, who was 15m down on the leaders at the bell, finished even quicker to snatch the silver. Willis salvaged the bronze despite admitting that his legs "felt like cement." Souleiman ended up last.

The Irish pair of Donovan and O'Mara, each impressive heat winners, shared a very slow early pace (2:55.43 at 1000m) for the first six laps of the final. The real racing began when Rowland took it up on the eighth lap. The Briton stayed in front until two laps from home when overtaken by Padilla and O'Mara.

Padilla led at the bell, at which point O'Mara challenged. The Irishman got in front on the backstraight and sped away to win. Donovan made up three places in the last 100m to ensure that Ireland won both the gold and silver medals.

Aouita, the world 5000m record holder, won easily in his only indoor championship. After a slow first two kilometres (5:24.02), defending champion O'Mara stepped up the pace. The Irishman stayed in front until the final 400m, but could not respond to Aouita's final two laps of 26.85 and 26.92. The Moroccan had run the two halves of the race in 4:02.5 and 3:45.5.

One of the highest quality entries of the meeting set six national records in the heats. There were six more in the final thanks to the fast pace set by de Brouwer and Ntawulikura. The favourite, 33 year-old Hammou Boutayeb, took over in front and led from O'Mara – the 1987 champion – and González at 2000m (5:13.48).

Boutayeb's pace soon dropped everyone but O'Mara, who went to the front himself with two laps to go. After 50m of the final lap, O'Mara pulled clear so easily that he allowed himself to celebrate on the final bend. Yet his winning time was the fourth-quickest in history.

Vénuste Niyongabo would have been the big favourite, having easily beaten the world record holder Moses Kiptanui two weeks earlier in Birmingham. Unfortunately, the Burundian was mistakenly prevented from entering Spain. He became separated from his agent at the airport and, lacking the necessary papers, was flown back to his Italian base. When the authorities realised what had happened, Niyongabo was given the opportunity to return but declined.

Di Napoli defended his title from the front. He reached halfway in 4:01.7 then speeded up. Jiménez made a late challenge but the Italian, who frequently looked up at the video scoreboard, was always in control.

Gebrselassie allowed Lahssini to take the initial lead before moving to the front just before the first kilometre (2:33.94). By halfway the Ethiopian was comfortably clear, having clocked around 57.9 for the third 400m segment. It was a measure of Gebrselassie's dominance that Kiptanui, himself a former world record holder, quickly lost touch.

Gebrselassie's second kilometre took just 2:26.06; a new world record looked possible until it became clear that the uneven pace had taken its toll. The leader slowed somewhat in the final 600m, his last lap taking 32.20. His final time was the third-best ever.

Once it was confirmed that defending champion Gebrselassie would later contest the 1500m in Maebashi, it was unlikely that he would want a super-fast pace ... nor did anyone else.

Bitok led at 2000m (5:26.85), at which point the shuffling of the slow-moving pack suddenly left Gebrselassie boxed. He fell back to ninth pace during the lap between 2000m and 2200m, but he found his way back to the front after Di Napoli picked up the pace with three laps remaining. Gebrselassie hit the front just before two laps to go, followed by Wolde, Bitok and Di Napoli. The younger Ethiopian stayed in touch, and for a moment down the last backstraight looked as if he might even challenge Gebrselassie. Instead, he faded slightly and allowed Bitok to come through and repeat his 1997 silver. The last 400m took 55.2, with a 27.2 last lap.

After world indoor golds at 1500m in 1995 and 1997, El Guerrouj moved up a distance. In the final, he opened up a big lead after covering the section between 2000m and 2400m in 57.23. Then he appeared to deliberately slow, allowing Mourhit and García to close up. Any victory hopes those two had vanished when the Moroccan surged again in the final lap. His last kilometre took just 2:24.76.

Gebrselassie won a record 11th individual IAAF world gold with a display of his trademark kick in the last 300m. The Moroccans Goumri and Gharib traded the lead in the first two kilometres (2:35.62 and 5:14.87). Then García, who had recently lowered the European record to 7:32.98, made his move. He ran the section from 2000m to 2400m in 61.6 and continued to accelerate, yet was easily reeled in by Gebrselassie, who ran the last 400m in 54.9 to García's 56.6.

The first half of the race was very slow (4:17.8), after which Mottram speeded things up with a second kilometre of 2:36.42. With three laps to go, Lagat, Geneti, Silva and Jimenez streamed past the Australian with the Kenyan winding up the pace. At the bell the Lisbon 1500m winner Silva tried to get in front but was held off by Lagat who won with a 26.63 last lap and a 3:38.5 second half. With 2005 World Champions Shaheen (steeplechase), and Bekele (10,000m), as well as Kipchoge, winner in 2003 over 5000m, this was the most talent-loaded event of the meeting. Cragg led to halfway in the final (4:02.5) without putting any strain on the leading contenders. The tempo changed sharply as Bekele surged into the lead with the next 100m in 14.6. Bekele and Kipchoge shared the pace over the next three laps, covered in 2:55.8, before the Ethiopian zipped away on the last lap of 26.45 to finish in 7:39.32. Bekele's second 1500m had taken just 3:36.5, and the final 1000m was covered in 2:23.33. Shaheen, in only his second indoor race, passed Kipchoge at the bell. Said the winner: "indoors is like a fun run for me."

The pace was very slow for the first 1000m (2:48.58), but steeplechaser Koech upped the tempo with a second kilometre of 2:37.13. Bekele, who had come to Valencia with 2008's fastest time (7:31.09), took the lead with 700m to go, and running with a less relaxed arm action than that of his better known brother, got clear of Koech with a penultimate 400m of 56.3, followed by a final 400m of 56.9. Choge – the fastest man in 2010 at 7:31.75 – was the quickest in the heats and was the early leader in the final, passing 1000m in 2:36.19. The pace remained similar through 2000m, led by defending champion Bekele at 5:12.32. The Ethiopian then surged, covering the next 800m in 1:57.26 with only Lagat in close proximity. The American kicked at the bell, and covered the last lap in 28.39 to become (at 35 years 92 days) the oldest man to win a world indoor title and the first man to win titles representing two countries (having triumphed in the 3000m as a Kenyan in 2004). The standard was again extremely high, with a time of 7:46.36 insufficient for a place in the final. However, that final started slowly with the first two kilometres in 2:48.83 and 2:43.53. The Kenyan-based New Zealander Robertson led at that point with all 12 men in contention. The red-haired Kenyan Ndiku – an impressive heat winner while wearing a hat – moved ahead with two and a half laps remaining. Defending champion Lagat, 39, moved up smoothly to slip past Gebrhiwet and Gebremeskel and take up a perfect position on the Kenyan's shoulder at the bell.

It looked as if it would be title number four for Lagat, but Ndiku stayed in front. He clocked 53.8 for his last 400m and 26.67 for the last lap as he completed a final kilometre in a scorching 2:22.58. Lagat's silver made him the oldest ever male world indoor medallist (and indeed finalist).

Ahmed then Koech were the first two leaders, but nothing happened as they towed the field past 1000m in only 2:52.18. As the runners approached the end of lap 9, defending champion Ndiku surged to the front. The Kenyan had fallen in his heat and only qualified as a fastest loser. Significantly, he was closely tracked by Kejelcha before Bachir cut in front. Bachir sustained the raised tempo (57.79 for the first 400m with him in front) and two men were dropped. By 2400m Ndiku, Kejelcha and Choge swept past Bachir along with Iguider and Hill. One lap later Kejelcha moved ahead, passing 2600m in around seven minutes.

The gangly Ethiopian, apparently only 18, withstood the challenge of Choge throughout the last lap, which he covered in 27.93. As the beaten Kenyan slackened, he was pipped for the silver by Hill. The last kilometre took just 2:22.88, the halves of the race being 4:16 and 3:42.

	Mark McKoy	CAN	DNF
	Greg Foster	USA	DQ

The quality of this event was evident from Foster's championship record 7.46 in the heats. In the final, the American was drawn to the immediate right of McKoy, who had once shared the world record with Foster.

After a false start by Campbell, McKoy got away the quickest and built up a clear lead. Meanwhile, Foster hit the second and third hurdles, lost balance, and collided with McKoy. In a spectacular fall, both crashed to the ground, entangled with McKoy's fourth hurdle. This left Campbell as a comfortable winner.

Foster was disqualified after the incident and McKoy declared a non-finisher. The Canadian revealed that he and Foster usually bumped each other accidentally when drawn together as they were in the final, because the American has a left leg lead to the Canadian's right.

"Those things happen," said McKoy. "I don't blame Greg at all. It wasn't his fault he lost his balance. The hurdles is a dangerous event. When you clip a hurdle at that speed there's nothing you can do."

Foster said: "All I do remember is that I did run into Mark's lane."

"At one time I was wondering whether I was going to catch the guy or not," said Kingdom.

Four years after Indianapolis, Foster and McKoy clashed again, though this time Foster was drawn to the left of the Canadian. Just like 1987, McKoy got the best start in the final. Foster, who set a 1991 world best of 7.44 in the semis, closed the gap. He, McKoy and Kazanov hurdled the final flight level. The 32 year-old Foster had the best run-in, while Kazanov also got the better of the fading McKoy.

The biggest controversy of the championships came at the start of the final, when McKoy was not recalled after registering the phenomenal reaction time of 0.053. This was well under the 0.100 period below which the starter is given an audible signal. However, the rules state that the starter "shall be sole judge of any fact connected with the start of the race," and, on this occasion, the starter chose not to penalise the Canadian, who had already committed a false start. Under 2012 rules, he would have been disqualified instantly.

McKoy's start gave him a metre's lead at the first hurdle. Dees and Jackson closed down but the Canadian, who had lowered his personal best to 7.44 in the semis, won in a Commonwealth record of 7.41.

There were no protests about the starter's decision, but McKoy admitted "It looked as if I had a flier. If I hadn't got that questionable start Colin may well have won it."

In Madrid the previous month, Allen Johnson became the first man in two years to beat world record holder Colin Jackson in a hurdles race. In Jackson's absence, Johnson was the favourite and beat another British rival, Jarrett, to win his semi-final in a time which equalled the championship record.

In the final, defending champion McKoy got his usual good start but Johnson took control from the third hurdle. Despite hammering the fourth, he won with a new championship best.

Fourth once and second three times, Colin Jackson finally won world indoor gold. There were three false starts – by García, Balzer and Jackson himself. Once they were away, Jackson got a great start but was joined by Torian, one lane to his right. The American seemed to be slightly ahead at the final hurdle, which both men hit. Torian held a small lead but Jackson fought back with his usual exaggerated dip. The American had his own version of a dip, twisting to his right and thrusting out his fist, which hit the photo-finish beam in 7.35.

"I thought I won by at least half an arm," said Torian. However, it is the torso which counts, and the film showed that Jackson's crossed the line first. The United States Team officials requested a special viewing of the photograph and were eventually satisfied with the result.

The Olympic silver medallist Trammell won, but not as easily as had been expected. He started well and seemed to be heading for a clear victory, only to lose ground to the field at the last two barriers. Oljaj in particular was poised to make a serious challenge on the run-in, but fell over the final hurdle. In the confusion, Trammell – who was suffering from food poisoning – wasn't immediately sure he had won.

This event was emotionally charged as it marked the retirement at age 37 of Colin Jackson, the champion in 1999 and world record holder since 1994. Even without the injured Terrence Trammell (7.42 in 2003), this was the toughest event of the championships. The final line-up included the reigning Olympic, World, African, Asian, European and Commonwealth Champions.

Johnson, the winner in 1995, was only fourth in his semi-final and drew lane seven in the final. Obviously he saved his best for the very final race of the weekend, for he went on to win gold. Jackson finished fifth in his final race, but that didn't matter to the crowd who immediately gave the Welshman a standing ovation.

Defending champion Johnson didn't impress in the preliminaries and only placed third in his semi-final. But hang on, didn't he do the same sort of thing in Birmingham 2003 before winning commandingly in the final? To no-one's surprise Johnson repeated his tactic in Budapest to great effect, taking the gold in an American record-equalling 7.36. Liu did one better than in 2003 for the silver with Wignall pipping Olijar for the bronze. In the first round the US number two Ross fell heavily and broke his wrist, but he was ultimately disqualified in any case for a doping violation.

For the third time in the 21st century the battle for first was between an American and a Cuban. This time, Trammell, the 2001 winner, duelled with 19 year-old Robles who was racing indoors for the first time. The Cuban was the fastest in the heats with 7.55, and was 0.01 slower in the semi-finals. Quickest in that round was Arnold, who edged Robles. Just 0.09 separated the fastest and slowest qualifiers. Robles was just ahead of Trammell at the first hurdle in the final, before Trammell edged in front by the fourth, and was assured of victory when Robles clipped the final hurdle. Arnold won the bronze medal after being left at the start, with third to fifth sharing the same time. Trammell's five-year gap between regaining his title was exceeded in the event only by Allen Johnson (1995/2003).

The second heat saw Olympic Champion Liu, and the man who was to be his successor, Robles, drawn next to each other. Liu began to move before the gun (though his feet did not move on the blocks until 0.105 after the pistol fired), and Robles stood up expecting a recall which did not come. He eventually set off, but it was too late. The fastest in round one, to the delight of the crowd, was Quiñónez with 7.58. Liu and the surprising Scott were quickest in the semi-finals. David Oliver, who had run 7.47 earlier in the season, was knocked off stride in his semi and failed to qualify. Scott led in the final until the third hurdle, at which point Liu took over. The Chinese star won by a metre from Johnson, who one week after his 37th birthday became the oldest ever male world indoor medallist. Liu afterwards said: "I feel sorry for Robles. I don't know if I would have been the champion if he had also run."

The medal ceremony had to be staged twice. The first time the Chilean rather than the Chinese national anthem was played and the Lithuanian flag raised in error for the Latvian co-bronze medallist Olijar.

Rightful finalist: Gregory Sedoc NED

The fastest in the heats were Oliver and Trammell while Robles was the slowest heat winner with 7.74 after a somnolent reaction time of 0.316. The Cuban wasn't much quicker at the start (0.222) in his semi-final, but he recovered well to edge Borisov 7.56 to 7.57. Trammell was the fastest semi-finalist with 7.51. Liu Xiang, coming back from ankle surgery, was pleased just to make the final on this occasion.

Robles again had a disappointing start in the final where Trammell led from the gun. The American was still leading at the last hurdle before the Cuban nipped ahead to win in 7.34. Only Colin Jackson's world record of 7.30 and Robles himself (7.33) had ever run faster, and had it not been for a characteristically slow reaction time (0.196), the Cuban might have broken Jackson's record. Trammell claimed his eighth medal at global championship and a tie of the US record.

Merritt was off quickest in the final, followed by Liu and Martinot-Lagarde who were level at the first hurdle. The Frenchman hit that barrier, and was unable to get back on terms with Liu. The Chinese star, in turn, was outgunned the whole way by Merritt, who clocked 7.44. Martinot-Lagarde was a clear third ahead of the surprising Pozzi. "My start was marvellous," said the winner.

Darien appeared to get the best start followed by Osaghae. Those two and Martinot-Lagarde were level, and at the finish it first looked as if Martinot-Lagarde had muscled through on the run-in to win. He and the American stood and waited for confirmation. The replay answered the questions. Osaghae had won after having run a cleaner race, whereas Martinot-Lagarde knocked over two of the five hurdles, including the last one. The winning margin was one hundredth.

Martinot-Lagarde was much the fastest in the heats with 7.48, then ran a fine race in the final to clock 7.46, but still ended up with a silver medal, as he did in 2013. The gold instead went to the new star of the event, McLeod. The Jamaican led from the start and gradually pulled clear to win Jamaica's first gold in Portland and the first in this event. His time of 7.41 was perhaps the best-quality mark of the entire meeting. "It wasn't a perfect race," said McLeod. "I hit a couple of hurdles, but I just wanted to stay tunnel-vision, just feed off the energy, feed off the guys."

For much of the race Eaton held second place, before Martinot-Lagarde and Bascou came through for the other medals.

The clash between Sjöberg (20) and Sotomayor (17) produced an enthralling contest which was not resolved until the early hours of January 19. Both jumpers had perfect records up to and including 2.30, with the Swede taking only three jumps to the Cuban's six. At 2.32, only Sjöberg was successful, on his third attempt. He went on to try for a world indoor best of 2.38.

Two men who had set world records in the winter of 1987 were sensationally eliminated with no mark. Sjöberg failed three times at 2.32 and Thränhardt had one failure each at 2.32, 2.34 and 2.36.

Apart from Thränhardt, five men attempted 2.36. Only Avdyeyenko and Paklin were successful, and each had a perfect record which was maintained at 2.38. Having failed twice at 2.36, Zvara – already guaranteed the bronze – tried to overtake the Soviets by taking his last attempt at 2.40. He failed, as did the two leaders with all three tries. Paklin (KGZ) and Avdyeyenko (UKR) were then obliged, reluctantly, to contest a jump-off for the gold. Both failed at 2.38. At 2.36, the tie was finally broken by the success of the world outdoor record holder Paklin. He became the first Kyrgyi athlete to win an IAAF gold medal.

A six-hour contest of the highest class in which Dalton Grant's Commonwealth record of 2.35 was insufficient for a medal. Mögenburg and Sjöberg also cleared that height and were ahead of the Briton on countback. None of those three made it at 2.37 whereas world outdoor record holder Sotomayor did, equalling his indoor best.

Mögenburg took his last attempt at 2.39 but failed, leaving Sotomayor to clear a world indoor record 2.43, the same height as the world record outdoors.

Conway not only won the title but, at 1.83, became the shortest ever man to leap 2.40. Of the seven men in at 2.34, five of these, including defending champion Sotomayor, failed. This left Conway and Partyka to contest the gold. Both went over 2.37, but whereas the Pole brushed the bar heavily, the American had a little to spare. Only Conway went higher, making 2.40 on his second try.

The American went on to take three attempts at 2.44, the last of which closed the third World Indoor Championships.

Just as in the World Indoor Games eight years earlier, Sotomayor and Sjöberg duelled for the gold and silver. Those two plus the two Britons, Smith and Grant, went for 2.39. All failed their first attempt. The Swede succeeded on his second try. Grant had two more failures at 2.39 to finish equal fourth. Sotomayor and Smith opted for 2.41. The Briton went out but the Cuban made it with his last try. It was enough to win as Sjöberg failed at the same height. "It was the best competition ever," said the Swede. "I was proud to be part of it."

Sotomayor showed that he was still the world's number one, 10 years after his first world indoor title. He was one of four men successful the first time at 2.30. At 2.33 the Cuban again cleared the first time to maintain his perfect record. Defending champion Austin made it on his second while new Russian star Voronin succeeded with his third try. At 2.36 both Voronin and Sotomayor went clear on their first try, the Cuban with a better clearance. Austin failed once, passed, then failed twice at 2.38, knocking down both the crossbar and an upright. Voronin, behind Sotomayor on countback, also went out at 2.38. The Cuban passed 2.38 before making one attempt at 2.40.

Like all the Maebashi field events, this was a straight final. The IAAF wished to cut qualifying rounds in order to shorten the overall programme of events, so field event qualifying standards had been set correspondingly high.

Nine men were in at 2.30, and of these just Holm made it first time. At 2.33 only the Swede and European outdoor Champion Rybakov went clear. Jumping first of the two at 2.35, Holm went over on his second try. The Russian, at 1.98 some 17cm taller than the Swede, failed twice before a last-ditch attempt at 2.37. He failed, so Holm retained his title and went on to try for 2.40.

Nine men leapt 2.27 to qualify, but only two of those were to scale 2.29 in the final meaning that positions 3-8 were filled with performances of 2.25, with three men sharing the bronze at that height. One of them, Mason, may well have gone higher but injured himself on his second attempt and needed to be taken to hospital.

The gold was again contested between Holm and Rybakov. The taller Russian fell behind because he needed three goes at 2.29 while Holm went over the first time. At 2.32 both went clear straight away. At 2.35 first the Russian failed again, then Holm maintained his perfect record to win a third title in succession.

The qualifying height was 2.30, though 2.24 was all that was necessary for the eight-man final after only six men could clear 2.27. Of the five men to clear 2.30 in the final, only three-time winner Holm lacked a perfect record, and both Holm and Moya took one jump at 2.33 and two at 2.35, after both Rybakov and Thörnblad cleared 2.33 first time. Rybakov then sailed over 2.35 on his first jump, with only Tereshin on his final attempt able to match him. The silver medallist from the previous two championships then made a soaring clearance at 2.37 on his second try, before three failures at 2.41.

Half of the previous 12 medals available in the championships since 2001 had fallen to Rybakov and Holm. The two men were the only remaining jumpers after 2.32 had been breached. Rybakov was leading by dint of Holm's two failures at 2.30. Both men had a failure at 2.34, and Rybakov, jumping first, then cleared easily on his second attempt. Holm passed to 2.36 and took the lead with a first-time clearance. Rybakov, who had jumped 2.38 at the Russian championships, then had two unsuccessful cracks at that height. Holm ended his fourth championship win with two failures at 2.41. This was Holm's 46th win against Rybakov in a series which would end 49-25 in the Swede's favour by the time he retired at the end of 2008.

1,	Ivan Ukhov	RUS	2.36
2,	Yaroslav Rybakov	RUS	2.31
3,	Dusty Jonas	USA	2.31

Ukhov came into the competition as the world leader with 2.38. He duly won after being immaculate to 2.36, having just one failure (at 2.28) and five clearances, before taking a couple of cracks at 2.41. Behind him Rybakov won his fifth medal in the championships (his tenth global championship medal indoors and out), edging Jonas as both cleared 2.31. The low overall standard in the event was demonstrated by the fact that only once had such a low height managed to win silver in the previous 25 years.

The winner was expected to be one of the four men who had jumped 2.34 or better earlier in the winter – Barshim, Silnov, Ukhov or Grabarz. Barshim was the first to fall, ending up equal ninth with 2.28. Eight men jumped higher, with Ukhov the only to clear 2.31 at the first attempt. At 2.33 Hondrokoúkis, who had already set a personal best at 2.31, then made 2.33 first time. Only Olympic Champion Silnov could negotiate 2.33, so the Greek won on countback. The disappointing postscript to the event is that Hondrokoúkis failed a doping test the following July, and was subsequently suspended for two years.

Ukhov was one of the very best world athletes of the year going into Sopot. He'd had a fabulous unbeaten indoor season culminating with a European record equalling 2.42 in Prague. He came up with another terrific performance in Sopot, but it was not quite enough for gold.

Five men attempted 2.34. Three of those made it first time, Barshim, Kynard and Ukhov in that order. Tsyplakov and Protsenko failed once then tried for 2.36, which only the Ukrainian succeeded. In the meantime the Qatari also cleared 2.36, Kynard failed, and Ukhov passed. Barshim consolidated his lead with another first timer at the Asian record of 2.38, though he did rattle the bar. Ukhov could have joined him, but failed with his first attempt. So did everyone else, until Ukhov guaranteed silver with his third try. At 2.40, both he and Barshim were eliminated. Five men at 2.32 or better was the best depth since 1987.

Eight men cleared 2.29, by which point Barshim and Kynard led with no failures. That all changed at 2.33, where Grabarz was the only one over first time. Kynard made it second time and Tamberi did on his third try. Barshim failed twice and again when taking his last attempt at 2.36. The defending champion had suffered an attack of cramp.

The three survivors were ranked Grabarz, Kynard and Tamberi as they had their own attempts at 2.36. In a competition which saw him fail five times at four heights, the Italian was the only one to succeed and did so on his first try. The charismatic Tamberi, with his trademark half-beard on the left side, kept the audience of 7000 enthralled long after the end of the last track event. He had three tries at 2.40. "The crowd was amazing," said Tamberi. "Every time and everybody. They jumped with me."

Five hours into the contest, Vigneron delighted the crowd with a first-time success at 5.70. Both Vasiliy and Sergey Bubka – recovering from a cold – had failed once at this height.

The Bubkas chose to take their remaining tries at 5.75. Sergey – world outdoor record holder at 5.91 – had a fine clearance while his older brother Vasiliy went out. This was enough for the younger Bubka to win because the competition, and the Games, ended after midnight with three failures by Vigneron at 5.80 then the Soviet at 5.86.

The world outdoor champion passed at 5.70, 5.75 and 5.80, a height cleared by three men – Bell, Vigneron and Salbert. Bubka came in again at 5.85, and a second-time clearance put him into the lead. He stayed there as his three rivals all failed at various efforts at 5.85 or 5.90.

The last of these, Potapovich, gambled and took his final try at 5.90, a personal best. Failure would have meant fifth place for the Kazak, but he produced a beautiful vault, not even touching the bar.

Galfione became only the fourth man to vault six metres, but not without controversy. Four men were still in at 5.85 – Ecker, Galfione, defending champion Potapovich and Hartwig. Ecker went over first time, Galfione and Hartwig on their third while Potapovich passed.

At 5.90, Hartwig came up with a beautiful effort cleanly over the crossbar. Ecker was eliminated, while the Frenchman and Kazak failed twice. Potapovich passed his remaining vault but Galfione made it. At 5.95 Galfione and Potapovich failed before Hartwig produced another beauty to break his own North American record.

At six metres the two principals failed on the first attempt. With his second Galfione went over, but the slow-motion video replay appeared to show him twice touching the bar with his hand, pictures which drew whistles and boos from some of the crowd. Note that under then IAAF rule 172.6.d (now 183.2.d) "... it is illegal if an athlete replaced deliberately with his hands or fingers a bar which is about to fall off the supports".

It was announced that the clearance had been ruled invalid, and the computer system briefly reflected this, showing Hartwig as the winner. However, this was a mistake. One of the international technical officials had simply queried the clearance and brought it to the attention of the event referee, who felt there had been nothing wrong with the vault. There was no official protest.

"The important thing," confirmed IAAF General Secretary István Gyulai, "is that the vaulters knew what was going on all the time. Hartwig did not go into his vaults [at 6.00] thinking he was the winner." Hartwig failed three times at 6.00 before Galfione did the same at 6.05.

Lisbon 2001

Straight Final (Mar 10)

1,	Lawrence Johnson	USA	5.95
2,	Tye Harvey	USA	5.90
3,	Romain Mesnil	FRA	5.85
4,	Alex Averbukh	ISR	5.70
5,	Pavel Gerasimov	RUS	5.70
6,	Montxu Miranda	ESP	5.70
7,	Okkert Brits	RSA	5.60
8,	Stepán Janáček	CZE	5.60
=9,	Michael Stolle & Nuno Fernandes	POR	5.45

At the previous weekend's US Indoor Championships, Johnson had set a national record of 5.96. In Lisbon, he started confidently with a first-time success at his opening height of 5.70. He passed 5.80, a height which only Mesnil and Harvey cleared. At 5.85, Averbukh and Miranda both went out, having gambled after two earlier failures at 5.80. Mesnil and Johnson each went clear first time. Harvey failed twice, but was assured a medal. For his third attempt, the second-string American went for 5.90. He made it, whereas Mesnil failed once and Johnson passed again. The Frenchman allowed the bar to be raised to 5.95 for his second and third attempts. He missed both, and the two Americans also failed on their first two tries. If Johnson were to fail a third time, the gold would be Harvey's. In fact, he just made it, whereas Harvey failed. The US therefore claimed a 1-2.

Birmingham 2003

Final (Mar 15)

1,	Tim Lobinger	GER	5.80
2,	Michael Stolle	GER	5.75
3,	Rens Blom	NED	5.75
4,	Vasiliy Gorshkov	RUS	5.70
5,	Derek Miles	USA	5.70
6,	Viktor Chistiakov	AUS	5.60
7,	Romain Mesnil	FRA	5.60
8,	Giuseppe Gibilisco	ITA	5.40

The experienced Lobinger won his first world title with no failures, either in the qualifying round or at 5.60, 5.75 or 5.80 in the final. Two other men attempted 5.80, Blom and Stolle, but each retired. Blom had set a Dutch record at 5.75, then had to stop after two goes at 5.80 with injury. Stolle missed once at 5.80 then tried for 5.85, only to injure himself with an awkward landing. Lobinger came very near to clearing 5.85 on his last attempt.

The qualifying standard was unprecedented with 13 men at 5.65 or better and the 1995 bronze medallists Brits finding 5.70 insufficient for a place in the eight-man final. Pavlov, the only man to clear the automatic qualifying height of 5.75, was dominant in the final, clearing 5.80 on his first attempt then coming close to 5.85. No-one else got higher than 5.70 though Yurchenko was near to 5.80.

	Jeff Hartwig	USA	NH

After 10 men cleared 5.65 in the qualifying round – including two who were eliminated after not clearing that height first time – just three were able to jump as high as 5.60 in the final. Until he made his last-ditch clearance at 5.80, Walker trailed Jeng, the Swede of Gambian extraction, who had reached 5.80 without a miss. For the third time in a row 5.80 had been the winning height (only Bubka's winning height in 1985 was lower), while the 5.60 jumped by 2003 winner Lobinger was the lowest-ever height for the bronze medal.

Valencia 2008

Final (Mar 9)

1,	Yevgeniy Lukyanenko	RUS	5.90
2,	Brad Walker	USA	5.85

6,	Maksym Mazuryk	UKR	5.70
7,	Alhaji Jeng	SWE	5.70
8,	Derek Miles	USA	5.60

Seven men cleared 5.70 in the qualifying round, with Jeng the only man with a 5.65 clearance to qualify. Favourites to battle out for the gold medal were the indoor leader Lukyanenko (5.85), and Hooker, who had cleared 6.00 outdoors in January. By the time the bar was raised to 5.85 in the final two of the medallists had been determined, as both Lukyanenko and Hooker had no misses through 5.80. Clavier was in third place, thanks to his 5.75 clearance. Reigning champion Walker then set an indoor personal best of 5.85 to move into the lead. Lukyanenko responded with a second time clearance, while Hooker missed once, then moved up to 5.90, which he also failed. Meanwhile Lukyanenko cleared 5.90 first time to take the gold medal. Former champion Lobinger was fifth, which along with Thomas Blaschek in the 60m hurdles was the best position achieved by a German in Valencia.

9,	Łukasz Michalski	POL	5.45

A height of 5.70, reached by 15 of the entrants, was not required to make the final, as just nine men made 5.60. Two 5.80+ men – Lavillenie and Czerwinski – were among the non-qualifiers. Hooker – the Olympic, World and Commonwealth Champion – had a habit of winning titles in dramatic fashion, but here required just one jump at 5.70 to ensure victory. He then cleared 5.80 first time, and then broke the championship record with his final attempt at 6.01, which was cleared without touching. He went on to attempt an outright world record of 6.16. Hooker's winning margin of 31cm was the biggest in any global championship since Frank Foss's Olympic win by 39cm in 1920.

Istanbul 2012

Straight Final (Mar 10)

1,	Renaud Lavillenie	FRA	5.95

A six metre vaulter since 2009, Lavillenie's best performance at global level had been in winning successive bronzes at the outdoor World Championships. Here, despite missing weeks of training because of broken bones in his hand, Lavillenie won his first world title. His second-attempt success at 5.80 would have ultimately been enough for gold, but then he was successful at 5.85, 5.90 and 5.95. Otto edged Walker on countback at 5.80, with the 1.92m tall Mohr fourth.

9,	Yang Yancheng	CHN	5.55; 10, Jérôme Clavier	FRA	5.55; 11, Kévin Menaldo	FRA	5.55; 12, Paweł Wojciechowski	POL	5.40

Istanbul winner Renaud Lavillenie had broken the world record with 6.16 at Donyetsk the previous month, but then cut his left heel when landing on the runway after an experimental attempt at 6.21. Even without him in Sopot, the standard was excellent with five men over 5.75. At 5.80, Filippídis went first and cleared on his first attempt, cleanly. That won him the gold, because the only other men to succeed at that height did so on their second and third attempts.

Portland 2016

Straight Final (Mar 17)

1,	Renaud Lavillenie	FRA	6.02
2,	Sam Kendricks	USA	5.80
3,	Piotr Lisek	POL	5.75

The Istanbul champion Lavillenie wasn't quite in invincible form, having suffered losses in 2016 at Rouen and Berlin. He progressed to a 6.03 at Jablonec 12 days before Portland and was so confident he chose to enter the contest at 5.75. By clearing first time the Frenchman instantly went into the lead, but that wasn't enough to win. Kendricks, with a clean sheet, passed 5.75 where Lisek, Barber and Kudlická were also successful. The Pole led those three on countback, and that translated into the bronze when only the American cleared 5.80 or higher. Lavillenie daringly skipped that height and 5.85, where Kendricks failed once.

The American Champion chose to make his two remaining tries at 5.90. He failed once, and then it was the Frenchman's turn. He made it first time to regain the lead, and was confirmed as the champion when Kendricks failed again. Lavillenie then showed that he was back to his supreme best, clearing a championship record of 6.02. He only failed when the bar went up to 6.17. Both the men's and women's pole vault finals were staged in parallel at the Oregon Convention Center on the first evening of the championships.

Myricks scored his biggest victory since the 1979 World Cup after a three-hour contest. The 30 year-old American led from his 8.00 in round one, improving to 8.18 in the second and 8.23 in the sixth. A close battle for the other medals was won by Emordi in the third. Evangelisti was furious that a jump of his in the final round was declared a foul.

The second day's programme was completed by a fascinating long jump competition. Pedroso repeated his 1993 victory by leaping 8.51 in the third round – a distance only Carl Lewis had ever bettered indoors. The Cuban went even further in the fifth round but this was declared a foul. Later that round, Sunneborn moved from fourth to second at 8.20.

Three different men were in line for the bronze medal in the final round. Tudor started the round in third place at 8.08 and improved to 8.11. But, by the end of the round, he was fifth after the two Americans, Greene then Walder, found their best form.

His Olympics were ruined by injury, but Pedroso came back where he left off in Barcelona by matching his championship record of 8.51 in the fifth round. This was backed up with 8.46 and 8.48; the Cuban's other three efforts were fouls. He became only the second man, after walker Mikhail Shchennikov, to win a third successive gold.

The sixth round determined the other medallists. Walder (8.24) was second before he was overtaken by the United States captain, Greene, who leapt 8.41. Sosunov (8.30 in qualifying) also cleared 8.41. This earned him the silver medal as his next best jump was 8.23. Greene's was 8.22, meaning he took bronze and therefore reversed his and Walder's placings from 1995.

Pedroso, bidding for his fourth successive title, opened with 8.46, the longest jump of 1999. It seemed that he would not need to go further to win; until the middle of the third round the next best effort was the 8.14 of Walder. Lamela then leapt a startling 8.29, a new Spanish record. It meant that he would be the penultimate jumper in the last three rounds, with Pedroso to follow.

In the fourth, Lamela struck again with a brilliant 8.42, the third best ever by a European. Pedroso could manage only a foul. In the fifth, Walder improved to 8.21, Lamela leapt 8.26 and Pedroso fouled again.

The final round could not have been more dramatic. First, Cankar spanned 8.28 to overtake Walder. The American countered with 8.30, meaning he would repeat his bronze from 1995. It was then the turn of the 22 year-old Lamela, and he drew gasps from the crowd by propelling himself out to 8.56. Robert Emmiyan's 1987 European indoor record had fallen, and Pedroso had just one chance to remain as World Indoor Champion. He produced a long jump, but seemed frustrated as he left the pit. Everyone knew it was close to Lamela's mark. The subdued Pedroso then started bouncing with delight when the distance of 8.62 was confirmed; the second best jump in history after Carl Lewis's world record of 8.79.

Iván Pedroso became the first man to win five world indoor titles thanks to his third-round leap of 8.43. His next best effort was only 7.95 in round one, after which point Streete-Thompson led at 8.16. Calado matched that distance in the second round to set a Portuguese record. As he had earlier leapt 8.11, the Portuguese led briefly on countback. The Cayman Islander nipped in front again with another 8.16 in round two, but both men were displaced by Pedroso's bombshell.

Iván Pedroso was absent through injury, which meant there would be a new champion for the first time since 1993. The 1999 silver medallist Lamela was the favourite, having leapt 8.43 that winter. He duly won the qualifying round with 8.12. It was Olympic finalist Phillips, however, who was the leader at the start of the sixth round in the final with 8.23 to Lamela's 8.20.

The contest came alive in the last round, when the jumpers had the stage to themselves at the end of the morning's session. Pate moved into third place at 8.21 then Lamela took over on top with 8.28. Phillips was left with just one more chance and he took it with a jump almost identical to that of the Spaniard. The excited American raced over to the nearest scoreboard and got down on his haunches to wait for the distance to be confirmed. The figures "8.29" flashed up and Phillips rushed off onto the running track to celebrate. "My last jump is always my biggest one," he concluded. Measurement of the two leading jumps from the point of take-off showed that Lamela's was actually three millimetres further: 8.364 to 8.361.

Bogdan Țăruș originally placed sixth, but was later disqualified by the IAAF along with two other Romanians when it was proved that the qualification marks given on their entry forms were false.

The standard in the final was one of the highest ever, with Sosunov setting a world seventh-place best of 8.16. Stringfellow was the best qualifier at 8.31, but opened up in the final with 8.07 and 8.08 to place only sixth after two rounds. At that point Shkurlatov led from Beckford, 8.28 to 8.23. "String" then hit his best form, spanning 8.40 with barely a centimetre to spare on the board. Beckford responded with 8.30 and 8.31, but the American felt confident enough to pass in rounds 4 & 5.

Saladino set a South American record of 8.10 to lead the qualifying round, which he then exceeded with his first three jumps of the final: 8.18, 8.19 and 8.27. Gaisah, the world leader at 8.36, had jumped 8.27 immediately before Saladino, and proceeded to take the lead for good in the next round with 8.30. Saladino responded well with 8.20 (8.408 from his take-off point) and 8.29 with his last two jumps, but the slim Ghanaian managed to hold off the spring-heeled Panamanian for the gold. The talented Howe produced two lifetime bests – 8.14 then 8.19 – to take the bronze medal. Non-qualifiers included five-time winner Pedroso.

In eighth place Nima equalled his Algerian indoor record of 7.84. He had leapt that distance four times in Moscow, twice in qualifying and twice in the final!

The event was weakened by injuries to the reigning champion Ignisious Gaisah, and world leader Irving Saladino, and the non-entry of Italy's Andrew Howe and the top Americans.

Nevertheless, the battle between Tomlinson and Mokoena was close and absorbing. Tomlinson led after the first round 8.06 to 8.05, and while Mokoena was over 8m with his next three jumps, it was only in the fifth round that the high-springing South African sealed victory with his 8.08. Mokoena had four jumps measured toe to heel of 8.17 to 8.19.

Like 2008, this was again a relatively poor competition. In the 13 editions of the world indoor championships, the winning effort had been beyond the Doha winning mark of 8.17 on 10 occasions. Lapierre was the leading qualifier with an Oceanian record of 8.19. The only other automatic qualifier was the other Australian, Watt, who reached 8.00.

In the final Lapierre reached 8.17 in the fifth round to beat Mokoena, who duplicated his 2008 winning effort of 8.08 while taking silver on this occasion. Watt took the bronze medal ahead of Sdiri with his final effort of 8.05.

Final (Mar 10)

Da Silva produced the best jump of the indoor season with 8.28 in qualifying. In the final, Frayne led early on with 8.17, with Menkov in second place at 8.12. The Russian took over in the second round with 8.22, and stayed in front until the fifth round, when da Silva, from seventh place, produced a leap of 8.23. That jump was actually measured at 8.47 from toe to heel, and he produced another 8.23 (actual 8.27). He needed that back-up, because Frayne improved to an Oceanian record of 8.23 (actual 8.24) with his final jump. Da Silva's win was the first global jumping event gold medal for a Brazilian male since Ahdemar da Silva's triple jump victory in the 1956 Olympics.

7,	Luis Rivera	MEX	7.93
8,	Christian Reif	GER	7.75

Strzalkowski gave the home crowd much to cheer when he equalled the Polish record of 8.18 to win the qualifying round. He couldn't reproduce that in the final which was opened with Li leaping 8.19 from 15cm behind the take-off plane. The Chinese consolidated his lead with 8.23 in round three. The next round saw Tornéus progress to 8.21. Menkov, the World Champion outdoors, retired injured with a best of 8.08 for fourth place behind Tsátoumas. Going into the final round defending champion da Silva was in fifth place and so was fourth to jump of the seven remaining competitors. Hitting the board with 3cm to spare he flew out to 8.28. The Swede then reached 8.10 and the other two no-jumped, so the title stayed in Brazil. "It's hard but ideal for my technique", said da Silva of the runway.

At the 2015 World Championships, Dendy was a sad non-qualifier, managing only 7.78 and two extremely marginal no-jumps. In Portland's direct final, he made amends by taking the world title with 8.26 in round 2. It was tight, because the 2010 winner Lapierre leapt an Oceanian indoor record of 8.25 in the next round. There was also a close battle for places 3-5 with Huang clinching the remaining medal in the sixth with his personal best of 8.21. Adding in the gaps before the board the actual distances cleared by the medallists were: Dendy 8.306, Lapierre 8.274, Huang 8.226. Henderson's 8.19 in round 2 began 19.7cm before the board, so was worth 8.397, the longest of the day.

At the US Indoor Championships one week earlier, Mike Conley had produced a world record of 17.76 in the sixth round to beat Oleg Protsenko. The scenario was repeated at Indianapolis. Conley was again pressurised by the Soviet jumper, who led with 17.26 at the start of the final round.

The American waited on the runway for the finish of the men's 3000m before his sixth and final jump. He saw the gold and silver go to Frank O'Mara and Paul Donovan, his team-mates at the University of Arkansas, before leaping 17.54 to win.

Then came one of the most surprising breakthroughs of the championships, when Camara improved from 17.08 to 17.59, an absolute personal best by 25cm. The luckless Wellman responded with a very long foul but was out of the medals – at least until Raev's subsequent disqualification for doping.

The pristine Palau Sant Jordi had seen only one meeting before the world indoors, the national junior championships. A Spanish junior triple jump record there indicated the quality of the horizontal jumping facilities, and this was borne out at the world championships.

The triple jump final started the main programme of the last day, and it began dramatically when Wellman produced a foul of world record proportions with his first jump. The Bermudan had already set a 1995 world best of 17.51 in the qualifying round and there was keen anticipation for his appearance in the second round. This time he got a white flag and a distance of 17.72 – the third best ever.

That remained Wellman's only valid leap. He was put under pressure by Quesada, who had been the year's best triple jumper prior to Barcelona. The young Cuban set national records of 17.52 and 17.62.

The competition was marred by a nasty injury to Floréal, who tore a ligament in his right kneecap in the first round.

After that, the final was a disappointment because of an injury to Urrutia, who always appeared with the left strap of his vest pulled down under his armpit. The Cuban was forced to retire after spectacularly and painfully aborting his fifth-round effort. Nevertheless Cuba did take gold thanks to García.

Friedek was unable to get near his opening jump, but nor was anyone else until Dimitrov leapt 17.05 in the fourth, which brought him up to second. In the fifth the Bulgarian passed, Carter (16.98) regained third spot and Friedek had a huge foul.

In the last round Hungary's Czingler matched Carter's best distance, but a quick check of the card confirmed that the American would stay ahead on countback. Dimitrov then no-jumped. Friedek, certain of victory, ended with 17.09. Dimitrov was later stripped of his silver j115medal and given a public warning after failing a doping control test for stimulants.

In the fourth round, Murphy took over with an Oceanian record of 17.15. Two jumps later, Camossi clicked, producing an Italian record of 17.32.

Edwards had dropped to fourth place, and that is how it stayed until the final round. There, Murphy improved to 17.20. Camossi closed with 16.87. Then, with the competition's very last jump, Edwards landed close to the leading mark of the Italian. The distance was confirmed at 17.26, so the Briton rescued a silver medal. The event was staged before the opening ceremony.

Like the men's 60m hurdles final, this event was positioned at the end of the programme to showcase a top British hope, Jonathan Edwards. The world outdoor record holder duly led at halfway (17.01) but was ultimately kept out of the medals. Olsson (17.28) moved ahead in round four, followed by 17.31 to which Edwards responded with 17.19. The real action unfolded in the last four jumps of the contest. First, Davis claimed the lead with 17.35. Then Olsson drew gasps from the crowd with a 5.91 hop, 5.51 leap and 6.28 jump for a total of 17.70. Quesada then overtook Edwards with 17.27. The 36 year-old Edwards closed the championships with 17.00.

Thanks to his winning performance – the sixth-longest in history – Olsson was generally regarded as the world's top indoor male athlete of 2003.

Defending champion Olsson had been unbeaten since before Birmingham 2003 but was given a scare in round two when Gregório bounded out to 17.43, fairly close to the Swede's best of 17.51 at that point. Starting the third round, Olsson then produced his greatest ever leap to equal the world record of 17.83. So the Budapest World Championships had seen four world triple jump records following on from Tatyana Lebedeva's efforts of the previous day. The record had been comprised of a 6.21 hop, 5.12 step and 6.50 jump, with a further 7.2cm to spare by Olsson on take-off. "This wasn't a perfect jump" admitted the Swede. "A perfect jump would have been over 18m."

With two competitions at 17.70 or better, Oprea was the favourite to win. The Romanian took the lead with 17.22 in the opening round, and was followed by Davis, who produced a huge jump in the 17.70 region. The officially announced measurement of 17.30 was clearly incorrect. Davis claimed that the judges had measured the wrong mark, and the jump was remeasured, and changed without announcement to 17.73 during the third round. Gregório, who had led the qualifiers with 17.46, responded best to Davis with 17.56 in the second round, while Betanzos moved past Oprea into third place with 17.42 in the fourth. Oprea responded with the best jumps of the last two rounds – 17.34 and 17.32 – but failed to win a medal. From toe to heel the best marks of the top four were 17.78, 17.58, 17.57 and 17.49.

"I'm training in Baton Rouge on a similar surface so I knew what I should do," said Davies. "That is why somebody like me known for winning on his final attempts was the winner with the first one."

In four attempts Idowu had never done better than sixth in a global title meeting, but in Valencia, after an opening jump of 17.10, he responded to Girat's opening jump of 17.43 with a stupendous 17.75 (measured at 17.84 from take-off and comprising a 6.20 hop, 5.80 step and 5.75 jump). This not only beat his outdoor best of 17.68, but also broke Jonathan Edwards' indoor British record of 17.64. Girat showed competitive fire by immediately responding with 17.47 (17.61 from take-off).

Idowu backed up his winning effort with jumps of 17.56 and 17.45. Évora took the bronze medal on countback from Donato as both men cleared 17.27, with Évora producing two backup efforts of 17.26. Idowu's win was the first indoor field event gold by a British male.

The final event of the championships produced the finest performance of the meeting. The competition had been led from the first round by Betanzos, who had powered to 17.69. Behind him Tamgho (17.41) Olsson (17.23) and Girat (17.15) all opened with 17+ jumps. The Swede had to retire injured, but both Girat and Tamgho improved, clearing 17.36 and 17.50 respectively in the penultimate round. Tamgho then produced an enormous jump, featuring a hop close to 7m, which was measured at a world indoor record of 17.90. Betanzos reacted well with a final jump of 17.57, but the day belonged to the mercurial Frenchman who concluded "after the Cuban jumped 17.69 I had to react and give it all".

Regretably, no phase measurements were made of the triple jump in Doha 2010.

The competition was a superb battle between 2011 Florida State teammates Taylor and Claye. Taylor, the World Champion outdoors, led the qualifiers with 17.39, and then produced an excellent 17.63 in the first round of the final. Donato went into second place in the second round with 17.28. Claye was in fifth with 16.89 after three rounds, and boomed a lifetime best jump of 17.70, using every available centimetre on the board. Claye supported that winning jump with two final efforts of 17.63 and 17.53. Behind the two Americans, Adams took the bronze medal with a personal best 17.36, and a fine competition was rounded out by Greco becoming the second Italian of the evening to jump 17.28 – though his toe-to-heel length was 17.33 compared with Donato's 17.35.

Sopot 2014

Final (Mar 9)

1,	Lyukman Adams	RUS	17.37
2,	Ernesto Revé	CUB	17.33
3,	Pedro Pablo Pichardo	CUB	17.24
4,	Marian Oprea	ROU	17.21

6,	Chris Carter	USA	16.74
7,	Cao Shuo	CHN	16.55
8,	Viktor Kuznetsov	UKR	16.51

Much like the Sopot men's long jump, this title was decided in the final round after a contest of modest distances. The experienced Oprea led after round one with 17.02, then this was overtaken in the next round by both Adams (17.21) and Revé (17.33). Those stayed in the top three until the final round when Pichardo's 17.24 put Oprea out of the medals. The Romanian immediately responded with 17.21, but that still left him behind Adams who had backed up his own 17.21 with 17.17. With his (and the contest's) final effort, the Russian clicked with a hop of 6.23, step of 5.60 and jump of 5.54. The total of 17.37 gave him the gold, though from take off that distance was marginally inferior to the best of Revé (17.401 to 17.41).

China claimed their first world indoor jumps title after Dong led from the first round. He did not quite match his Asian indoor record of 17.41 from February 2016, but his opener of 17.18 was better than anyone else would manage. The three medallists were the only ones to exceed 17m. Compaoré spanned 17.00 in round three but was overtaken by Hess, who twice managed 17.14. Meanwhile Dong progressed to 17.33 in the fifth, comprising phases of 6.17, 5.02 and 6.14. "The Chinese team tries its best to get closer and closer to the top of the world," said the winner.

Timmermann comfortably beat world record holder Günthör and also came within two centimetres of the Swiss's world record.

"I'm not as big as some of the other putters," said the 1.95/129kg Timmermann, "but that doesn't mean I wouldn't like to be."

Barnes had increased the world record to 22.66 in the winter of 1989, but was no match for the Olympic Champion Timmermann, who defended his title in style. In fact, Barnes was only in sixth place prior to his final throw, which won him the silver medal.

The bounce-on after the early puts of outdoor world record holder Beyer damaged the protective netting surrounding the throwing area, but the East German himself ended up being beaten by the surprising Machura. The Czech went ahead with his fifth-round effort of 21.22.

For the first time indoors, the first eight all exceeded 20m. Olympic silver medallist Godina was the first-round leader with 20.85. This was overtaken first by Belonog (21.02) in round two, then his Ukrainian team-mate Bagach (20.94 in the fifth). Dal Soglio, who had led the world indoor rankings, fouled out of the final with a knee injury.

The medallists were the same as in 1997 but the order was different. Bagach was always placed to keep the title in the Ukraine. His first put of 20.78 took the lead and he improved to 21.18 in the second. After the third (Bagach 21.10), another Ukrainian, Belonog, was second (20.89) with Godina third (20.68).

Bagach improved to 21.41 in the fifth but there was no place change until Martínez produced a Spanish record of 20.79 in the sixth. The Spaniard then sat squarely in front of the scoreboard to wait for the result of Godina – who had warmed up for the final with a 22 metre effort – next to throw. Both men were to be disappointed. Godina because his 21.06 failed to catch Bagach, and Martínez because he knew he would be fourth, just as he was in 1995. Bagach ended with a no-throw.

Godina and Nelson made it a 1-2 for the United States, though neither were happy with the conditions. Godina complained about the painted surface of the ring, while Nelson did not like that or the fencing which restricted the width of the sector. That might explain why Nelson followed his opening put of 20.72 with five fouls.

Godina produced 20.72 in the fourth to overtake his team-mate with his backup distance of 20.17. He improved to 20.82 and thus completed a neat progression from bronze in 1997 and silver in 1999. Martínez – who lost a medal in the final round in Maebashi – improved from fifth to third this time with his last put of 20.67.

6,	Tepa Reinikainen	FIN	20.59
7,	Milan Haborák	SVK	20.21
8,	Joachim B. Olsen	DEN	20.12

The defending champion Godina once again had trouble keeping his throws in the sector but looked to have secured a second title when he spun out to 21.23 at the end of the third round. He then produced another two fouls, the second of which was the longest of the day. Meanwhile the consistent Martínez (21.14 in the second) put 21.01 and 20.70. The 1997 winner Belonog was confirmed in third place as the contest ended with the last tries of the big two. First was the shaven-headed Martínez, who produced a wonderfully accurate effort right down the middle of the sector. It was measured at 21.24, so Godina was overhauled. The American's response (20.66) was insufficient.

The Americans sewed up a 1-2 by the end of the first round. After the first it was not world leader Cantwell in front but his much shorter compatriot Hoffa, who was also an expert juggler. Hoffa set an absolute personal best of 21.07, but in the second Cantwell progressed to 21.49 which proved to be the winner. The US pair were threatened only by Olsen, who reached 20.99 in the fourth.

Hoffa, the favourite, led the qualifiers with 20.76, and opened the final with 21.41. He then put 22.11, a lifetime best and fourth on the world indoor all-time list. Behind him, the gangly 2m tall Sofin was second at the end of round one with a personal best 20.68. He was overtaken in the next round by Olsen (21.16) and Mikhnevich (21.25). The Belarusian produced three of the four efforts over 21m in the second half of the competition, topped by his fourth-round 21.37. Hoffa's one fair throw after his winning effort was 21.61 in round four. 2004 champion Cantwell was expected to threaten Hoffa, but failed to qualify with 19.90.

In March 2013, the IAAF announced that re-tests of doping samples from the 2005 outdoor World Championships had revealed adverse findings for six athletes including Mikhnevich. The case concluded the following July with the annulment of all of the Belarusian's results from August 5, 2005. He was also banned for life, as he'd already served a two-year suspension in 2001-2003. Olsen was therefore upgraded to silver and Sofin to bronze.

The favourites were Cantwell, the 2004 champion, who had put 22.18 two weeks earlier, and reigning champion Hoffa, who led the qualifiers with 21.49. World leader (at 22.40i) Adam Nelson had failed to make the US team despite throwing 21.25 in the US Championships.

Cantwell led after the first round with 21.14, but was overtaken 21.20 to 21.19 in the second round by Hoffa. Cantwell then took over with efforts of 21.58, 21.77 and 21.69. Hoffa was unable to breach 21m after the second round. Behind the top two, Majewski – one of only two “gliders” in the final rather than the rotational putters – set a lifetime best of 20.93 for bronze.

Final (Mar 13)

1,	Christian Cantwell	USA	21.83
2,	Ralf Bartels	GER	21.44
3,	Dylan Armstrong	CAN	21.39
4,	Tomasz Majewski	POL	21.20

(5,)	Pavel Lyzhyn	BLR	DQ (r40.9) (20.67)

Rightful finalists: Jan Marcell CZE & Cory Martin USA

It was clear that the crowd was in for a treat when Armstrong set a Canadian record 21.12 in the opening round, only to find himself in third behind Olympic champion Majewski (21.20) and Cantwell, who reached 21.60. Bartels moved into silver medal position in round two with 21.44 and was overtaken in the next round by Mikhnevich's 21.49. Armstrong came close to the medals with a lifetime best of 21.39 in the penultimate round, and two throws later Mikhnevich reached 21.68. Cantwell, endeavouring to take his third indoor title, reacted magnificently in the last round with a winning 21.83. There had been two World Indoor Championships with three men over 21m, but in Doha there were five.

Mikhnevich was ultimately disqualified for an historic doping offence, as detailed in the report for Moscow 2006. The same fate was in store for compatriot Lyzhyn, who was originally sixth, then fifth without Mikhnevich prior to his own disqualification which was confirmed in 2017.

Istanbul 2012

Final (Mar 9)

1,	Ryan Whiting	USA	22.00

3,	Tomasz Majewski	POL	21.72

7,	Rutger Smith	NED	20.30
8,	Ivan Yushkov	RUS	20.10

On only one previous occasion at these championships (1987) had two men thrown over 21.50. At Istanbul, four men exceeded that distance. It might have been five had 22.21 man Armstrong not been suffering from an arm injury.

Storl, the outdoor World Champion, set a lifetime best with his opening 21.88 in the final. Whiting and Majewski then respectively threw 21.59 and 21.28. Hoffa went into bronze medal position with 21.55 in the second round, but Majewski then set a Polish indoor record 21.65. The next round saw Storl back up his leading throw with 21.86. It seemed the fireworks were over, but in the penultimate round, Whiting produced a personal best of 22.00 and Majewski improved to 21.72. Whiting finished with 21.98 to seal the finest indoor shot competition in history.

6,	Germán Lauro	ARG	20.50
7,	Orazio Cremona	RSA	20.49
8,	Aleksandr Lesnoy	RUS	20.16

Whiting and Storl were first and second as in 2012, and with similar distances. The American's 22.05 overtook the German's 21.79 in round four. It looked as if Majewski would repeat as bronze medallist when he improved to 21.04 in the fourth, but that was before the last round effort of the revelation of the event, Walsh.

Competing in his first-ever indoor contest, the New Zealander set a series of national indoor records before finishing with 21.26. That pushed home favourite Majewski off the podium. Poor Ivanov found that his own national indoor record of 21.02 was good enough only for fifth place.

Like all the Portland field events with fixed series, all finalists had three attempts, the top eight had two more and then only the top four were allowed to perform in the sixth round. The men's shot put was the first event to be decided in such a manner.

It was odd that at such a successful championships for the United States, they should flop at an event in which they had notched up six successive victories. Jones was a respectable fifth, but world leader Roberts placed 19th and last with 17.94, compared with his 2016 world lead of 21.57. So for the first time among men, no US shot putter would be on the world indoor podium.

The three medallists emerged ahead after the first round, with Gag (20.89) leading from Mihaljević and Walsh. The Romanian went on to collect his country's first male medal from these championships. Thereafter the New Zealander took a commanding lead, breaking the Oceanian record three times with the remainder of his series, culminating with world leads of 21.64 and 21.78. "Always indoor meets are a lot better for shot put because the fans here are only like 10 metres away," said Walsh. The top three all displayed a rotational technique.

World Champion decathlete O'Brien got off to the best possible start to this invitation event, literally, with a 0.104 reaction time in his 60m heat. He finished the first day 215 points ahead of Christian Plaziat's score at the same stage in his world record performance. His four-event score of 3800 still stands as a world best as at January 31, 2018.

O'Brien continued way ahead of record pace on the second day, scoring his fifth win out of five events in the 60m hurdles. A good pole vault guaranteed a world record, but O'Brien lost a chunk of his 246-point advantage with a weak 1000m run.

The early leaders faltered in this, the first official world championship heptathlon. Nool, the winner of the first two events, slipped to 10th place after a miserable shot effort of 10.46. Then overnight leader Blockburger no-heighted in the pole vault.

By contrast, Plaziat started the second day brilliantly to move from second place to a 71-point lead before the 1000m. The Frenchman could afford to finish fifth in the final event as his closest rival, Barker, struggled in ninth. The minor medals went instead to Dvořák and Dagård, who were first and second in the 1000m.

Huffins had a wonderful start, with a world heptathlon best at 60m of 6.61. The American then had a poor long jump (7.18), and though he rallied to lead again – by 18 points – after six events, a 1000m of close to three minutes left him without a medal.

The 1992 Olympic Champion Změlík was only fourth overnight and gained little on overnight leader Magnússon in the 60m hurdles. The pole vault proved decisive, for the Czech's 5.20 was substantially better than the three men above him in the standings. Second place in the 1000m secured the gold for Změlík, who said "that is my personal best in the heptathlon and I can tell you that I knew what was at stake financially. I love that sort of motivation."

Chris Huffins USA DNF (4515)

Huffins had his usual good start, but despite strong support from the crowd, his hopes faded with a 1.96 high jump. He later withdrew after the 60m hurdles with a suspected stress fracture. After the first day the two Czechs – Šebrle and Dvořák – were in front, but it was the third-placed man, Chmara, who was performing nearer to his best form.

The pole vault changed the picture, because neither of the Czechs was particularly strong in this event. Conversely Chmara made 5.20 while Nool cleared 5.50. This lifted the Estonian from seventh to second place, just five points behind the Pole (5489). Šebrle was third (5462), 10 ahead of Dvořák.

Nool needed to beat Chmara by half a second in the 1000m to take gold. He ran the race from the front, but was passed by the Pole at the finish. Šebrle stayed close enough to Dvořák to clinch the bronze medal.

Chris Huffins USA DNF (3312)

Huffins won the opening event but was to withdraw injured, just as in 1999. Olympic silver medallist Šebrle went ahead in the second event, having set a heptathlon championship record of 7.88. The Czech athlete led by 51 points overnight, and increased this further with a win in the hurdles. A 4.90 pole vault left Šebrle with a little too much to do in the 1000m to challenge the world record. However, he ran hard to clock another event championship best of 2:37.86.

Šebrle's final score of 6420 was four points short of the European record held by his compatriot Tomáš Dvorak. Magnússon needed to stay within four seconds of Lobodin in the 1000m to secure the silver medal.

Tom Pappas, one of three decathloning brothers, had a dream contest with indoor personal bests in five events, the 60m, long jump, shot put, 60m hurdles and 1000m. He led by 197 points overnight but lost some of that advantage by clearing only 4.90 in the pole vault. Lobodin cleared 5.30 in that event which meant that if he beat Pappas by 10 seconds or so in the 1000m, he could take the gold. In fact he could get no further than 3.40 ahead. Defending champion Šebrle shaded Magnusson for the bronze.

Bryan Clay opened with a startling 6.65 sprint, but then it was Šebrle who dominated with a shot personal best and victory in the high jump. After the first day the Czech led by 45 points from Clay, 3718 to 3673. The American snatched back the lead with a world indoor heptathlon best hurdles and a personal best pole vault. Moderate performances at those events ended Šebrle's hopes of a world record. Before the 1000m, the Czech was the equivalent of three seconds behind Clay, but since he was by far the better distance runner, one felt that gap would be comfortably closed. So it transpired, with Šebrle almost 10 seconds or 105 points ahead of the American. His winning score was the second best on record.

As in 2004, Clay opened with a fine display of sprinting, this time with 6.67, and by the end of the first day was ahead of Šebrle 3616 to 3578. The Czech had won the long jump with 7.76 (to Clay's 7.74), and both shared the spoils in the high jump at 2.10. Drozdov outshone them both with 16.64 in the shot, and was third after four events with 3551. Clay extended his lead to 101 points after the 60m hurdles, which he won in 7.83. Then came one of the great "volte-faces" seen in a multi-events championships, as Niklaus – languishing 242 points behind in sixth place – produced a vault of 5.30, while Clay only managed 4.60, some 30cm below his indoor best. Niklaus – the better distance runner of the medal contenders – was now 28 points behind Clay, and 14 ahead of Šebrle. The German duly won the 1000m with 10m to spare over Šebrle, with Clay a further 12m behind, and so defeated the American by just five points. This was the closest margin in a men's major championship since Vasily Kuznetsov beat Werner von Moltke by four points in the 1962 European decathlon.

The battle was expected to be between five-time medallist Šebrle and 2005 World Decathlon Champion Clay, who was only invited to the championships at short notice. The American dominated the first day, winning the first three events, and jumping 2.09 to round out a first day score of 3736, the second best ever (behind Dan O'Brien's 3800). Šebrle was in second place with 3562. Clay continued with 7.86 in the hurdles, despite hitting every barrier, but behind him Šebrle suffered a hamstring pull and had to withdraw. An ecstatic Kravchenko twice improved his pole vault best, finishing with 5.03. In the 1000m, Clay needed around 2:45 to break the world indoor record. Of course he did not need to do this to win the title, so it was safe for him to finish in last place in the race though Kravchenko did close the gap to 137 points.

Having won two silvers and then the gold medal in the World Indoor Championships, Clay added a second gold medal to his collection, but it was a tight battle as he only got home by 20 points from 2009 World Champion Hardee. Both men had under-performed in the long jump, neither reaching 7.30. Clay led by just one point from Drozdov overnight but managed only 8.00 in the 60m hurdles while Hardee clocked 7.79 to rise from fifth place to second. The event was won and lost in the pole vault, where Clay narrowly avoided disaster at lower heights and eventually made 5.00. Hardee merely matched that height, which was a missed opportunity for a 5.30 man. He was left to try in vain to finish four and-a-half seconds ahead of Clay in the 1000m. Behind them Drozdov was the bronze medallist, while Šebrle was fifth on his seventh appearance.

The same weekend at the NCAA indoor championship in Fayetteville another American, Ashton Eaton, broke Dan O'Brien's 1993 world record of 6476 with a score of 6499.

Eaton entered the meeting as the world record holder, and finished it as the outstanding performer of the weekend. He complained that he couldn't hear the gun in the 60m, which explained his reaction time of 0.277. Had it been 0.150 (as it was in the hurdles the next day), his time would have been 6.67, but in reality it was 6.79. The long jump made up for that relative disappointment, as he reached a combined events world best of 8.16. His shot of 14.56 and a 2.03 high jump gave him an overnight score of 3654, well ahead of his world record pace of 3578. Behind him in second place was Kasyanov at 3489.

Eaton's hurdles mark of 7.68 was followed by a pole vault of 5.20, giving him a lead of 466 or 40 seconds before the last event. He needed the moderate time of 2:39.54 in the 1000m to break his world record. He ran a comfortable 2:32.77 to improve the record by 77 points and win by the unprecedented margin of 574.

Eaton retained his title in commanding style, yet there was disappointment as he just fell short of his own world indoor record, something which would have earned him a bonus of $50,000. After a matched personal best in the flat 60m, he was also victorious in the long jump, though he lost a vital 16cm at the board before his best effort of 7.78. Good shot and high jump performances left him on 3653 overnight, just one point less than his world record schedule from Istanbul. Even better in the closing two events on day one was Kravchenko, who set a championship heptathlon best in the high jump. The Belarusian was still in touch with Eaton.

The American then pulled clear with his own championship heptathlon best of 7.64 in the hurdles. A reasonable pole vault (for him) of 5.20 put him nine points ahead of his world indoor record schedule. He needed 2:33.54 in the 1000m for a new record of 6646. The vault decided the bronze when both Van der Plaetsen and Sintnicolaas overtook Kasyanov for third place. In the 1000m, Eaton needed sub-31 second pace for five laps of 200m. A 30.35 opener looked perfect, but then he slowed to around 32 seconds as Sintnicolaas took over. The Dutchman himself needed a fast run to close the 78-point gap to Van der Plaetsen. Eaton went ahead again on the third lap where, unhelpfully, the stadium clock froze at 1:32.65 nine metres before 600m. Eaton actually completed the third lap in around 1:34.2. In any case, the American admitted afterwards he was tired, and a fourth lap of 32 seconds (2:06.20 at 800m) left him too much to do on the last circuit. That was covered in a spirited 28.52, meaning he missed setting a new record by just 14 points.

Eaton took a third successive title with much the lowest of his winning scores. Nevertheless the victory was significant as the American was born in Portland and his wife Brienne Thiesen became Pentathlon champion the same week. Not since Seville 1999 had husband and wife become athletics world champions, though they were the disgraced couple of CJ Hunter and Marion Jones.

Eaton wasn't at his best, but even a moderate 60m by his standards (6.81) put him into a lead he would not lose. That margin increased greatly when the American long jumped 8.08. Kasyanov was second throughout, so the top two were the same as in Istanbul. The bronze medal was hotly contested. First Beach filled that slot, then Felix moved up after wins in the shot at high jump.

Sadly for the Grenadan, he fell out of contention with poor showing in the next two events, while Brugger (seventh overnight) moved into third with his 5.10 pole vault. Eaton also cleared that height, then went unsuccessfully for an ambitious 5.50. In the 1000m, all eyes were on international standard middle distance man Beach. He was in sixth, 66 behind the third-placed German. The American number 2 had a 1000m personal best some 15 seconds quicker than Brugger, and only six seconds were needed to close the gap. Beach front-ran to a championship record of 2:29.04, but the German ran his fastest-ever to hold the gap at 5.06 and prevail by eight points.

"I really wanted to set another world record and give everyone here a little treat", said the winner, "but hopefully they still got something out of this."

Reigning World Junior Champion Shchennikov, just 19, quickly opened a gap of 15m in the first 200m. At 3000m (11:05.14) he was some six seconds in front. Pribilinec led the chasers and closed quickly in the final kilometre, taking the lead with four laps remaining.

The Czech had gone into a five metre lead by the bell, only to be overtaken by the Soviet with 100m to go. Pribilinec responded and the two moved progressively quicker as the end approached. A dip finish from Shchennikov earned him the gold in a new world record – by a margin of just 0.01.

Urbanik provided the pace for the first two kilometres, and Blazek led at 3000m (11:11.17) before Mrázek attempted to pull away from the pack. He broke everyone except the defending champion, who swept past in the final half lap for victory.

The winning performance was ratified as a world record: faster times by Shchennikov, Ronald Weigel and Frants Kostyukevich in 1988/89 were never ratified for various reasons.

The 1989 bronze medallist Kostyukevich, now the world record holder, led through 3000m (11:07.40) before De Benedictis moved ahead, taking defending champion Shchennikov for company. Shchennikov himself tried to get away, but the Italian kept his position and looked as if he would spoil the Russian's unbeaten record in the championships. Shchennikov, however, managed to slip ahead in the final 5m, giving a stunned De Benedictis no chance to respond. Both were quicker than Kostyukevich's pending world record.

Twenty entries necessitated heats for the first time at a men's world indoor championships, but disqualification of eight walkers meant that all those who finished in the heats made the final.

The stage was set for a memorable final when the USA came within 0.33 of the world record in the heats. A unified German team were impressive winners of the other heat.

The final was a close race. Germany led for the first two legs before US trials winner Valmon took over on the third stage, clocking 45.5 to Just's 46.35. McKay had a 0.7 advantage over Schönlebe on the anchor. The German – holder of the individual world title outdoors – closed the gap and tucked in behind McKay until the final straight. Then he edged ahead for a thrilling victory in a new world record by more than two seconds.

Jason Rouser's 46.78 opener for the United States might sound ordinary, but it was a key contribution. It took his team clear of the pile-up which occurred among the tightly-packed chasing group at the first changeover. Everett, a relay champion in 1993, went further away on the second stage. Japan led the chasing pack until Tamesue was accidentally tripped.

While the United States raced to victory, Jamaica went clear in second place. The home crowd roared on their squad who almost lost the baton at their second exchange and were cut up by Austria on the third leg. Mango, however, ran a beautifully-judged anchor for the French to pip Russia for the bronze. Potential winners Great Britain went out in the heats after dropping the baton.

A fantastic race which was not spoiled by the collisions and falls which occurred in 1997. As expected, Morris put the United States into the lead. He clocked 45.85, tremendous running for the opening leg of an indoor relay. Poland, Jamaica and Britain followed.

On the second leg, Bocian put his team in front, and Poland increased their lead on the third leg, thanks to Rysiukiewicz's split of 45.77. Meanwhile, Patrick was putting Britain into medal contention. He clocked the fastest time on the third stage (45.39) to overtake Jamaica.

Maćkowiak and Campbell set off so quickly on the anchor stage that they left the new World Indoor Champion Baulch with an impossible task after their first lap. Campbell latched on to Maćkowiak, and, holding his blue baton by the tip, stole past at the finish to win for the US in a world record of 3:02.83. The American's split of 44.75 remains the fastest ever at the World Indoor Championships.

Rightful finalists: Greece

By halfway, the United States seemed to be heading for a runaway victory thanks to sub-46 legs by Campbell and Byrd. Their third man was 800m specialist Gray, and though he stayed in front, Poland, Jamaica and Russia closed the gap before the final changeover. The Poles were fielding the same quartet which had won silvers in 1999.

Young, the US anchor, could not shake off his pursuers. Maćkowiak and Semyonov, both renowned relay runners, were close behind on the final backstraight. The Russian was in third place and it was he who kicked first, but Maćkowiak had the same idea and crept up to Young's shoulder on the last bend then flashed past in the home-straight. The Pole therefore made amends for 1999, when he had been the one overtaken in the closing stages.

In 2003 it was confirmed that Young had committed a doping violation in June 1999 and all his performances until June 2001 – including at Lisbon – were annulled. So Russia were promoted to silver with Jamaica third.

Spain and the Bahamas were disqualified in the heats, meaning that only five teams contested the final. The United States led all the way with special credit to the 1999 and 2001 individual silver medallist Milton Campbell. He put his team 10m ahead with a 45.10 on stage three. Also on that leg, Blackwood put Jamaica ahead of Britain, for whom Caines almost dropped the baton at the last changeover.

On the anchor leg, Washington started with a big advantage over Jamaica. It was only two and-a-half hours after his individual win, and the renowned relay performer Davian Clarke (45.24) closed right up on the new champion. However, Washington (46.47) held on for victory. The winning quartet were all aged 26.

In early 2009 the IAAF received official notification from USA Track & Field that Jerome Young admitted to doping violations from 1999 to 2003. His results in 1999-2001 and from 2004 – including the world indoor relay silver – had already been annulled after Young had failed doping control tests. The latest revelation meant that his results in 2002 and 2003 were also cancelled, so in this case, the golds went to Jamaica from Britain and Poland – the only three teams entered not to be disqualified.

Jamaica led at the first changeover, then that master indoor performer Milton Campbell put the USA narrowly ahead by halfway. Bahamas had been contesting the bronze with Russia until Munnings fell over on the second stage. On leg three, McDonald went ahead, then Mendel responded to put the US in front again approaching the anchor. Herring set off and turned to receive the baton but could not get a hold. The exhausted Mendel then fell, still with his baton which bounced free on to the track. It was retrieved by Herring who set off in third place, but his team was disqualified because the runner who drops a baton (in this case Mendel) must be the one top pick it up. Meanwhile Jamaica ran out easy winners from Russia and Ireland, who originally thought they had placed fourth behind the USA.

Spare a thought for Milton Campbell, who had ran brilliantly for the United States in three successive world indoor relay finals, yet was disqualified each time through no fault of his own. Happily he would finally take gold he could keep two years later in Moscow.

The USA ran 3:03.66 in the heats, more than two seconds faster than any other team, to establish their credentials as favourites. Washington established a seven-metre lead for the USA with his excellent opening leg of 45.71, and was followed by Merritt (45.65) and Campbell (45.76). The three fastest legs of the race ensured a 15m lead over Poland when Spearmon took over the baton, and while Klimczak was able to close slightly on Spearmon, the Americans were never in trouble. They finished in 3:03.24, the sixth-fastest time ever.

Defending champions Jamaica were eliminated in the heats after being involved in two collisions.

One of the leading contenders, the Bahamas, dropped the baton at the first exchange in the heats. Russia led after the first leg in the final (Denis Alekseyev 46.98), then was overtaken by Jamaal Torrance (45.73) on the second stage. The US led by a metre at the second changeover, but Russia's Dylidin then tripped, leaving the way clear for the Americans to win easily. Eight metres behind the Americans, Jamaica won the battle for silver ahead of the Dominican Republic with DeWayne Barrett anchoring in 46.12 ahead of Yoel Tapia's 46.28.

The USA's strength in depth was demonstrated by the fact that they did not need world indoor record holder Kerron Clement in the final.

Clement had anchored his team to an easy win in the heats. In the final a team without him gained a 10m lead by the first changeover thanks to Torrence. Bahamas and Jamaica followed, but then both their men on stage two were struck by injury. The US lead doubled at halfway and thanks to Tate's 45.41, this increased to 30m by the time anchorman Jackson got the baton. There was a tight battle for the other medals between Belgium, Great Britain and Dominican Republic. Jonathan Borlée's 46.19 got silver for Belgium as Britain overtook the Dominican Republic on the homestraight, though the Dominicans were disqualified anyway for an illegal baton change. Russia also had bad luck when Antmanis dropped the baton in the heats; Buryak ran a phenomenal 45.48 to make up almost all the ground necessary to advance to the final.

In the final, Britain led until the second lap of the third leg when Mitchell overtook Bingham. The US went on to win again, but Britain protested that the US anchorman Roberts had illegally moved in front of Buck in the queue of waiting runners before the final changeover. It did look that way, and the referee officially disqualified the Americans. A result sheet showing this was issued as the stadium emptied at the end of the championships.

On a US appeal, it was then judged that the third US runner Mitchell had overtaken his British counterpart as they entered the last bend. The then IAAF rule 217.5 stated that waiting athletes should be in the order of the incoming runners at that point. The US appeal was accepted and about two hours after the end of the race, they were again confirmed as winners.

Potential champions Bahamas had to scratch from their heat because they did not have enough reserves to replace Demetrius Pinder and Chris Brown, who were contesting the individual final on the same day.

Britain led for the first 500m, at which point individual finalist Verburg shot in front with Britain, Jamaica and Poland well clear of Russia and Ukraine.

Butler opened up a significant gap for the USA approaching the last change, while Britain and Jamaica were locked together with Poland dropping back. The battle between Levine and Steele meant that the US lead was shortened on the penultimate lap, but Smith had saved something to cross the line in front in 3:02.14, having clocked the fastest split of the race. The winning time was later corrected to 3:02.13 and was announced as a new world indoor record. Which it was, officially, though the situation was confusing because a US team had clocked an unratified 3:01.96 in 2006.

The second heat featured a recall gun after 10 seconds when the entire field were well into the backstraight and all starting blocks had been removed. This appeared to be a technical fault as all the reaction times proved to be legitimate. The race started again, cleanly, after a six-minute break.

Final (Mar 20)

1, United States	3:02.45
2, Bahamas	3:04.75
3, Trinidad & Tobago	3:05.51
4, Jamaica	3:06.02
5, Nigeria	3:08.55
6, Belgium	3:09.71

The United States had no finalists in the individual 400m but there was soon no doubt that they would claim their 13th Portland gold in this event. Clemons ran a well-judged leg to put his team in front from the Bahamas and Belgium. Trinidad, with two individual finalists to come, were back in fifth having been drawn in lane 1.

The experienced Smith, relay gold medallist from Istanbul and Sopot, kept his team in front of the Bahamas as both teams pulled clear of Belgium, but by the changeover Trinidad had edged into third after Gordon clocked the fastest split of the race, 45.01 according to photo-finish readings at 400m and 800m. On the first bend of the third leg Belgium and Trinidad were level in third when poor Vanderbemden lost grip of the baton. As that event registered, Giesting had stretched the US lead with his 45.31 leg. Bahamas and Trinidad were now secure in second and third. Norwood had been disqualified from his individual 400m heat for a lane violation. Here he made amends with an anchor leg of 45.03 by photo finish (or 44.98 by photo-cell). The Bahamian anchor Brown became only the second man to win a sixth world indoor medal. South Africa then Nigeria set African records in the heats.

Oakes surprisingly defeated East German favourite Gladisch in the semi-finals. In the final, the Briton started slightly then better, then Gadisch surged ahead. In the closing stages, Oakes clawed her way back and very nearly drew level.

Rightful finalist: Rufina Ubah NGR

Canada had high hopes of duplicating Ben Johnson's 60m success in the women's sprint, as Issajenko had recently lowered the world 50m record. European Champion Cooman got the best start but appeared to be caught by Issajenko just before the line. However, the official result was announced as a narrow victory by the Dutchwoman.

Canada protested in vain over the result, and Cooman was regarded as a lucky winner ... until the Canadian's performance was later annulled by the IAAF Council. Issajenko, like Ben Johnson, had admitted to drug-taking at the time of the championships.

Ottey came to Seville with a winning streak of 84 successive races, including her heat and semi-final. She never made it to 85 because of a startling run by Sergeyeva, who had improved out of all recognition during the winter. The Moscow housewife sped to a championship record of 7.02. "I can't be that upset about it, I just started lousy," said Ottey. "When you start like that, you don't expect to win a 60m race."

Having reverted from Sergeyeva to her maiden name of Privalova, the 23 year-old Russian had enjoyed a brilliant indoor campaign, with world records at both 50m (6.05) and 60m (6.92).

In Toronto she faced the Olympic Champion at 100m, Devers. The preliminaries showed that the two were closely matched, but when it came to the final, the American had clearly the better start. This made all the difference. Privalova chased in vain and became the first woman to run a sub-7 second 60m and lose.

At almost 35, Ottey may have been one of the oldest women at the championships but was an easy winner of this title for the first time. Her only disappointment was that she was short of the world record of 6.92, recently equalled by Irina Privalova. "The older I get, the better I feel," she concluded.

The two principals were Privalova and Devers, so the event was a re-match of Toronto 1993. In the semi-finals the American appeared to relax too much at the finish and only qualified by a margin of 0.007 from Katerína Thánou. In the final Privalova got a good start and looked to be heading for victory. After around 10 strides the Russian pulled up clutching her left leg. Her momentum carried her through the finish line in last place, leaving Devers to score a clear win.

The American looked round and rushed straight back to console Privalova. "My heart dropped when I saw she was not there at the end," said Devers. "I have nothing but respect for her." It transpired that Privalova's hamstring had been torn, putting her out of action for a year.

Devers (lane 7) got the better start while Thánou was no better than 5th or 6th out of the blocks. It looked for most of the race as if the Greek might have left her best running in the preliminaries (7.01 heat, 6.99 semi). Then in the last 15m she stormed through the field, running clear of Devers, whose "double dip" was no help this time. On the other side of the track, Miller got the best of a blanket finish for the bronze. Thánou's time of 6.96 had only ever been bettered by Irina Privalova, Devers and Marion Jones.

In October 2001, it was disclosed that Miller had failed a doping control test for caffeine in Maebashi. The sanction for this offence was disqualification and a public warning, so Mensah was promoted to the bronze medal position. The delay in announcing the result was due to lengthy hearings and appeal procedure.

The only European finalist was Pendareva, who had set a 2001 world best of 7.04 in her semi-final. Unfortunately for her, the Bulgarian stumbled at the start of the final, where Sturup achieved the brilliant reaction time of 0.110. The Bahamian went on to win in a personal best of 7.05 from the American pair of Williams and Gaines.

“To put three perfect starts together like this today was for me a dream,” remarked the winner, who had won the silver medal in Paris 1997.

Rightful finalist: Sylviane Félix FRA

The World outdoor 100m Champion Block (formerly Pintusevich/Tarnapolskaya) made a very late decision to contest the championships, but must have been pleased that she did as she was a very comfortable winner. Williams had the best start in the final, but was soon run down by Block, who had an empty lane to her right due to the scratching of Savatheda Fynes. Williams repeated her 2001 silver ahead of Edwards, but more attention was focused on the fourth-placer Merlene Ottey. At 42 she fell only 0.03 short of a bronze medal. Sixteen years earlier in Indianapolis, she had filled the same position. In Birmingham, she was making her championship début for Slovenia, her home since 1999.

In December 2011, the Athletics Federation of Ukraine announced that Block had been disqualified for a period of two years for violating anti-doping rules in 2002-2003. This was confirmed by the IAAF in June 2012, when she was declared to be guilty of “taking advantage of, use or attempted use of a prohibited substance or a prohibited technique”. All of Block’s results from November 30, 2001 were annulled, meaning that the rightful medallists in Birmingham were Williams, Edwards and Ottey. Block’s husband Mark, an athlete representative, had earlier been banned for 10 years by the IAAF and USA Track & Field.

It was felt her best sprinting days were behind her, but at the age of 37 Devers took her third title at this event. She got a good start, so much better than that of Arron to her immediate right. Devers’s winning time was her fastest in five years, and she won clearly from Gevaert and Nesterenko. The Belarus sprinter did well to take a medal considering she was suffering from a fever.

Merlene Ottey – now 43 and representing Slovenia – almost made it through to her sixth final. She clocked 7.21 for third place in her semi-final, but that was measured to thousandths to be slower than Torri Edwards’s in an earlier heat.

Fastest in the heats were Arron (7.16) and Gevaert (7.17). A close final was clearly in prospect after Williams won the first semi-final in a personal best 7.10, and the other two semis went to Arron (7.11) and Barber (7.12). Williams reacted quickest, yet Barber had a lead of almost a metre after five metres. Williams closed like a bullet in the last 20m, but Barber triumphed by the smallest possible margin (actually 7.008 to 7.009). Gevaert just held off Arron for the bronze medal. Until 2005, Barber had primarily been a 400m runner with a best of 50.87 in 2002.

Williams finally won a world title by a slim 20cm margin from the surprising Kwakye, who set British records in the semi and final. "I owe this to my father who trained me when I was young," said the winner. Harrigan's bronze was the first IAAF medal for the British Virgin Islands.

Rightful finalist: Mikele Barber USA

Campbell-Brown, often regarded as a 200m specialist with her two Olympic titles in that event, cemented her reputation as a short dash sprinter by adding the 60m title to the outdoor 100m championship she won in 2007. Jones-Ferrette and Jeter had been the pre-race favourites with the Virgin Islander holding a 2-1 margin in their 2010 confrontations. Jones-Ferrette was the fastest in the first two rounds with 7.14 and 7.05, though Campbell-Brown raised a few eyebrows with her 7.07 semi-final win. In the final, the two Caribbean athletes were together in the early stages, with Jeter lagging a half metre back, but Campbell-Brown went away from the 40m mark, with Jones-Ferrette just holding off Jeter's closing rush. In sixth place was Sturup, the oldest runner in the meeting at 38, and an Olympic finalist over 100m back in 1996.

In December 2010 it was confirmed that Jones-Ferrette had failed a doping control test on February 16 that year. She was suspended for six months and all her results between February 16 and September 30 were annulled. So Jeter was promoted to silver and two women shared the bronze including Zang Milama, who improved out of all recognition in Doha.

This was expected to be a battle between reigning champion Campbell-Brown, Madison, and 2010 disqualifée Jones-Ferrette. The Virgin Islander was disqualified once more, this time for a false start in her semi-final.

Newcomer Houré was off best in the final, with Campbell-Brown no better than fourth at 20m. However, the Jamaican came through strongly, and caught Houré just before the finish, with Madison a clear third ahead of her teammate Pierre.

They were first and second at both sprints at the 2013 World Championships outdoors, and in Sopot Fraser-Pryce and Houré filled the same positions at 60m indoors. The Ivorian appeared to have the edge in the preliminaries but in the final Fraser-Pryce produced her usual bullet start and won with the world's first sub-seven second timing since 2010. Bartoletta took the bronze, as she did in 2012 under her maiden name of Madison.

Defending Champion Campbell-Brown was fifth, but that was a respectable result for her given that she had just returned from a doping suspension which was determined to be unjust by the Court of Arbitration for Sport.

The semi-finals produced four women in the 7.0s. Of those, the focus was on Schippers and Thompson, who had finished first and second in an exceptional 200m at the outdoor World Championships the previous August. The others were Pierre and Ahye. Thompson started favourite after her 7.04 clocking in the semis, but like her compatriot Asafa Powell, her fastest run stayed in the preliminaries.

In the final Schippers and Pierre were drawn next to one another and the American got the best start and pick-up, Philip also started well, but was passed by the other three principals. Pierre, however, held on to win. It was close as the Dutchwoman gained rapidly, and there was a wait for a minute or so before the result was confirmed. The new champion was born in Haiti and was cleared to compete for that country by the IAAF. She never took up that option, admitting that she felt more comfortable competing for her country of residence.

Final (Jan 18: Non-championship)

1,	Marita Koch	GDR	23.09

4,	Fabienne Ficher	FRA	23.75
5,	Mary Bolden	USA	23.89
6,	Semra Aksu	TUR	24.97

The lane draw for the final could hardly have been worse for world best holder Koch, for she was saddled with lane 2 while the French number one Cazier was assigned lane 5. The East German cut through the stagger to lead all the way, and actually dealt with the transition to the straight a little better than the tall Parisian.

The 1985 winner Koch had announced her retirement shortly before the championships, but the title remained with the GDR through Drechsler. The crowd, still buzzing after Ben Johnson's 60m win, were treated to another world record. Remarkably, the 22 year-old East German bettered Koch's world record in her first try at the event indoors. "That's enough world records," said the winner, who had won the long jump gold earlier in the day. "I just want to go home and see my husband."

Ottey, drawn one lane inside Drechsler, actually matched strides with the East German for the first 150m and was rewarded with a Commonwealth record.

Following a succession of silvers and bronzes at major championships, Ottey finally won a gold medal in magnificent style. In later years the fastest semi-finalist would automatically be rewarded with lane 5 or 6 but Ottey was assigned lane 4. Nevertheless, the Jamaican drew gasps from the crowd at the rate at which she closed the stagger on the back-straight. She won by 6m from Jackson, and missed Drechsler's world record by just 0.07. Kovtun won the bronze from lane 1.

Ottey (lane 4) was keen to make amends for her surprise defeat in the 60m, and had Sergejeva (lane 6) in her sights in the final. The Jamaican couldn't quite make up all the stagger, but clearly led for the entire race to equal her own world record of one week earlier. For the first time, four women broke 23 seconds in a single indoor race.

The first morning session of the championships indicated that the track was slow. None of the men's heat times were quicker than 21 seconds. However, there was one fast time in the women's heats – an Oceanian record of 22.64 by Gainsford, who went on to go one better than her 1993 silver with a repeat of that heat time in the final.

Fabé Dia of France ran in both heat 2 and heat 4 after a volunteer crossed the track and blocked her way in the first of those races.

The policy of allocating lanes of the 200m races in Paris was that the three best qualifiers were given lanes 3, 4 or 5. Yet lane 6 proved to be the lane in which both the men's and women's gold medallists were drawn.

The best of the semi-finalists was Juliet Cuthbert, who won her heat in 22.62, just outside her personal best. The final saw her drawn in the worst of the three "preferred" lanes, lane 3. The Jamaican raced into the lead, but much effort had gone into negotiating her tight bend at top speed. She could not respond when Kóffa (lane 6) edged in front down the finishing straight. As she placed second in her semi-final, Kóffa had been given one of the unseeded lanes; she could just have easily been placed in lane 1 or 2.

In May 1998, the IAAF Council decided that in future indoor 200m championships, the outermost lanes should go to the best placed athletes in earlier rounds.

Drawn inside her biggest rival Goncharenko, Tîrlea (lane 5) went ahead on the second bend and stormed away down the straight. The time of 22.39 made her the joint fifth fastest woman of all-time.

After the final, Tîrlea claimed that she had come to Maebashi undecided about running the 200m or 400m. One wondered what she might achieve outdoors in her main event, the 400m hurdles, but she went on to be injured for most of 1999 and 2000.

Rightful finalist: Ciara Sheehy IRL

A French victory looked likely after European Champion Hurtis clocked 22.75 in the first round then a national record of 22.49 in the first semi-final. Then Collins provided one of the surprises of the championships by lowering her own national record to 22.31 in the second semi. Her outdoor best was just 22.57 and she was best known as a 400m runner.

In the final, the American drew the favourable lane six and although Hurtis (lane 5) appeared to make up some of the stagger on the first bend, the American stretched away in the last 100m to win in 22.18 for third on the world all-time list. Kapachinskaya pipped defending champion Campbell for the bronze. Unfortunately for Collins, she suffered an injury to her left hamstring during the race and never competed again in 2003.

In July 2004, the US Anti-Doping Agency announced that it was seeking a lifetime ban for Collins for drug use. Evidence revealed by the federal investigation into the Bay Area Laboratory Co-Operative (BALCO) – a Northern California nutrition company – allegedly showed that Collins was a client. She denied the claims and intended to take her case to the Court of Arbitration for Sport, but in the summer of 2005 Collins accepted a four-year suspension from July 16, 2004 plus disqualification of all her results from February 1, 2002. So after more than two years, Hurtis was declared the 200m champion of 2003.

Mayr-Krifka had a big contingent of supporters on the backstraight and led into the finishing straight, only to be passed by three women with Kapachinskaya (lane 6) ending up an easy winner. With this being the last ever world indoor 200m final, the Russian ought to have stood as champion for eternity, but she failed her doping test and so was disqualified. The title therefore went to Safronnikova, who in any case had run fantastically well from lane 3 to defeat all the legitimate competitors drawn on her outside. The event was discontinued for the reasons explained in the men's 200m report of 2004.

Dixon (lane 3) held the US indoor best at 53.17. She eased in front at the bell (25.13) tracked by Crooks and Berg. The experienced American pulled clear in the straight as the Belgian came through for silver. "I wanted to run a bit faster, but I wasn't pressurised," explained Dixon, who was the only US victor of the weekend.

There was disappointment at the withdrawal of 1985 winner Dixon and the loss of form by Müller. The upsets continued in the final, when Busch, a comfortable winner, was disqualified for stepping into lane 3 on the first bend. After a protest, she was re-instated.

Busch won from the front, passing halfway in 23.95. Conversely, runner-up Leatherwood was last at the 300m point before improving to win the only US women's medal of the championships.

6,	Sally Gunnell	GBR	52.60

The 1985 winner Dixon – so far unbeaten in 1989 – appeared to be heading for the lead at the bell but allowed Arendt to close up on her inside. So it was the German who got to 200m in lane 1 in 23.80 with Dixon to her right having no choice but to fall back and give chase. The tall German kept up the pace on the second lap and easily held off Dixon's charge.

Dixon felt she lost the 1989 title after being pushed at the bell. This time, she took no chances and raced off to a clear lead at 200m (23.92). The American, wearing a special silver-grey headband, pulled away in the second lap while Myers moved into second place. The American-born Spaniard was poised to catch Dixon in the straight, but the New Yorker did not fade and crossed the line in 50.64, the world's fastest time in three years. It was the first world indoor championship title to be won by a US woman – disregarding Dixon's own win at this event in the 1985 Paris Games. All six finalists set personal bests, with the first three setting national records.

As in 1993, Irina Privalova had compiled an excellent indoor season, with world records at 50m (5.96), 60m (6.92) and a European record at 200m (22.10). There were high hopes that the popular Russian might set another record in Barcelona in what would be her first foray at 400m indoors.

In the final, she raced through the first lap in 23.89 and passed 300m in around 36.7. Only defending champion Richards could offer a challenge. Privalova ended up with 50.23, the fourth quickest ever and the world's fastest since 1984. "The race was easy but I was very tired and had some problems with my nose," said the winner, "possibly a virus."

Breuer and Opara fought for the lead at the bell (Opara 23.70), closely followed by Richards with Miles Clark 2m back. Approaching 300m, Richards squeezed in between the two leaders, bumping Opara in the process. The Jamaican led into the straight but was then run down by Miles Clark. Opara and Breuer faded to the back of the field.

Breuer ran the quickest first 150m and swept down from lane 5 to pass halfway in 23.59. Ogunkoya was a close second, followed by Guevara, Miles Clark and the two Jamaicans. Unlike 1997 when she finished last, the German did not falter and gradually lengthened her lead to win in a 1999 world best. Ogunkoya remained a clear second, but Guevara was caught by Miles Clark.

Kotlyarova – the world leader at 50.42 – tried to get past on the last bend but the 32 year-old Jamaican continued to run strongly and regained her title. Nazarova was the fastest woman in the world with 50.57 and was much the quickest heat winner in 51.24, but that result was soon annulled because Nazarova was disqualified for a lane infringement. After an examination of a video of the race, she was re-instated by the Jury of Appeal and won her semi-final in 50.90. By this stage, two serious challengers had emerged from the Bahamas: Amertil and Williams. Amertil finished close behind Nazarova in the first semi and Williams won the second in 51.25 ahead of former champion Breuer, but she ran out of her lane and was disqualified.

Nazarova and Amertil battled for the lead in the first lap of the final. The Russian was slightly ahead and passed 200m in 23.57. Amertil was on the Russian's left shoulder and lost her stride when the leader cut in, losing around 5m at the bell. Nazarova raced clear in the third 100m, but her advantage was reduced as the Bahamian and Breuer duelled for the silver medal.

At the Russian indoor championships Nazarova had threatened the world indoor record with 49.68, while Krasnomovets was second in 50.82. The two Russians won their semis and dominated in the final where Nazarova passed halfway about two metres up on Krasnomovets in 23.70. She went on to break the championship record with her compatriot second, though Krasnomovets did come under pressure from Williams who was only fifth at the bell.

Nazarova had hoped to challenge the world indoor record, "but we had only four and a half hours to rest between the semi-final and final," she explained in 2014, "so my body couldn't make it happen".

Shockingly, the 2003 and 2004 champion Nazarova was left without a medal. Stambolova and Krasnomovets were the fastest in the heats and semi-finals, with the Bulgarian edging Nazarova 50.66 to 50.67 in the first race, while Krasnomovets was a clear winner ahead of Amertil. The US Champion Richards – fighting a heavy cold – failed to qualify. Nazarova – who had won the Russian title with the fastest time in the world in 2006 (49.98) – was the early leader in the final, passing 200m in 23.61. She still led at 300m (36.4), but in the last 50m was passed by Krasnomovets, Amertil and Stambolova. The fast-finishing Bulgarian then moved into second spot behind the ecstatic Russian who set the only championship record of the weekend.

Final (Mar 9)

1,	Olesya Zykina	RUS	51.09
2,	Natalya Nazarova	RUS	51.10
3,	Shareese Woods	USA	51.41

4,	Antonina Yefremova	UKR	51.53
5,	Angela Moroşanu	ROU	53.07
6,	Moushaumi Robinson	USA	53.10

The 2001 bronze medallist Zykina was the favourite, having beaten her teammate Nazarova 51.09 to 51.57 at the Russian championships. Both won their semi-finals in 51.75, and though three others ran faster than 52.00 in those races, it made no dent in the view that the gold medal would be between the two Russians.

Zykina took the lead early from lane 6, passing through 200m in 23.73, with Nazarova four metres behind (24.2). Nazarova gradually closed that gap throughout the second lap and the two Russians crossed the line together, but Zykina got the verdict, 51.09 to 51.10. Nazarova thus equalled Sandie Richards' record of four medals in the event. Woods, who had set a lifetime best of 51.87 in the semi-final, again improved to take bronze in 51.41 ahead of Yefremova.

Jamaican-born Dunn was the fastest entrant with 50.86 and had the quickest heat, but Firova and Williams-Mills were each faster in the semi-finals. Dunn took the lead in the final, and passed 200m in 23.88. As Firova and Williams-Mills converged in pursuit, the Jamaican came off the worst and suddenly stepped from the track despite being well clear of fourth place. Dunn reached the finishing straight with a 3m advantage, but only just held off Firova 51.04 to 51.13, with both running low-altitude personal bests.

Richards-Ross won comfortably, but said she had been hoping to break the US indoor record which stood at 50.54 to Francena McCorory. The former World Champion outdoors zipped through 200m in 23.70, before winning in 50.79, some eight metres clear of Fedoriva, who held the inside line over the last 100m to edge Hastings for second.

Final (Mar 8)

1,	Francena McCorory	USA	51.12

4,	Justyna Święty	POL	52.20
5,	Patricia Hall	JAM	52.51
6,	Joanna Atkins	USA	52.55

The 2014 world leader McCorory gave her supporters some concern when she failed to win her heat, leading to an unfavourable lane draw in the tougher of two semi-finals. In the other semi, all three finishers advanced as there was a faller, a non-starter and another who was disqualified.

The American favourite duly won her semi to earn lane five in the final. From there she allowed Hall and Miller to fight for the inner line at the bell (23.46), but then accelerated dramatically at 250m to pass three women and establish a clear lead, all before the final bend. Spencer ran even more cautiously, worming her way through the field from fifth at the bell to snatch the silver.

Ryzhova, the fastest European of the year, failed to make the final but was in any case disqualified for a doping violation.

It wasn't a vintage staging, but the new champion Adekoya could not be faulted. She was the quickest heat winner, then ran to her limit in the semis and final setting successive Asian indoor records of 51.47 and 51.45. Hers was the first ever world indoor title for Bahrain, the country she had transferred to from Nigeria in 2013/2014.

In the final Hayes led at 150m before Adekoya swept past to reach the bell first in 23.81. She was pressurised by the American duo throughout the second lap but stayed strong and edged clear in the straight. Spencer pipped Hayes on the line for the silver.

Mutola, unbeaten in more than two years, set off in pursuit of a world indoor record. The pace was even quicker than her front-running effort in Toronto. She went through 200m in 26.67, 400m in 56.18 and 600m in 1:26.85. This proved to be over-ambitious: the defending champion faded to 1:57.62, just outside her Toronto time. Nevertheless, it was her 39th consecutive win in a final.

Mutola's participation was in doubt after the recent death of her father in Mozambique. She ran with a black ribbon pinned to her vest.

Mutola went straight into the lead, but did not cut out as fast a pace as she had at the previous two championships. The field stayed in touch and Hodgkinson led briefly at around 500m. Mutola quickly regained the lead and easily held off Dukhnova at the finish.

Having just seen her sister-in-law win the 400m, Clark outdipped Vriesde for the bronze.

Mutola ran from the front yet again. Two other undefeated women from 1999, Formanová and Tsyganova, latched on. Soon the three were metres clear of the rest of the field, and the splits showed why. The Mozambican runner reached 200m in 26.67 and 400m in 55.39.

Mutola kept running strongly to the bell (1:25.79), with Tsyganova and Formanová still in touch. At the start of the last backstraight, Formanová moved ominously from third to second and in the straight moved wide to challenge Mutola. A glance sideways from the Mozambican told her that Formanová was on her way past. The Czech won in 1:56.90, the second-fastest time in history.

Graf had beaten Mutola 3-1 so far in 2001 and in Lisbon the two provided one of the races of the championships. The Austrian led through 200m (28.38), before Fuchsová took over and kept up the fast pace at 400m (59.99) and 600m (1:30.47).

The 35 year-old Czech drew Graf and Mutola away from the rest and stayed ahead until Graf sprinted past with 100m left. Mutola followed, and along the straight her and Graf ran level before Mutola inched in front on the line. She covered the last 200m in 28.7.

Mutola was already the only athlete to win all global titles on offer so far in the century: Sydney 2000, Lisbon & Edmonton 2001. She continued that sequence in Birmingham in a final which was paced by the much-improved Fenn, who went out in the first round in 2001.

The British runner sped through 200m in 27.54, 400m in 57.89 and 600m in 1:28.75. She was still ahead on the last bend before Mutola broke clear, followed by Graf, Čeplak and Martínez.

6,	Olga Raspopova	RUS	2:00.56

Mutola had lost vital training time because of injury resulting from a fall at the Birmingham Grand Prix on February 20. There were question marks over her form, but these were dispelled in the first round when she provoked memories of Wilson Kipketer 1997 and ran from the front for a fast time. Her splits were 27.37, 56.35 and 1:26.94 before a final time of 1:57.72.

After a more sedate semi-final, Mutola tracked Čeplak in the final through 28.41 200m, 58.61 400m and 1:29.23 600m. The Slovenian kept running strongly with Mutola challenging on the outside on the last bend. The defending champion was determined to get to the curb before the straight and did so sharply, blocking Čeplak in the process. The Slovenian lost ground, and though she fought hard again in the straight there was no time left to catch the Mozambican. A protest by Čeplak was not upheld and Mutola became the first ever six-time World Indoor Champion.

Fenn won the bronze after a reverse of her 2003 tactics. This time she held back and moved from sixth to third in the last 130m.

Mutola, competing in her eighth championships, won the fastest heat, and in the next day's semis set a seasonal best of 2:00.29. The final was led by Mutola and Kotlyarova, the fastest Moscow entrant on 2006 form (1:57.51). At 200m (27.48) and 400m (58.48) Mutola held the lead. At 550m, the Russian made a big effort to get in front and she was ahead at 600m in 1:29.31, but not by enough to take the inside lane from Mutola and so was forced to run wide on the penultimate bend. The Mozambique woman sped away to win by five metres from Sinclair while the deminished Kotlyarova faded out of the picture. It was Mutola's seventh title (no-one else had more than five in a single event), and her 178th time below two minutes (increased to 200 on her final race in August 2008).

Four athletes – Ignatova (1:58.84), Savinova (1:59.46), the great veteran Mutola and Petlyuk – had ducked below two minutes before the championships. Remarkably, neither Russian made it as far as the semi-finals. Petlyuk, showing fine front running ability, was fastest in both preliminary rounds, clocking 2:00.40 and then 1:59.58, pulling Meadows to a personal best 1:59.73 in the process.

In the final Petlyuk decided to hold back, and Mutola found herself in the lead. She passed 200m in 30.24 and 63.11 at 400m, much slower than expected. Lewis slipped through on Mutola's inside at 500m, and was in turn overtaken just before the bell (1:34.14) by Petlyuk. The Ukrainian built up a lead of 3m with 100 to go, but Lewis, slowest qualifier from the semis and with minimal experience indoors, zipped by in the last few metres to win by 0.09 seconds. The Australian had taken 40 hours to travel in from Melbourne, and was quite clearly amazed by her victory – “when I crossed the line first I just didn't believe it”. Behind them Mutola took bronze after being only fifth at the bell. It was her ninth consecutive medal in the event!

Rightful finalist: Merve Aydin TUR

At the age of 18, Jelimo won the Olympic title and set a world junior record of 1:54.01 in 2008, but was unable to better 1:59 in the three succeeding seasons. The winter of 2012 saw a return to form for the Kenyan with a national indoor record of 1:59.10 in Liévin behind the 1:59.01 of Malika Akkaoui. The Moroccan flopped in Istanbul, but Jelimo continued to improve.

Moore set the pace in the final, with laps of 28.13 and 29.56. Jelimo was fourth at halfway with 58.3. Kofanova led at the bell (1:28.07), with Moore and Jelimo within a metre. Jelimo flowed away from the field in the final back straight to win by nearly seven metres, with Lupu moving from fifth to second in the last 120m. “I did not imagine winning this title,” said Jelimo. “I have [just] been trying to be in shape.”

For the second successive World Indoor Championship 800m (and the third of the past six), a Russian woman placing sixth in the final was disqualified for a doping violation. It was Puzanova in 2003, Zinurova in 2010, and now Rusanova in 2012.

It was the American number two, Price, who set the pace in the final, passing the lap markers in 27.88, 57.73 and 1:28.91. At the bell, Arzamasova, Masna and Cichocka were all poised on the American's shoulder. It looked as if one of the Europeans would sprint past for gold, but they ended up battling for the minor medals as Price maintained her tempo for a clear win. Her last two laps were both timed in 31.18.

Lupu, who stumbled out of medal contention at the finish, had her fifth annulled after she failed a doping control test in Sopot.

The 1:56.59 outdoor performer Niyonsaba had never raced indoors before, so she did well to win her heat. That placing was necessary to guarantee a spot in the final, as with two rounds just the winners and three fastest losers progressed. Quickest of the three heat victors was Wilson and she led the final after the first lap (29.23) before another inexperienced indoor performer, Wambui, led at the bell in 60.56. Then the Burundian made a decisive move, rushing in front by 500m, passing the bell ahead in 1:29.78 and holding off Wilson to become Burundi's first ever IAAF World Champion. The winning time of 2:00.01 was a world lead. No woman broke two minutes for 800m indoors in 2016.

European Indoor Champion Lovin set a reasonable pace (splits of 66.17, 2:14.74 and 3:23.87), before being outdipped by van Hulst.

Kitova set the pace up to 1200m (65.42, 2:14.78 and 3:21.92), but all eyes were on her team-mate, Samolenko, who was hoping to add to her 1987 3000m gold. The long-haired Soviet did move to the front early in the final lap, but was no match for the fierce finishing speed of Melinte, who opened a gap of 10m in the last 100m.

8,	Małgorzata Rydz	POL	4:17.53

In a bizarre training test, McColgan lined up for this straight final just 13 minutes after her courageous silver medal run in the 3000m. In the interim, she had breathed oxygen in an ambulance parked outside the stadium. Incredibly, she was able to place a respectable sixth in an indoor personal best.

The race was paced, as it had been in 1987, by Kitova, who attempted to blunt the fast finish of Melinte. After following the Soviet runner, who passed 400m in 63.35, 800m in 2:11.06, and 1200m in 3:19.74, Melinte uncorked a 29.03 final 200m to retain her title.

8,	Gina Procaccio	USA	4:19.51
9,	Jo White	GBR	4:20.72; Ellen Kiessling	GER	DNS

Rogachova won from the front, having set a pace which was initially quicker than in the men's 1991 final. Her intermediate times were 65.51, 2:12.19 and 3:19.21. Defending champion Melinte was shut out of the medals on the final circuit by Kubešová and Chidu.

The Czech runner achieved the unusual feat of winning medals under three different names. As Kleinová then Walterová, she won European indoor bronzes in 1983 & 1987 respectively.

Rightful finalist: Frédérique Quentin FRA

The winter of 1997 saw 38 year-old Mary Slaney approach her best-ever form. The former world outdoor champion won her national title in 4:03.08, the seventh-quickest ever. She was favoured to win her first title since Helsinki 1983, but ended up being pipped by a woman six years her senior!

A stumble on the first lap of the final seemed to spur Slaney, for she went on to set a pace which strung out the field (64.08 at 400m, 2:09.81 at 800m). The American continued to run from the front and showed no signs of fading on the final lap, which she completed in a quick 31.64. It was not quite enough for victory, because the defending champion Podkopayeva (44) was even faster. Just as Slaney appeared to have the race won from the front, Podkopayeva closed and caught the American on the line. The Russian therefore regained her 1993 title and broke her own record as the oldest ever world indoor champion.

It was confirmed in 1999 that Slaney had failed a doping control test in the summer of 1996, meaning that she was eventually stripped of her silver medal from Paris.

Komyagina set a fast pace of 63.76 at 400m and 2:10.57 at 800m. The two favourites followed; Szabo and Dulecha. On the penultimate lap, Szekely moved ahead of Dulecha, who suddenly faded to the back of the field. By the bell, Szabo had gone ahead and launched her finishing kick. The 33 year-old Szekely stayed in touch with her compatriot and pressured Szabo all the way around the final lap. The younger Romanian won with a championship record. It was her third world indoor gold, while Szekely (née Beclea) won her third silver medal.

Szabo's (and Szekely's) finishing speed was impressive. Their final 300m was inside 45 seconds, with the last 200m around 28 seconds, remarkable considering the flat-out sprint did not start until around 150m from home.

O'Sullivan, in her fourth race of the championships, led until three laps from the finish. At that point, Sacramento moved to the front, taking with her Benhassi and Szekely. The Moroccan overtook the Portuguese on the final backstraight and held off Szekely – who was contesting her seventh championships – for the gold. Her last 400m took just 60.0. Jacobs regained her 1995 title with a far classier run than that year, which was not surprising given that she was fresh from setting a new world record of 3:59.98. The 39 year-old followed the fast pace of Gorelova (400m: 62.71, 800m: 2:08.80) before moving ahead. At the bell it was Jacobs from Rozenberg and Holmes, then the American drew clear. Holmes slipped through on the inside of Rozenberg on the final bend. "It really doesn't get any better than this," remarked the winner, who failed a doping control test the following June and was eventually suspended for four years.

The heats were won by former World Cross Country Champion Dulecha and the 2003 silver medallist Holmes. Turova set a moderate pace in the final (2:12.90 at 800m). Holmes then began to move through from the back of the field, but tripped and fell just before three laps to go.

Dulecha – eighth in 1997 and 1999 – took over in front and started a sustained drive to the finish. Holmes got up and was able to catch the pack by the bell, but meanwhile Dulecha was opening up a huge gap at the front of the field. In second pace Douma-Hussar improved the Canadian indoor record she had established in the heats.

Soboleva was the favourite, having won the Russian title three weeks earlier in a world record of 3:58.28. Her and Chizhenko shared the pace in the final, with Soboleva taking over at 800m (2:13.55), after Chizhenko had led at 400m (66.34). Both Jamal and Dehiba briefly showed at the front, with the Frenchwoman leading at 1200m (3:17.92). Soboleva moved ahead just after the beginning of the final lap, but Chizhenko was far too strong, passing her teammate with 100m to go, and finishing off with a last 200m in 31 seconds to win from her compatriot. Jamal just caught Dehiba for third, with the latter dramatically collapsing across the finish line.

Rightful finalists: Susan Scott GBR, Jemma Simpson GBR & Christy Wurth-Thomas USA

The final saw world record holder Soboleva lead through the first three laps (30.95, 63.26, 1:35.66) before Fomenko took over, passing 800m in 2:07.69 and 1200m in 3:11.53. Soboleva went back into the lead at the bell, and cruised through a final 200m in 30.43 to finish in a world record of 3:57.71, with Fomenko finishing two metres clear of Burka, who came from well back to outdip Jamal. "Yuliya Fomenko and myself agreed before the race to run at a speed that suited us both," revealed Soboleva. "Whoever was strongest would win on the last lap."

In July 2008 it was announced that Soboleva and Fomenko were among seven Russian athletes suspended for doping offences by the IAAF. They were charged with having manipulated their urine samples after DNA testing had appeared to show that the samples did not belong to the athletes concerned. They were initially banned by the All-Russia Athletic Federation for two years starting from April and May of 2007 (April 26 in Soboleva's case), which meant that they would have been clear to compete at the 2009 World Championships.

In November 2008, the IAAF appealed to the Court of Arbitration for Sport against the decision of the ARAF on the grounds that the start of the sanction could not be backdated to before the initial suspension, and that in the circumstances, the period of suspension ought to be greater than the minimum of two-years. The CAS ruled in favour of the IAAF in July 2009 and not only were Soboleva and Fomenko suspended until 2011, all their results since April 2007 were annulled. So after 16 months, Burka became the rightful World Indoor Champion and the second Ethiopian to take the title in three championships.

Gezahegne was the fastest pre-Doha with 4:03.28, but she looked doomed when she fell in her heat. However, she got up quickly and proceeded to win with the fastest time of the round. In the final, Jelagat and then Burka took the field through 800m in a leisurely 2:15.30. Burka kept the lead until just before the bell (3:37.32) when Rodríguez took over. Burka fought back to the front on the final back straight, but was passed by Gezahegne and Rodríguez in the last 40 metres. At 18 years 310 days, the Ethiopian became the youngest female champion in the history of the world indoor championships and was greeted by wild cheers from the large group of Ethiopian fans in the Aspire Dome.

Rightful finalists: Luiza Gega ALB, Siham Hilali MAR & Brenda Martinez USA

Dibaba (4:00.13 in 2012) was the big favourite and won the final from the front. She passed 400m in 71.12, with the pack looking poised to pounce. The Ethiopian then began to increase the pace, and 200m splits of 32.80 and 32.67 stretched out the field. A further two quickening laps of 31.79 and 30.96 left Selsouli as the only athlete in contact. Dibaba passed the bell in 3:34.64, and a last lap of 31.14 pulled her nearly 15m clear of the Moroccan. It was a masterful piece of running by the 21 year-old sister of the multi Olympic and World Champion Tirunesh, and Ejegayehu, the 2004 Olympic silver medallist at 10,000m.

The bronze medal of Çakır Alptekin was celebrated by the home crowd, but irregularities in her Athlete Biological Passport (ABP) were confirmed three years later. The Court of Arbitration for Sport determined that she had committed a doping offence and in August 2015 it became official. All her results since July 2010 were annulled – including the Olympic and European gold medals she won outdoors later in 2012. Two further finalists were disqualified for ABP violations.

Aregawi, the undisputed world number one of 2013, continued her domination by running away from the field from the third lap after clocking 62.39 for the second 400m. The Ethiopian-born Swede ended up winning by almost seven seconds. Gega led the chasers before being overtaken by Embaye. Arrafi came through on the inside to pip Sifuentes for third spot, but she had stumbled inside the kerb on the final bend, so was disqualified. The winner explained that she wanted to avoid the pack for the first two laps "when we usually have a lot of crush and falls".

In 2014, this title was won by an Ethiopian who had transferred to Sweden. In 2016, the winner was an Ethiopian who had transferred to the Netherlands. Abebe Aregawi did not defend her title, having voluntarily withdrawn from competition after testing positive for a banned substance, a charge on which she was later cleared. In both her absence and that of world record holder Genzebe Dibaba (opting for the Portland 3000m), more Ethiopian-born athletes still dominated proceedings.

Duncan raced clear at the start and was around 10m ahead at 600m (1:39.13) before Hassan gradually closed the gap. The Australian was still ahead at 800m (2:12.71), before Hassan went ahead just before 1000m (2:46.35). Close behind were Seyaum and Tsegay. Seyaum tried to nip in front at the bell (3:35.15) but Hassan held the kerb and continued to do so throughout the last lap as the leading three all ran as if with fresh legs. A further Ethiopian, Embaye, was fourth. She got a wildcard entry for Portland having won this event in the inaugural season of the IAAF World Indoor Tour.

McColgan set off at world record pace, reaching 1000m in 2:52.13 and 2000m in 5:46.29. Only van Hulst, the European Champion, could keep up and she was a metre or two behind McColgan at the bell (8:02.10). The Briton had covered the 400m up to that point in 66 seconds, but the Dutchwoman kept up and went clear in the final 100m to take almost six seconds from the world record. McColgan also was comfortably inside the old mark.

"I knew that, if, with a lap to go I was behind Liz, everything would be all right," said van Hulst. "The main thing was for me to stay close to her. She was the ideal rabbit."

Bastos and Ribeiro set the pace and were shadowed by O'Sullivan – running her first indoor race in five years – and defending champion Szabo. On the penultimate lap the Irishwoman made her move, breaking clear of all but Szabo. The Romanian stayed behind O'Sullivan until the very last bend. There, the Irish runner moved away from the kerb, allowing Szabo to slip through cleanly on the inside and sprint away for the gold. The winner covered the final lap in close to 29 seconds. "The finish is the strongest part of my race, and I proved it," she said.

Just after the first kilometre (2:54.72), Ouaziz took over from Javornik, and was followed by Szabo. Soon after halfway (4:21.66), Szabo moved in front and kept the pace fast. With six laps to go she moved wide as if to let Ouaziz take her turn in front, but the Moroccan wasn't interested. At 2000m (Szabo 5:48.97), four others were in touch with the Romanian and the Moroccan – Jacobs, Szekely, Belkacem and Yegorova.

With 800m remaining, Ouaziz surged, taking her and Szabo clear of Jacobs. Szabo moved to the front just before the bell and sprinted round the final lap in 29.6 to win her second world indoor gold in less than 24 hours. African, Asian, Chinese, French, and Japanese records all fell in this race.

After several attempts, Gabriela Szabo had finally broke the world indoor record for 3000m earlier in 2001, but in Lisbon she lost her unbeaten record at World Indoor Championships. The Romanian was in front at 1000m (2:53.32) and 2000m (5:50.83), but allowed herself to be overtaken by Zadorozhnaya on the penultimate lap. It was the other Russian, Yegorova, who then sprinted to the front before the bell, taking Szabo by surprise. The defending champion was blocked momentarily by Zadorozhnaya before giving chase. However, Yegorova raced clear with a stunning 28.13 last lap and became the first woman to defeat Szabo at 3000m since 1995. Oceanian, Asian, Spanish and Irish records were all broken in this race.

"I thought that Szabo would probably overtake me," admitted Yegorova, "but it just didn't work out that way."

The world indoor record holder Adere was dominant, running on the heels of leader Tullett (2000m: 5:57.03) then moving ahead with 700m remaining. Domínguez held on for two laps but from then on there was no doubt about the winner. The tall Ethiopian ran the last 600m in 1:34.48 and 200m in 31.51 to win her country's first ever women's World Indoor Championship medal.

Domínguez led from the start but with a painfully slow pace, just 80.37 for the first 400m. She gradually speeded up and resisted a number of challenges for pole position. Her first kilometre was 3:21.10 followed by 3:06.46, but then things got much quicker as the Ethiopian pair of Adere and Defar surged before the bell with Adere holding a narrow lead. In Birmingham she had won with Defar third but this time Defar came through to win in the closing metres.

Culpepper was ideally placed when the Ethiopians set off and won an unexpected bronze medal, though she almost tripped over after colliding with Zadorozhnaya on the last lap.

With only 13 entrants, heats were not required, and the race came down to the question of whether the pace-setting Russians, Shobukhova and Syreva – the two fastest women of all time – could deal with the big kick of defending champion Defar. The first two kilometres were led by Syreva (2:51.73) and Shobukhova (5:50.86). Defar then went ahead, passing 2600m in 7:39.2, and at the bell was 5m clear. She then threw in a devastating final lap of 27.45 and won by 25m from Shobukhova, with Chojecka claiming the bronze.

Unlike the men, who got a 55 hour break between the heats and the final, the women had to come out with 24 hours less recovery time. Defar (8:51.02) and Melkamu (8:46.32) had been the heat winners, and as the two fastest in the field and more than five seconds faster than the opposition, were strong favourites. Augusto led past 1000m in 2:59.33 and Selsouli was the leader at 2000m (5:55.50). With two laps remaining Defar nipped ahead of the leading pack of six, taking with her Melkamu and Selsouli. The defending champion changed gears again at the bell and opened up a yawning gap on the rest, covering her final 200m in only 28.75. "Today it was an easy race for me," said Defar. The two halves of the race were covered in 4:26.6 & 4:12.2.

Defending champion Defar was the swiftest of the listed entrants with 8:24.46, and had much the faster time in the heats. The opposition played into the Ethiopian's hands in the final, with a dawdling pace led by Kalmer (3:11.83) and then Augusto, who upped the tempo with a 2:51.90 second kilometre. Defar took over with just under 400m to go, and pulled clear with a 27.90 last lap, which was quicker than Bernard Lagat's final circuit in the men's 3000m one day later. Cheruiyot edged Ejigu and Kibet for the silver medal, the first-ever by a Kenyan woman at the World Indoor Championships. For Defar it was an unprecedented fourth consecutive win, beating the record she shared with Gabriela Szabo.

Defar was the only athlete to have run faster than 8:35 in 2012, and was favourite to win her fifth consecutive title. The final began slowly, with Clitheroe leading at 1000m in 3:01.60. Defar then took over the lead just before halfway in a slow 4:30.5, and after passing 2000m in 5:56.31 began to apply pressure, covering the next two 400m portions in 66.38 and 64.70 to reach the bell six metres ahead of Obiri. That gap then shrank because the Kenyan, an 800m/1500m type, caught Defar with 100m to go and won going away after a last lap by her of 29.4. A distraught Defar clocked 30.87 for her final circuit.

The Istanbul 1500m champion Dibaba was fresh from epic world indoor records at both 1500m (3:55.17) and 3000m (8:16.60) as well as world two mile best of 9:00.48. All within the span of 15 days. There would be no fast times in the final where the pace was embarrassingly slow, with Jamal leading at 400m in 82.36. At 900m, Ayalew injected some pace, which prompted the favourite Dibaba to sprint from 11th to second before the first kilometre was reached in 3:24.50. Dibaba took over before 2000m (6:16.10) and was pressurised briefly by Hassan before she easily raced away into a 50m lead at the bell. Dibaba, fresh from a world mile record of 4:13.31, won again, while silver medallist Defar made a good comeback in her first championship appearance in three years. The picture was similar to Sopot. A slow first kilometre (3:15.73), after which Dibaba surged to run the second half of the race by herself. The damage was done by a 400m to 1600m in 63.92, with the leader frequently checking her lead on the stadium screen. She needn't have worried, the splits were exceptional. The last 2000m was covered in 5:31.70, while the halves were 4:39 and 4:08. "It was easy for me because the field was not that strong," said the winner. Portland resident Rowbury took the bronze.

Hightower, one of the few top-class Americans entered for Paris, led for three hurdles in the final. Then Siska, drawn in the next lane, emerged in front. Frenchwomen took the other medals. In the semi-finals Piquereau had lowered the French record to 8.00, but she was beaten to the silver by her compatriot Elloy.

Oschkenat won the gold medal with a fine start and pick-up. Donkova, the world outdoor record holder, closed gradually towards the finish but could not draw level. The Bulgarian later blamed her loss on a muscle pull while warming up for the previous day's heats.

Narozhilenko, Ewanjé-Épée and Piquereau were the most impressive qualifiers and were drawn together in the final. Ewanjé-Épée, the European outdoor Champion, got the best start but the three women were level for the first four barriers until Narozhilenko edged ahead. Piquereau faltered on landing after the fifth and finished out of the medals.

	Michelle Freeman	JAM	DQ

The drama in this event began before the competition started, when it was confirmed that world record holder and defending champion Narozhilenko had failed a doping test earlier in the winter and was scratched from the championships.

This left Freeman as favourite, and the Jamaican had a fine start in the final. Unfortunately, she hit the last hurdle badly and veered into the path of Baumann, who had been lying a clear second. Graudyn "won" the race.

Following a protest by the Swiss Federation, a re-run was ordered with Freeman disqualified. Justice was done as victory went to Baumann. The unlucky Graudyn finished just outside the final medal distribution.

Shishigina, unbeaten all season, was expected to win easily, so it was something of a surprise when López edged the Asian record holder in the first semi-final at 7.91. The final was a repeat of that race, with both women clocking 7.92. Bukovec was just one hundredth behind, while world leader Girard failed to finish.

Freeman, so unlucky in 1993, almost came to grief again after stumbling in her semi-final. Drawn in lane 1 for the final, the Jamaican had the best pick-up and was clearly in front at the last hurdle. Russell, Dickey and Girard all closed on the run-in so that four women reached the finish in a line. All were awarded medals, with the ecstatic Freeman finally holding on for gold. With five athletes under 7.90 this was the quickest 60m hurdles race in history.

Having won the flat 60m in 1993 and 1997, 36 year-old Devers won her first 60m hurdles title in style with a championship record 7.80 semi followed by a 7.81 final. Alozie, a silver medallist for Nigeria in 1999, won the same medal again in the colours of Spain.

Having won the Budapest 60m flat on the Friday, Devers couldn't quite make it a double on the Sunday in the 60m hurdles. The first semi was won by Felicien – the World Outdoor Champion – in a Canadian record of 7.83. Devers took the other heat in 7.88. In the final Devers started best, but next to her Felicien stayed close and overhauled the American to win in a championship record of 7.75.

Never a finalist in a major championship, O'Rourke had improved from 8.02 to 7.90 during the winter, but was not considered a medal prospect until edging Alozie 7.87 to 7.88 in her semi-final. The other semi-final was won by Bolm in 7.91, and as in the men's event just 0.09 separated the fastest and slowest qualifiers. In the final O'Rourke was away well, while Bolm was left in her blocks, despite her fast reaction time. O'Rourke kept ahead of the fast-finishing Alozie, and won by 0.02 seconds, becoming the first Irishwoman to win a world title indoors.

Kallur was the big favorite, having run a world record 7.68 ahead of Jones (7.77) in Germany a month earlier. She was duly fastest in the heats with 7.87, but sadly had to withdraw from her semi-final with a hamstring problem. Jones ran 7.82 in her semi, 0.14 quicker than Tejeda in the other race. The final saw Jones take a slight lead over Davis at the first hurdle, and gradually extend it to a one-and-a-half metre victory. Tejeda won the battle for bronze when Onyia, a Nigerian-born Spaniard, hit the final hurdle and fell.

Lopes-Schliep and defending champion Jones were the two fastest pre-Doha with 7.82 and 7.85, but it was the Canadian who impressed with the fastest times in the first two rounds with 7.94 and 7.95. Her closest rival appeared to be her veteran teammate Felicien, who won her semi-final in 7.94, with Jones barely qualifying in 8.04 having stumbled after the second barrier. A couple of hours later Jones was a different athlete, leading from her second step and running a magnificent race to set a US and championship record of 7.72, then embark on euphoric celebrations. That made her the third-fastest women in history and she became the first athlete to successfully defend in this event.

Despite never having raced indoors, outdoor World Champion Pearson was the one to beat. She won her heat in 7.85, with no-one else that round quicker than 8.00. In the following race, 7.84 performer Castlin was a victim of the Istanbul acoustics, as she reacted to the gun in 0.427 and pulled up in her heat, wrongly thinking there had been a false start. In the final, Pearson blasted away from the field at the gun, and won going away in 7.73 to move into fourth on the all-time list.

Defending Champion Pearson was fastest in the rounds then was pipped by Ali in a high-class final where four women were quicker than 7.90. The Australian (lane 4) got the best start in the final, but was shadowed by Ali (lane 3) who edged in front on the run-in after Pearson knocked over the final barrier. Meanwhile, Porter came from behind to almost snatch the silver. "I stuffed it up", declared Pearson.

8,	Keni Harrison	USA	8.87	0.137

Defending champion Ali became the first wildcard entry to win a world indoor title. She'd booked her place by winning her event at the inaugural season of the IAAF World Indoor Tour. She hadn't needed to contest the final of the US indoor championships one week earlier, where Rollins won from Harrison in the super-fast times of 7.76 & 7.77. So with three high world class athletes from the same country, there was the prospect of a medal sweep for the first time in the history of the championships.

It was not to be because Harrison hit the first hurdle in the final. Rollins led the way until Ali shaded her on the line. In third place, Porter won her third successive medal. The winner carried her son Titus Maximus around her lap of honour. She won in Sopot 2014 in 7.80, gave birth to him in May 2015, then won again in Portland 2016 in 7.81!

Beyer-Helm retired, leaving Kostadinova to try to add one centimetre to her world record of 2.04. This she did at the second attempt to duplicate her Paris victory. It was her 44th win from 45 contests.

Two of history's most successful jumpers, Kostadinova and Bykova, were the only ones to succeed at 1.97. The Bulgarian had the edge, with no failures and she continued the sequence at 2.00 and 2.02 while Bykova went out at 2.02 after making 2.00 on her third try. Kostadinova, who had only competed once before that winter due to injury, had several centimetres to spare in her 2.02 clearance but failed at 2.05. She became the first athlete to win three consecutive world indoor titles.

Former champion Kostadinova was obviously back to her best. Three women cleared 2.00 first time, the Bulgarian by a comfortable margin. It was no surprise that she was the only one to succeed at 2.02. She gestured at once for the bar to be raised to a world record of 2.08. The crowd, which had stayed behind after all the other day's events were over, were treated to three progressively closer failures.

Kostadinova therefore made it five world indoor wins out of five, a unique achievement at the time and matched only by Cuban long jumper Iván Pedroso in 2001.

8,	Miki Imai	JPN	1.85

At 1.93, it was a surprise to see the two women with the highest jumps of the year – Dinescu and Lyakhova – fail with their first tries. Dinescu made it on her second try but the Russian went out. Waller and Hlavoňová went into the lead with their first-time successes.

At 1.96, Kalcheva went over first time as did Hlavoňová. The Czech therefore moved in front as Kalcheva had more earlier failures. Of the others only Waller made 1.96 on her third try, though Dinescu was agonisingly close.

The three guaranteed medallists progressed to 1.99. All failed first time, though Waller was close. Kalcheva – who had already twice improved her indoor best of 1.92 – then barely touched the bar with a successful clearance. The others failed, leaving Kalcheva to score Bulgaria's sixth victory in the event; the other five belonging to the great Stefka Kostadinova, now retired.

Four of the 13 finalists cleared 1.96. Two – Bergqvist and Babakova – went on to succeed with their first attempts at 1.98. The 35 year-old Ukrainian was in pole position as she had no failures to this point, whereas the Swede had missed once at 1.93. Fortunes were reversed at 2.00, which Bergqvist cleared first time while Babakova needed three tries. Bergqvist therefore became the first woman athlete from her country to win a world indoor title.

The standard was fierce with a record 10 women clearing 1.95 in the qualifying round. The defending champion and favourite Bergqvist was only the 10th of these. She had two failures and left the bar wobbling on the third, but in the next day's final it was a different story.

Seven women were still in as the bar went up to 1.99, with only Bergqvist and Vlašić without failure. Bergqvist was over first time again and the Russians Yelesina and Chicherova made it on their second go. Vlašić failed twice and then tried unsuccessfully for 2.01, so she was consigned to fourth place. Jumping before the Russians, Bergqvist maintained her perfect record. Her two opponents failed so the Swede won without missing once.

Five women went over 1.97 in the final with Vlašić and Slesarenko the only ones with no failures. At 2.00 only the Russians were successful, each with their second attempts. The first of the two to go at 2.02, Chicherova, failed then her compatriot went over straight away to set a personal best. Chicherova failed again then went for 2.04. She missed but even a clearance by her would not have been enough to win because Slesarenko again succeeded, without touching to set a new Russian record. "I'm a very emotional jumper," said the winner.

The importance of clearing qualifying heights first time was emphasized when Mendía and Straková achieved 1.93 the second and third time respectively, but failed to make the eight-athlete final. Olympic Champion Slesarenko also cleared 1.93 on her second attempt, but then made 1.96 to guarantee qualification.

The final saw the bar reach 2.00 before any medals were decided. Slesarenko, Vlašić and Beitia had no misses at that point, while Savchenko had cleared 1.98 at her third attempt. Only Vlašić (on her second attempt) and Slesarenko (on her third) made 2.00, and the elegant Russian retained her world title after her first-time clearance at 2.02. It was a pity that the new world indoor record holder (at 2.08) Kajsa Bergqvist was absent.

World Champion outdoors Vlašić was the favourite, having jumped 2.05 a week earlier. She was faultless until a miss at 2.03. By that time the medals had been determined. Slesarenko – the reigning champion – was in second place, having had one miss at 1.93 and 1.95. Palamar had equalled her lifetime best set five years earlier, clearing 2.01 at her final attempt, wresting the bronze from Beitia, who until 2.01 had been tied with Vlašić. The Croatian cleared 2.03 at her second attempt before unsuccessfully attempting 2.09. Vlašić's win gave her the perfect progression from fourth in 2003, third in 2004 and second in 2006. Hers was the first ever world indoor gold by a Croatian.

Vlašić had jumped 2.06 before the championships and was hot favourite to win. The tall (1.93) Croatian duly lived up to her billing, being the only jumper to clear 2.00. She won from Beitia, who had only one miss before 2.00, and Lowe, who only made the final when officials decided to take nine at 1.92 rather than continue the qualifying round to 1.95 just to eliminate one more woman. Two metres proved to be the key height in the final, because only three women were successful, first Kuchina, then Lićwinko and Beitia, who was competing at her eighth successive World Indoor Championships.

The Spanish veteran had the best clearance but only did it on her second try. All three failed at 2.02, which meant that the 35 year-old Spaniard would be third with the other two tied for first on countback. Both the Pole and the Russian had perfect records except for a single failure at 1.97.

Rather than embarking on a jump-off – and on the advice of her husband/coach Michał – Lićwinko opted to share the gold as allowed by IAAF rule 181.8d. Kuchina agreed, though later said she regretted the decision, claiming that she was unaware of the rules and felt “so very tired and empty” at the time. “There was nobody to help me from the stands,” she complained.

This was the first-ever instance of a shared IAAF World Championship title, and the first world indoor gold won by a Polish woman.

The title was won with a mark inferior to the IAAF's entry standard of 1.97, but there was much to cheer as the hosts provided the youngest ever female World Indoor Champion, and at 18 years 62 days was just one day older than the outright record holder, Mohammed Aman. Eight days before the final Cunningham had won the US title at the same venue with a world junior record of 1.99.

Drawn last to jump of the 11 entries, the teenager was the only one with a clean record up to and including 1.96. Beitia, Lićwinko and Palšytė also cleared that height but respectively had one, three and five misses. So when no-one got over 1.99, the top four placings were clear. The defending co-champion Kuchina (now Lasitskenè) was absent from Portland, as were all Russian athletes. The All-Russia Athletics Federation (ARAF) were suspended by the IAAF in November 2015 following evidence of systematic doping within athletics in that country.

World record holder George was the big favourite for the first ever world women's pole vault gold, and cleared 4.00 in qualifying with about 60cm to spare. In the final, she had an excellent first-time clearance at 4.35. Cai also made it on her third attempt, while Dragila needed three tries.

At 4.40, George's world record height, both Cai and George failed but Dragila, who had already set two national records, went into the lead with a superb first-time success. Cai went out at the height. George failed again and so took her last try, unsuccessfully, at 4.45.

It was later clarified that Dragila would not be eligible for a world record bonus as she had only matched and not bettered the existing mark.

A telling statistic of this mammoth contest was that it took precisely one hour for the first of the 23 contestants to be eliminated. Twenty-one were still in at 4.20, and of the 15 who attempted 4.35, eight were successful. Szabó and the German pair of Ryshich and Humbert, also made it on their first attempts. The world outdoor record holder George and defending champion Dragila all needed three.

At 4.45, Flosadóttir was the only one to clear first time. In the second round, George withdrew with an injury to her right hamstring while Ryshich went clear. Everyone else went out at 4.45 then Ryshich and Flosadóttir each had two losses at 4.50. On her third attempt Ryshich (aka Ryjikh, later Reiberger) brushed the bar as she went over, but her speed and flexibility kept her from dislodging it on her descent.

The standard was high with 4.51 proving insufficient for a medal. Surprisingly, it was world record holder Dragila who missed out. She had cleared 4.70 in training but when it mattered she failed three times at 4.56. Suttle also went out at that height, but on countback placed ahead of her better-known compatriot.

Despite having her left shoulder elaborately taped, European Indoor Champion Hamáčková broke the Czech record first with 4.51, then with a first-time success at a championship record of 4.56. Passing that height was Feofanova, and she then joined the Czech in attempting 4.61. Much to her disappointment, the Russian's gamble did not pay off. Neither woman could clear 4.61, so Hamáčková took the gold with Feofanova and Suttle sharing the silver.

Dragila raised the world record to 4.78 12 days before the championships and had been near to 4.88 (16 feet) in training, so it was a shock that she could not even clear her opening height of 4.30 in the qualifying round. In fact she barely seemed to attempt a clearance. There was no explanation from the American other than "it's been a bad day at work".

The Russians Feofanova and Isinbaeva dominated the final. Prior to Dragila's 4.78, Feofanova had set world records 4.76 and 4.77 earlier in 2003, both times in Britain. Each woman cleared 4.60, then Isinbaeva faltered at 4.65 whereas Feofanova made it first time. After seeing her compatriot then clear 4.70 easily, Isinbaeva passed her remaining two tries for 4.75. However, Feofanova cleared that height too at the first try and a dispirited Isinbaeva went out.

At the world record height of 4.80, Feofanova failed for the first time. On her second try, she knocked the bar with her thighs on the way up but then happened to steady the crossbar with her chest on her descent. The bar stayed up and she collected a bonus prize of $50,000.

This was the greatest women's pole vault contest yet, with the best three women in the world – Feofanova, Dragila and Isinbaeva – contesting the medals. All three cleared 4.70 the first time, leaving Schwartz in fourth place despite her excellent personal best of 4.60. The bar went up to 4.76 and Feofanova failed once but the other two made it on their first attempts.

At 4.81 Feofanova went out, Isinbaeva made it on her second try and Dragila on her third. This meant that two women would be attempting the absolute world record height of 4.86. The American went first and missed, but Isinbaeva then produced a beautiful vault with plenty to spare. She had earned a $50,000 award, but the competition was not quite over as Dragila passed to 4.91 for her remaining attempts. She failed, as did Isinbaeva at both that height once and 5.00. "I think that five metres can be reached shortly and I hope I will set that record," said the charismatic Russian.

The 2004 and 2005 IAAF Athlete of the Year, Isinbaeva, continued her winning ways with first-time clearances at 4.60, 4.75 and 4.80. The last of those would have been good enough to clear 4.95. She failed attempting a world indoor record of 4.93, though she had the height on her second jump but came down on the bar. "I am giving this win to my parents who are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary and also to all the people of Volgograd," said Isinbaeva.

Rogowska beat 2003 champion Feofanova 4.75 to 4.70, with her 4.75 effort worth 4.85, while Boslak set a French record with 4.65, for fifth place behind Pyrek.

Having won six global titles since 2004, it was no surprise to see Isinbaeva extend her run to seven. However, the win was by no means as simple as usual. As the bar moved to 4.75 the Russian was in fourth place after her sole attempt in the competition – a 4.65 clearance. Stuczynski, Murer and Pyrek were all tied with no failures through 4.70. Isinbaeva cleared 4.75 first time, and was joined by the American, who cleared on her second jump. Neither athlete could get over 4.85. For the first time in the 21st century Feofanova failed to win a medal in the championships, and Isinbaeva joined her as the only four-time medal winner in the event.

Isinbaeva was the headline after losing her title, just as she had done outdoors in Berlin the previous August. This detracted from some excellent jumping by her opponents. The Russian struggled to qualify having failed twice at her opener of 4.55 before getting her act together after an emotional exchange with her coach. In the final, she cleared 4.60 first time but then failed at 4.75 by which time three other women (Murer, Feofanova and Rogowska) had cleared 4.70. At 4.75 the Pole went out and Murer made it on her third, while Feofanova passed. The Brazilian then made 4.80 the first time, meaning that Feofanova needed to do likewise to win at that height. She only made it on her second try and then both women failed at 4.85. Murer therefore defeated the three women who between them had won all 10 global titles between 2003 and 2009.

Having won every major championship from 2004 to 2008, the following three years saw no medals come the way of Isinbaeva. In Istanbul she waited to enter at 4.70, and as the first jumper at that height, she immediately went into the lead with her first time success. Only two other jumpers – Boslak and the 20 year-old Bleasdale – could clear 4.70. Both failed at 4.75, and Isinbaeva again waited before sealing her fourth victory in the event with another first timer at 4.80.

Amid complaints about the upright settings, several favourites finished outside the medals including former champion Murer and Olympic Champion Suhr. The gold went to Silva because she cleared 4.70 the first time. Three of the other four women in at that point made it on their second and third attempts. The other (Suhr) passed to 4.75, at which height all five were eliminated.

The event was staged in conjunction with the men's event on the first night of the championships. It could not have gone better for the home crowd, who saw their two women take gold and silver. Suhr was in her best-ever form, having set an unofficial world indoor best of 5.03 at Brockport on January 30. Five days earlier in Portland, she'd placed second to Morris at the US Indoor Championships, 4.90 to 4.95.

The height of 4.80 was the one at which the competition was defined. To great acclaim Büchler cleared first. She'd just had two failures at 4.75, so her gamble paid off and she briefly went into first place. The Swiss vaulter was soon supplanted, first by Morris then Stefanídi. Both went over 4.80 first time and had better countback records. Meanwhile Suhr, having cleared 4.60 and 4.75 without problem, passed to 4.85. She and Morris made that with their first attempts, while both Büchler and Stefanídi missed once and tried unsuccessfully for 4.90. Suhr, meanwhile, went over that height to win and break the championship record of Yelena Isinbaeva. She asked for the bar to be raised to 5.04, but then decided not to make any attempts.

The big favourite Drechsler could not get her run-up right. She leapt 6.82 in round 2 from behind the board, and her final jump of 6.68 would have been 7m+ had it been measured from her point of take-off. The German's efforts were not quite enough for gold, as in the third round Berezhnaya had gone out to 6.84.

Defending champion Ilcu finished only eighth as three women reached 6.90 or better. Former triple jumper Galkina won with her second-round 6.95. Mushayilova beat Tiedtke-Greene on countback, but worse luck was to come for the German 10 days later in Cologne, when she failed an out-of-competition doping control test. Her Barcelona medal was not affected.

May, so disappointed when beaten by Ajunwa at the Olympic Games, gained some revenge with a close victory. The British-born Italian opened with 6.85 and improved that by one centimetre in the fourth. A close fight for the bronze was won by Karczmarek, a veteran of three Olympic finals.

Former champion Drechsler placed seventh. Her very first attempt was aborted when someone walked across the run-up, but she was naturally given another chance.

Kotova (6.88) and May (6.87) led by halfway from outdoor World Champion Montalvo. Kotova pulled clear with efforts of 6.94 and 6.98 in rounds 4 and 5. Meanwhile, Montalvo improved to 6.85.

In the final round with just the three leaders to go after her, Burrell took her last attempt. She chose the perfect occasion to produce her first-ever 7m leap, clearing 7.03 to move up from fourth to first place. Montalvo followed with 6.88 to push May out of the medals, while Kotova – who had easily the best series – finished with a foul. “My last jump came from deep within me,” said Burrell.

A world-leading effort of 6.84 in the first round was enough for Kotova to regain the title she took in 1999. Maggi set a South American record of 6.70 in the third round which held up for second spot until Kravets's closing leap of 6.72, which was actually 6.88 when measured from take-off. “I have no words to say how wonderful the judging has been in Birmingham,” said the champion. “Thank you for such a very, very well organised championships.”

8, Adina Anton	ROU	6.43

One day after setting three world triple jump records, Lebedeva added the long jump title to become the first athlete to win a horizontal jumps double at a world championships. She opened with a good 6.89 and was followed by Klüft on 6.80 by the end of round one. In the second round Lebedeva improved to 6.98 (or 7.03 if one adds the 5cm she took off before the board), while Klüft progressed to 6.92 and defending champion Kotova moved into third place with 6.76. The Swede produced another 6.92 in the third, but in the fifth, she injured her left hamstring and was stretched off. Klüft was therefore unable to react when Kotova overtook her with 6.93.

“I didn't expect that the triple jump would have affected me so much, but this morning, my whole body ached,” admitted the double World Indoor Champion.

7,	Stilianí Pilátou	GRE	6.50
(1.)	Tatyana Kotova	RUS	DQ (r40.9) (7.00)

Kotova's first three measured jumps were ahead of anything her opposition had to offer. An opening 7.00 was followed by 6.89 and 6.86 after a pass in round three. The Russian, who had won twice before and taken a medal in four previous editions of the championships, was 20cm clear of outdoor world champion Madison. The battle for third was close, with the statuesque Gomes edging Montaner on the basis of a better second best effort (6.75 to 6.64). Madison, Gomes and Montaner all achieved their best jumps in the final round.

"I prepared specially for these Championships," said the winner. Those words took on a different meaning in March 2013, when it was announced that Kotova was one of six athletes whose re-tested doping sample from the 2005 World Championships outdoors proved to be positive. She was eventually suspended from 2013 to 2015, with two years of results in 2005 to 2007 also annulled. Tianna Madison (now Bartoletta) therefore was the rightful World Indoor Champion of 2006.

All ten of the measured jumps of the top three exceeded the distance of the fourth placed athlete. Maggi, competing in her first World Championship since 2003 after a two-year doping suspension, took the lead with 6.72 and improved to 6.80 in the second round. Gomes went in front with her second jump, reaching 6.82. Maggi took back first place in the next round with a South American record 6.89 (measured at 7.04 from take-off), and Gomes improved to 6.84. After three fouls, one of which was around seven metres, Simagina recorded a jump of 6.84 in round four. Gomes took the lead for good in the penultimate round with the only legal "seven" of the day, and Simagina closed with her best, 6.88. For Gomes it was her second world indoor title, she was also Pentathlon champion in 2004.

This event had never been won with a jump of less than 6.84, yet in Doha, on a runway which produced a world record in the men's triple jump, no woman reached the qualifying distance of 6.65 and none could do better than 6.70 in the final. In the first round outdoor World Champion Reese jumped 6.70, and Gomes and Costa also produced their best in that round, settling the medals. Gomes matched her best of 6.67 in the fifth; her toe was over the edge of the board but made no mark in the plasticine.

She recovered with 6.82 to move into third, and then went into the lead with 6.92. In the final round DeLoach produced a jump of 6.98, but on the next jump Reese produced the longest jump of her life – 7.23 – to break Heike Dreschler's championship record.

With no Britney Reese there was to be a new World Champion for the first time since 2009. Lesueur and Johnson-Thompson battled for that honour. The Frenchwoman opened with 6.72, then the British heptathlete spanned 6.81 in round two, with 5cm to spare. Lesueur progressed to 6.74 in the third, then 6.85 (+2cm) in the fourth to go back in front. Španović held third throughout, though her final two efforts of 6.64 and 6.77 net were actually 6.883 and 6.884 – the longest two jumps of the day.

Reese proved she was back to her best by regaining her 2012 title in very similar circumstances to those in Istanbul four years earlier. Then she came from behind to win in the last round with 7.23. In Portland she did the same thing, only this time her winning mark was 7.22. It was her sixth world title, indoors or out.

Španović had been the leader to that point, with her opening effort of 7.00 followed by 7.07 in the fifth. The standard was higher than ever, with DeLoach finding 6.89 insufficient for a medal behind Ugen's British record of 6.93. The total distance of the winning leap was 7.271, Reese having taken off 5.1cm before the edge of the board.

Having missed a long jump medal by 3cm, Kravets made amends by bettering the official world record three times. Her series was 14.30, 14.39, 14.44, x, 14.23, and 14.27.

Kravets repeated her feat of 1991 by winning with a world record. This time she won an official gold medal because the event had become part of the main programme. Kravets was already world outdoor record holder (14.95), but her indoor record from Seville had been broken by Chen (14.46) just before the championships.

The Ukrainian grinned widely when the distance of 14.47 was displayed after her fifth-round jump. Chen finished second.

Barcelona's only world record came in an event which had seen world records at the last two championships. Chen took the lead in the first round at 14.45. In the third round, Ren came close with a world junior best of 14.37. Chen responded with a huge leap. After some suspenseful moments her distance was confirmed at 15.03, a new world record by 13 centimetres. Prandzheva, who started poorly, moved into the silver medal position with her final leap.

"Winning here was not enough," said Chen, whose father Yevgeniy had been a 16m triple jumper. "I wanted a very good performance because the best Russian triple jumpers were not here and I wanted to show that I could have won even if they were here."

Hansen – who had not been selected for the championships originally in a dispute with her federation – took the lead with 14.70 in round one. Former world record holder Lasovskaya took over with 14.72 in the second before soaring to 15.01 in the third, just two centimetres short of the world record. This proved to be the winning jump, and was backed up with 14.94 in the fifth.

The Briton held on for the silver from Kasparková, who beat Mateescu by one centimetre on her final jump.

Hansen's very first jump was clearly a long one, and she bounded out of the pit in excitement. The distance was a formidable 15.02. Kaspárková responded with 14.83, an improvement on her own Czech record. Tsiamíta also set Greek record of 14.63. And this was only the first round.

Hansen, her long hair tied into pigtails, fouled her next three jumps. In the meantime, Kaspárková improved to 14.87 but was overtaken by Bulgaria's Iva Prandzheva (14.94). Hansen finished with 14.86 and 14.67, Kaspárková with 14.80 and 14.46. With her last jump Prandzheva landed clearly near to Hansen's leading mark. She went and stood right in front of the scoreboard, but was disappointed when the figure of 14.92 appeared.

Hansen's win meant that all three British athletes who won silver at the 1997 Championships (her, Colin Jackson and Jamie Baulch) were winners in Maebashi.

Straight Final (Mar 11)

1,	Tereza Marinova	BUL	14.91

The Lisbon women's long jump was decided in the final round, but in the triple jump, the winning leap came in the first round. Olympic Champion Marinova cleared 14.91. The nearest challenger to the Bulgarian proved to be Lebedeva, who reached 14.85 in the fifth. Hurd provided another excellent jumps result for American women. She set an absolute personal best of 14.19 in the fourth to secure the bronze.

All the pressure was on world indoor record holder Hansen, posters of whom were displayed prominently around her home town of Birmingham. She won the qualifying round with 14.61 but was suffering from a heel injury and there was some doubt that she would be okay for the final.

Competing with anaesthetic in her foot, Hansen opened well in the final with 14.77 but that was surpassed by Mbango's African record of 14.88 which closed the first round. In the second round there was more stress for Hansen when she found that her run-up marker had been moved. The men's high jump final was sharing the same area but Hansen felt someone had deliberately attempted to sabotage her performance. She was given extra time for re-measurement and landed near to 15m but no-jumped. The Briton's next two efforts were 14.56 and 14.62, so Mbango was still in front as Hansen raced down the runway for her fifth attempt. She hit the board with 2.5cm to spare and bounded out to 15.01 (5.08 hop, 4.64 step and 5.29 jump). Mbango fouled and closed with 14.73, so Hansen regained her 1999 title. Bronze medalist Ndoye won Senegal's first ever world indoor medal.

As in the pole vault, which took place across the same days, this event produced the highest ever standard with 12 women achieving the qualifying standard of 14.30. In the first round of the final, Lebedeva hopped 5.31, stepped 4.12 and jumped 5.73 for a world indoor record-equaling total of 15.16. In round two, Aldama spanned 14.90 for second place. The Russian then improved to an outright record of 15.25 (5.32/4.02/5.91), straight after which Smith filled third spot with a Jamaican record of 14.70.

In round four, Devetzí overtook Smith by 2cm and Lebedeva continued her great series with 15.15. The Russian passed her fifth attempt but took to the runway in round six, assured of victory. She clicked again with a third world record, this time 15.36 (5.44/3.98/5.94). That third phase was particularly exceptional, the next best by another woman in Budapest was 5.53 by Martínez.

A very tight competition saw just 12cm separate first from fourth (the previous seven editions of the event had averaged a corresponding gap of 56cm). Lebedeva won the title with her first jump of 14.95 which she backed it up with 14.92. However, she was threatened by teammate Pyatykh, who jumped a lifetime best of 14.93 in round six (15.079 toe to heel). Aldama won the bronze medal with her second-round 14.86, which just edged outdoor champion Smith's 14.84.

Rightful finalist: Teresa Nzola Meso Ba FRA

A medallist in four major championships between 2004 and 2007, Devetzí opened with a Greek indoor record of 14.93. Šestak had produced a jump of 15.08 the previous month, but on this occasion could get no further than 14.68, which was good enough to hold off Rypakova's Asian record 14.58 for the bronze. Also in the first round Savigne reacted to Devetzí's jump with 14.89. The Greek jumper cemented her lead with 15.00 in the fourth round, but outdoor World Champion Savigne responded with a fine 15.05 in the final round for victory. "I risked everything in the last jump," said the Cuban. The phase measurements were not taken for the competition's two 15m leaps, but on her 14.93 Devetzí managed 5.33/4.06/5.54.

In September 2016 it was confirmed that the Greek had failed a doping re-test of her sample from the 2007 outdoor World Championships when she'd won a bronze medal. On top of a four-year suspension, all her results from August 2007 to August 2009 were wiped.

The outdoor World Champion Savigne and Asian Champion Rypakova were well clear of the others in the qualifying round. They continued in the same vein in the final, with Savigne opening with 14.71, only to be overtaken by the 14.78 of Rypakova in the next round. The Cuban came back to lead in round five with 14.86, and Rypakova immediately responded with 14.93. With the competition won, the Kazakh then produced a lifetime best of 15.14 to move to third on the indoor all-time list. Rypakova was second with a fifth round 14.63, though her 14.45 in the preceding round measured 14.92 from the point of take-off. Gay edged her teammate Savigne for third 14.29 to 14.28.

For Aldama it was the biggest prize in the colours of a third different nation at these championships. She had previously placed sixth and seventh for Cuba, then won silver and bronze for Sudan.

This held up against Saladukha's 14.45 and Williams's 14.39, though Williams actually cleared 14.63 from take-off. Koneva's winning leap comprised an 8.9cm gap plus phases of 5.36, 4.16 and 4.94.

The Portland women's long jump was qualitative, but the triple jump produced the shortest-ever winning mark. Not that Rojas would have cared. With her only valid effort, the 20 year-old Venezuelan became the first from her country to even reach a final, let alone win a world title in athletics. It was not a surprise as Rojas was already the world leader at 14.69. She was coached in Spain by Iván Pedroso, the Cuban who himself won five world indoor titles as a long jumper. The winning mark of 14.41 comprised phases of 5.33, 4.17 and 4.91, though Rojas went even further in some of her no-jumps.

The best series came from silver winner Gierisch, who moved into second place in round 4. Papahristou beat Orji by a single centimetre for the bronze, though from take-off, the American had the longer effort ([14.14 + 0.114] vs [14.15 + 0.021]).

Peleshenko won her first major title at the age of 31 – or so we thought until it was confirmed she had failed an out-of-competition doping test at Huddinge (Sweden) on February 20, 1995. The gold went instead to two-time Olympic medallist Neimke ahead of Price-Smith, who won her country's first shot medal at this level since 1960.

Kumbernuss's win streak of 53 competitions was unexpectedly ended by Pavlysh. The Ukrainian, notably quick across the circle, put precisely 20m in rounds two and six. Kumbernuss replied with a best of 19.92 in round 5. “Frankly speaking,” said the winner, “I needed the money, that's why I competed this winter.” These were the first championships with prize money.

(1.) Vita Pavlysh UKR DQ (r40.1) (21.43); (2.) Irina Korzhanenko RUS DQ (r40.1) (20.56)

At the 1998 European Championships in Budapest, Pavlysh produced the longest women's shot put of the 1990s. In Maebashi she achieved the same feat indoors. Drawn sixth, the Ukrainian opened with 20.72. Her great rival Korzhanenko responded with 20.56, and it looked as if the two of them might have quite a duel. They didn't. Pavlysh's second put was a monster, 21.43. The performance had a negative effect of Korzhanenko, was to produce only one more valid put. Pavlysh, meanwhile, went out to 21.39 in the sixth.

She later declined to comment to the post-event interviewers, but in any case, her glory was short-lived. Both Pavlysh and Korzhanenko failed their doping control tests. They were each banned for two years and so the title went to former champion Krivelyova.

Korolchik had unexpectedly beaten Peleshenko at the 2000 Olympic Games, but in Lisbon the Russian turned the tables as the Belarusian placed only ninth. It was another Belarus woman, Ostapchuk, who led after round 1 with 19.24. By the third, the 37 year-old Peleshenko took control. She put 19.52 and later improved to 19.84.

After collecting the gold, Peleshenko – known as an astrologist – noted that March was her lucky month.

Birmingham 2003Final (Mar 15)

1,	Irina Korzhanenko	RUS	20.55
2,	Nadezhda Ostapchuk	BLR	20.31
3,	Astrid Kumbernuss	GER	19.86
4,	Vita Pavlysh	UKR	19.73

6,	Yumileidi Cumbá	CUB	19.19
7,	Yanina Korolchik	BLR	18.94
8,	Assunta Legnante	ITA	18.20

Having placed third in 1997 then lost the 1999 title after failing a doping test, Korzhanenko finally won a gold medal. Wearing a heavy bandage on her right knee, she started with 20.14 then beat the championship record with 20.55 in the second. To that point no other woman had bettered 20m, but Ostapchuk followed with 20.31. Kumbernuss held third place with her 19.86 earlier in that round and that's how it stayed to the finish.

“After what happened in 1999,” admitted Korzhanenko, “it is very important for me to have finished well here today.”

7,	Nadezhda Ostapchuk	BLR	18.33
(1.)	Vita Pavlysh	UKR	DQ (r40.1) (20.49)

Rightful finalist: Natalya Khoroneko BLR

The World Outdoor Champion Krivelyova won a third world indoor gold with her second round put of 19.90. At the time of the final this performance was placed behind that of 1997 winner Pavlysh, who put 20.39 in the second round and 20.49 in the fourth. At Maebashi 1999, Pavlysh had “won” before being stripped of her title and banned for two years because of a doping infraction. She got caught again in Budapest, so the Ukrainian not only lost a second world indoor title but also earned a life ban.

7,	Cleopatra Borel-Brown	TTO	17.59
(6.)	Nadezhda Ostapchuk	BLR	DQ (r40.9) (18.13)

The silver medallist in 2001 and 2003, Ostapchuk was hot favourite to win gold this time, having thrown 20.86 in Minsk on February 24. In Moscow she was nowhere near that form, scraping over 18m only on her last throw after four fouls. She placed sixth, but worse was to come in 2014. It was confirmed that she'd failed re-test of her doping sample from the 2005 outdoor World Championships. As a consequence, all her results in the period August 2005-August 2007 were annulled.

Belarus still triumphed though, through Khoronenko, who had led the qualifiers with 19.33, and took the lead with her winning 19.84 in round two of the final. Kleinert, who had led with 19.26, responded immediately with 19.64. All the medal positions were determined at the halfway point, with Ryabinkina's 19.24 (round 3) just edging Lammert 19.21 (round 2) for bronze.

7,	Anna Omarova	RUS	17.75
(2,)	Nadezhda Ostapchuk	BLR	DQ (r40.9) (19.74)

Rightful finalist: Denise Hinrichs GER

Although this was only her second competition ever indoors, Vili, the outdoor World Champion, was the favourite, and she fulfilled the role excellently, with three throws beyond the best that world leader Ostapchuk could muster. Vili's opening throw of 20.19 was the winner, and while Ostapchuk had three throws of 19.60 or better, she could never quite get on terms with Vili. Li produced an indoor personal best of 19.09 in the last round to take bronze from González.

Li and González were upgraded to silver and bronze in 2017 when Ostapchuk was punished for re-testing failures from the 2007 outdoor World Championships and 2008 Olympic Games. She had already failed tests from the 2005 Worlds and 2012 Olympics resulting in the loss of her world indoor sixth place from 2006 among other honours. This time she was stripped of four more years of results in 2007-2012, a period which included two world indoor silvers and the 2010 gold.

(7,)	Anca Heltne	ROU	DQ (r40.9) (18.86)

Rightful finalists: Olga Ivanova RUS & Liu Xiangrong CHN

Since 2005, Vili and Ostapchuk were the best in the world with the honours usually falling to the New Zealander who had 28 successive wins since losing to the Belarusian in September 2007. After Mikhnevich upset the status quo by throwing 20.42 in the first round, Vili took the lead with 20.45 in the second round. Ostapchuk had opened with 20.24, and then, trying too hard, fouled three times. The Belarusian got things right in the fifth round with a championship record 20.68, and while Vili reacted well with throws of 20.49 and 20.27 it wasn't enough, and Ostapchuk emphasised her good form with a final throw of 20.85, a championship record.

The first round of Ostapchuk's subsequently revealed doping violations did not affect the medals she won in this period. In 2014, the Belarus Athletic Federation (in conformity with IAAF rules) decided on the "disqualification of results from 13.08.05 to 12.08.07 and, since and including that of 05.08.12". Three years later a second wave of punishment swept away her world indoor medals from 2008, 2010 and 2012. At the same time, her compatriot Mikhnevich was similarly sanctioned. Her husband Andrei had already been stripped of the 2010 men's shot put silver for doping offences.

The ultimate effect of Ostapchuk's second period of results annulment (from August 26, 2007 to August 5, 2012) was to leave Vili (now Valerie Adams) with a total win streak of 107 finals, one of the longest ever in athletics history. The confirmation of her as the 2010 World

Indoor Champion meant that she became only the third woman (and fifth athlete overall) to win 10 individual IAAF World Championship golds. See page 233 for details.

Rightful finalist: Alena Kopets BLR

Adams and Ostapchuk had battled for gold at the two preceding championships, with Adams winning in 2008, and the Belarusian in 2010. With 2017 hindsight we should ignore Ostapchuk's results from those years, but in 2012 she was defending champion.

The Belarusian led with her opening throw of 20.20, with Adams reacting in the next round with 20.48. The Kiwi supported this with a fourth round 20.41. Ostapchuk then closed with 20.42, before Adams finished with a winning 20.54. Behind them the battle for bronze was won by Carter, who threw 19.58 to edge her teammate Camarena-Williams. The American did eventually get a bronze because Ostapchuk was disqualified, as noted in the previous two reports.

Rightful finalist: Irina Tarasova RUS

Adams returned from ankle and knee surgery to win a ninth senior global title easily, despite the presence of an in-form Schwanitz. Every one of the New Zealander's puts would have won the gold, including her qualifying mark. She competed with wrapping on her right knee. "As I get older I add more and more bandages to my body," she reflected, "but that's what's gonna keep me together and enable me to my live my dream and compete." Her winning mark of 20.67 became a championship record, once Nadezhda Ostapchuk's 20.85 from 2010 was annulled. Gong climbed from fourth to third in round three, so the podium was the same as at Moscow 2013.

Non-qualifier Heltne was disqualified for doping for the second time in three championships. This time she was ultimately banned for eight years, to 2022. Kolodko, originally fourth, was eventually also disqualified as part of her punishment from a failed re-test from the 2012 Olympics.

Adams was still on the comeback trail, her long win streak having ended in 2015 after she returned from surgeries on her shoulder and elbow. She led after the first round at 18.49, but that was overtaken by Carter's 18.90 in the second. Excitingly, the lead changed three times in the third. First Márton with 19.01, then Adams 19.25 and Carter 19.31.

That's how it stayed until the final round when the Hungarian moved ahead again with another lifetime best of 19.33. The New Zealander could not improve so was destined for bronze this time. Would it be gold or silver for Carter? Emphatically, it was the former, as the American propelled her shot to 20.21.

The German placed second in the next three disciplines, though cut it fine in the long jump, There she managed only 4.24 then a foul, before clicking with 6.40. This meant she could afford to finish last in her 800m heat yet still win by 99 points. Braun's team-mate Steigauf placed second, while Carter improved from 5th to 3rd after her 800m run.

Nathan, familiarly known as DeDee, but entered under her passport name of LaShundra, had a spectacular start. She set a personal best in the hurdles and two more in the high jump, winning both events. In the shot put she had two fouls before putting 15.10, compared with her best ever of 15.16.

After three events, the American's lead was 166 points. A respectable long jump of 6.24 gave her a very comfortable cushion of eight seconds from Włodarczyk prior to the 800m. She held the Pole by less than one second, while Belova's win moved her into second place.

There was no stopping Carolina Klüft, the reigning World Junior Champion. She won the first two events with indoor personal bests and although beaten by defending champion Sazanovich in the third, the Swede was ecstatic with her 14.48 shot compared with her previous best of 13.78.

After three events, Klüft was 47 points ahead and this was stretched to 89 after another personal best (6.61) in the long jump. The 20 year-old Swede needed to run 2:11.45 in the 800m to break the world record. She tried, leading through 200m in 31.87, 400m in 65.67 and 600m in 1:41.44. Klüft was overtaken by Collonvillé before the finish and fell short of her target, but still won with the second-highest score in history.

Dobrynska before the 800m. The Ukrainian did manage to cut the former São Tome's athlete lead in half, but the overall order after five events was actually unaffected by the result of the last event.

The world outdoor bronze medallist Sotherton led after the hurdles, but the key event turned out to be the high jump. The European Champion at that event, Hellebaut, produced a world multi-events record jump of 1.99 and move 162 points ahead. In the shot put Dobrynska set a further world indoor championship heptathlon record of 17.18 while both Hellebaut and Sotherton set personal bests. The Belgian's lead (over Skujytė) was cut to 86.

In the long jump Sotherton missed a chance to close the gap substantially when she fouled twice and ended up with a "safe" 6.45 while the Belgian was near to her very best at 6.41. Before the 800m Hellebaut led Sotherton by 107 points, which represented a margin of 7.7 seconds. Sotherton sped off in the wake of Tymieńska but Hellebaut stayed within range, though ran herself to a standstill to win overall by just 15 points. "It was so close in the end I really did not know if it would be me or Kelly," said the winner, who was beaten by the Briton in all events except the high jump.

Ennis, the 2009 World Heptathlon Champion, consolidated her position as the best all-round athlete, leading from the opening event with her 8.04 hurdles. She stayed in the lead throughout the competition, producing a championship record of 4937, just ahead of Klüft's 4933 in 2003. Ennis won two of the five events, and was second in two others, including the long jump where she produced a lifetime best of 6.44. Dobrynska was a solid second, and though Fountain equalled the US record, she was pipped for the bronze by Chernova who closed a gap of 99 points in the 800m.

In 2015, the IAAF announced that a re-test of Chernova's sample from 2009 was positive. After two years of legal processes, her punishment was a three year eight month suspension on top of the disqualification of all her results from August 15, 2009 to July 22, 2013. All of which meant there was to be a bronzen Fountain.

Defending champion Ennis led the way, clocking a world pentathlon best 7.91 in the hurdles, which would have won silver in the individual event at Istanbul. All her principal rivals performed well, as they did in the high jumper which Skujytė (1.90) won from Ennis (1.87). After two events the Briton was 109 points ahead on 2217. In Doha her corresponding figures were 75 and 2226.

Ennis the produced a shot personal best of 14.79, but her lead was cut to 11 points from Skujytė (16.26). The event was actually won by Dobrynska (16.51) who also moved into range of the leaders. The long jump decided the medals, as Dobrynska jumped an excellent 6.57 (6.70 from takeoff), Skujytė a reasonable 6.24 and Ennis a poor 6.19. That result reversed the order of the top three so that Dobrynska led with 4065 from Skujytė 3978 and Ennis 3972.

The Ukrainian was 35 points up on the 20 year-old world record schedule of Irina Belova and needed an 800m of 2:12.69 to break the record of 4991. Ennis needed to beat Dobrynska by 6.5 seconds to win while Skujytė's title chances were dismissed as she was not a strong 800m runner. Ennis won the race in a Pentathlon championship best of 2:08.09, but Dobrynska stayed near with her personal best of 2:11.15. As the final results were computed, Ennis briefly and misleadingly appeared first on the scoreboard with her Commonwealth record of 4965. But the title had gone to Dobrynska, whose winning and world record score of 5013 appeared shortly after.

Theisen-Eaton had a wonderful start with an 8.04 hurdles effort, then had the second-best height in the high jump. The Canadian's 16-point lead after two events was wiped out when both Ukrainians went beyond 15m in the shot. That event was notable when a sector foul by Williams hit a photographer on the knee.

Mokhnyuk led by eight points going into the long jump, and her 6.66 in that event stretched that margin to 114. With just the 800m remaining, the standings were Mokhnyuk 4066, Fyodorova 3952 and Theisen-Eaton 3916. It seemed unlikely that Mokhnyuk would be caught, but Fyodorova was definitely within range of the Canadian, who was a far better runner than the two ahead of her.

Two things boosted Theisen-Eaton in the last event. First, she had much local support, living in Oregon along with her husband Ashton Eaton. Second, in the field was Nwaba, a good-class 800m runner who herself would want to make the race fast. The two North Americans sped away with Nwaba passing 400m in 63.35. As they duelled round the last lap at 2:10 tempo, Mokhnyuk and Fyodorova struggled outside 2:20, well below their personal bests. Theisen-Eaton needed to beat Mokhnyuk by 11 seconds to take the gold. She did more than enough, as the gap was 13.20.

At the Moscow World Championships Broersen lost a likely medal when she hit a hurdle heavily in the first event. In Sopot she had a dream start. She matched her fastest-ever hurdles time of 8.32, but then really racked up the points in the high jump with a Dutch record of 1.93. Her lead from Theisen-Eaton after two events was a healthy 73 points. The Dutchwoman was fourth in the next two events, but she still led by 101 points going into the 800m. Meanwhile, the Canadian faltered in the long jump with two fouls and a cautious 6.13. That meant the Dutchwoman had a seven second cushion over her nearest challenger, who was Fyodorova, a slower 800m runner on paper.

Broersen sealed her victory by beating the Ukrainian with an indoor personal best. Fyodorova was overtaken by Theisen-Eaton, but held off the valiant 800m winner Day-Monroe for the bronze by just six points.

Saxby set a pace even faster than during her world outdoor best of 12:20.07. Only Krishtop could stay in touch. The Australian passed 1000m in 4:00.24 and 2000m in 8:04.66, but Krishtop proved stronger, and led at the bell.

Disaster struck Saxby on the bell lap when she was disqualified, leaving the 29 year-old Siberian to win and improve the world record by a margin of 26.08.

Anders suddenly built up a lead of 25m at the start of the second kilometre, but she was gradually reeled in by a cautious Saxby, keen to avoid a repeat of her 1987 fate. On the 11th lap, the Australian caught Anders but stayed behind until the final 600m, where she went ahead and on to a world record.

The unified German team collected their first ever gold medal when Anders swept into the lead, tracked by Saxby, and drew away from her opponents. Anders, who lowered the world record to 11:55.99 the previous month, had an eight metre lead at 1000m (3:55.17). She was further ahead at 2000m (7:53.00) and had a 45m lead from Saxby at the bell. When the winner crossed the line the clock read 11:49.61 but this was corrected to 11:50.90, still easily a world record.

Spain took an early lead through Myers and Merino, but were caught by the USSR and Germany on the third leg. Individual fourth placer Yurchenko faced European outdoor Champion Grit Breuer on the anchor, and had no answer when the German surged past in the last 50m.

Final (Mar 9)

3,	Germany	3:28.39
4,	Czech Republic	3:28.47
5,	Ukraine	3:30.43
6,	Great Britain & NI	3:32.25

The teams were closely matched at the first changeover with Britain in a narrow lead. Goncharenko, who won the individual 200m bronze, then made a huge difference with her 51.28 split on the second leg. That put Russia out of range of even the United States, for whom Miles Clark anchored with the fastest stage of the race, 50.25. The Russian quartette earned themselves a total of $110,000 for winning and breaking the world record which had been set at the 1991 championships by Germany. That team included Grit Breuer, and she took another medal for her country by pipping the Czechs for the bronze.

Maebashi 1999Straight Final (Mar 7)

3, United States	3:27.59
4, Germany	3:29.06
5, Jamaica	3:30.16
6, Japan	3:41.47

For the second successive World Indoor Championships, Russia lowered the world record. Once again the key to the win and the record was the running of Goncharenko. The Maebashi 200m silver medallist was already in a comfortable lead when she received the baton after Chebykina's 51.68 opener. Goncharenko flew round the double-lap in 50.30, much the fastest split of the race. At halfway the Russians had a 15m lead, which Kotlyarova increased with her 50.77 on leg three. Behind her, the USA and Australia were having a see-saw battle for second place. On the first lap of the third leg, Urbansky brought Germany into medal contention, but she faded on the second lap and left Breuer, for once, with little chance to improve her team's fortune.

At the last changeover it was Russia from Australia and the United States, who were without the injured Jearl Miles Clark. One felt that their anchorwoman Porter might be at the mercy of Breuer, but in fact she pressurised the reigning outdoor World Champion Freeman, "out-splitting" her 51.26 to 51.77. Nazarova anchored the Russians to victory, meaning that Chebykina and Goncharenko collected their third consecutive world indoor relay gold.

After the race, Australia protested over Russia's use of Nazarova, who had failed to finish her semi-final the previous day, apparently injured. The appeal was turned down, and the same four Russians went on to win the world outdoor title in Seville five months later.

Hennagan (51.93) put the United States into a big lead, but then Russia took over in front thanks to Zykina (52.04), with 200m champion Campbell close behind for Jamaica. On the third stage, Scott raced to the front on her first circuit. With individual champion Richards to follow, Jamaica looked to be in a strong position, but Scott faded to third place before the changeover where Russia led again.

Kotlyarova (50.78) was therefore able to make some amends for her individual defeat by Richards earlier in the day. The Jamaican moved up from third to second with her split of 50.91 and earned a record-equalling sixth world indoor medal.

The Russians were such easy winners that European outdoor Champion Zykina and Birmingham winner Nazarova could afford to slacken off on legs three and four. Far behind there was a keen battle for places 2-4. At the final exchanges, Russia were some 10m up on the USA with Jamaica and Britain a further 10m back. There was no catching Nazarova, but the experienced Jamaican Sandie Richards brought her team through for the silvers. She had just missed the individual final in Birmingham but this meant she was fresh for the relay and it showed with a 51.14 split, the fastest of the race. Richards therefore increased her overall world indoor medal haul to seven, a record for the time.

There was no doubt that Russia would win, especially after Kotlyarova ran the amazing split of 49.91 in the heats. In the final Krasnomovets sped away in 51.37 followed by Kotlyarova 50.12. Surprisingly, Levina was chosen to run the third leg and at 52.50 was rather slower than Zykina's 51.88 in the heats. Russia's victory was certain once the final change was complete, but could individual winner Nazarova run quickly enough to break the world record after Levina's moderate run? Yes, because she supplanted Kotlyarova as the fastest ever indoor relay runner with 49.89.

Sub-51 anchor legs by Svetlana Usovich and Tirlea secured the other medals for Belarus and Romania at the expense of Poland.

Russia ran 3:25.91, the fourth-fastest ever, in the heats. In that race Levina split 51.03 and that possibly earned her place as lead-off woman in the final. In that race, she gave her team a six-metre advantage over Poland. Nazarova extended the lead by a couple of metres, before 400m winner Krasnomovets broke the race open with a 50.69 leg to lead by almost 30m. Antyukh anchored the team home with 51.38 to a 3:24.91 clocking – again the fourth fastest time ever. The USA just held off Belarus for second place, but the race was dominated by Russia – on each leg the Russian squad was fastest.

Having won the previous seven titles, Russia was the favourite, but “Rodina” (mother Russia) was threatened on this occasion by Belarus and the United States. Russia built up a 10-metre lead over the first two legs, with USA inches ahead of Belarus, but Woods (51.53) and Svetlana Usovich (51.60) closed to within 2m of Nazarova on the third leg, though Usovich mis-timed her effort and lost vital ground just before passing to her younger sister. Ilona Usovich brought Belarus back to within striking distance, but Zykina was never in serious threat and she took her fifth world indoor gold her while team-mate Nazarova brought her total to seven, equalling the record of Maria Mutola.

Individual champion Dunn gave the USA the lead with an opening 51.21 just ahead of Jamaica's Wilkins (51.29). Russia were an uncharacteristic third 10m back, and that gap lengthened when Pospelova and Nazarova fumbled their exchange. Clora Williams (sister of Novlene) briefly put Jamaica ahead on the second leg, before Trotter regained the lead while Nazarova brought Russia into second place. Hastings ran a well-judged leg to keep the Russians at bay before passing to Felix. The 200m World Champion outdoors clocked 50.92 to hold off Firova's 50.77.

The win brought the fourth gold by US women in Doha, and the first loss by Russia in this event since 1993. Nevertheless Nazarova brought her world indoor medal tally to seven golds and two silvers; better than Maria Mutola's record of seven-one-one.

Jamaica were initial bronze medallists in a Central American record of 3:28.49 before their lead-off woman Wilkins got them disqualified, having failed a doping control test.

It was Russia, the USA and Britain in that order at the first changeover, then the second leg individual bronze medallist Hastings ran the fastest split of the day (51.33). That put the USA into a two-metre lead from Russia while Britain just about stayed in range of the big two teams.

On the third stage both the US and Russia fielded their weak links, while Britain were represented by Olympic Champion Ohuruogu. The Briton gradually closed the gap, then swept into the lead on the final bend to give Shakes-Drayton a metre's lead from the individual gold and silver medallists Richards-Ross and Fedoriva. While the British anchorwoman enjoyed a clear run from the front, Pygyda of Ukraine surged in the first 200m, blocking Richards-Ross and reaching the shoulder of Shakes-Drayton by the bell. As the Ukrainian then faded, Richards-Ross made a move down the last backstraight, passing Fedoriva and closing rapidly on Shakes-Drayton. Into the finishing straight the American continued to close but the Briton held on for victory.

The start of the final was delayed for 10 minutes after successive faulty starts caused by problems with Jamaica's starting blocks, which were eventually replaced. Initially, their lead-off runner Hall was warned with a yellow card, but that was downgraded to a green when the technical difficulties became apparent.

Hastings put the United States into a clear lead which was increased by individual finalists Atkins and McCorory. The latter ran a relaxed first lap to enable Adeoye to get within range, but then took off in the second half of her leg as Britain were caught by Jamaica at the final changeover. Anchored by 400m hurdler Tate, the US won in 3:24.83, the quickest-ever non-Russian time.

Ohuruogu was no match for McPherson on the anchor and was in danger of being caught by Russia, for whom Ryzhova produced a 49.83 split, the fastest ever indoors. The Russian crossed the line in fourth place, but was later disqualified for a doping violation.

In accordance with IAAF rule 41.1 from March 2004 (now 11.1), Russia's performance in the heats was also disqualified even though seven-time World Indoor Champion Nazarova deputised for Ryzhova. In these circumstances, results are annulled regardless of whether or not the guilty athlete – who is otherwise a member of the team – has competed or not.

Portland 2016Straight Final (Mar 20)

1, United States	3:26.38
2, Poland	3:31.15
3, Romania	3:31.51
4, Nigeria	3:34.03
5, Ukraine	3:40.42
Jamaica	DNF

It didn't take long into the opening leg to become clear that the US would retain their title. Their lead-off was the vastly experienced Hastings, while the only likely rivals Jamaica went out of contention when Hall was clipped from behind at around 250m, fell heavily, and could not continue. The fastest split of the day was by Okolo on leg 3. She clocked 50.80 by photo-finish (50.71 photo-cell), by which time her team were 60m up on Poland.

Romania's third-leg runner Miklos became the youngest-ever world indoor medallist at 16 years 338 days. Counting later upgrades, this was a 12th IAAF World Championship gold for Hastings, and the 10th from a relay race.

IAAF WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP GOLD MEDALLISTS

This section lists every IAAF World Championship gold medallist in 1973-2017. One hundred and four different countries (most recently Austria, Burundi and India) have each won at least one of the 2694 available individual and team titles. These have produced 2695 individual or team World Champions because of the tied gold at the 2014 World Indoor Championship women's high jump. There have been 4962 gold medals in all, counting those awarded to all eligible members of winning teams. With at least 32 actual golds to be given out in Birmingham (24 to individual competitors and a minimum of eight to relay runners), this means that the literal 5000th gold is likely to be presented during the 2018 World Half Marathon Championships in Valencia.

Across 174 events, 263 gold medals were awarded in 2016/2017 to 237 athletes from 45 countries. In the same period, golds across 14 events have been withdrawn as a result of doping offences. This has brought us 15 new "old" IAAF gold winners, including five members of the US women's 4x400m squad from Moscow 2013. Added to this survey are the team winners only from the renamed IAAF World Race Walking Team Championships, starting with 2016.

The most golds won by an athlete is 22 (18 individual) by Kenenisa Bekele (ETH) and 19 by Tirunesh Dibaba (ETH). The most individual golds by a woman is 10 by Dibaba, Maria Mutola (MOZ) and now Valerie Adams/Vili (NZL), whose 2010 world indoor silver was upgraded to gold when Nadezhda Ostapchuk's disqualification was confirmed in October 2017. The most won by a country (counting team medals singularly) is 436 by the United States from Kenya 372 and Ethiopia 209. Next are Russia, whose total has dropped from 180 to 171 since 2016 because of doping disqualifications. That figure rises to 200 if we add 28 Russian golds from the era of the USSR and the Unified Team, and the 2017 "neutral" gold of high jumper Mariya Kuchina/Lasitskenè. The most team-only golds, 114, have been won by the United States, just ahead of Kenya (111). Further superlatives are given at the end of this listing.

Shown below are all gold-medal winning athletes and teams. Athletes performing in the preliminary rounds only for teams who won golds in finals are included as they too are awarded medals. The IAAF also issued gold medals in cross country and road championships to members of winning teams who may not have finished the race (e.g. Tirunesh Dibaba in the short race at the 2006 World Cross Country Championships), but this policy ended in June 2008. An athlete must finish legitimately to get a team medal, and will do so even if that performance is non-scoring. Where there is the symbol X, the original winning result has been adjusted due to disqualifications. Not shown here are exhibition events or the 1985 World Indoor Games.

WORLD & CONTINENTAL INDOOR RECORDS

(As at January 31, 2018)

The best indoor performances on record – as agreed by the world’s leading statisticians – were accepted as the inaugural IAAF World Indoor Records from January 1, 1987. Exactly twenty-five years later, the first official list of IAAF World Junior (now “U20”) Indoor records were established in the same circumstances. Note that marks set on oversized tracks longer than 200 Metres (OT) are not accepted as records. Where relevant, the pace is given for world record performances. Where known, the time given is that of the runner who set the record, rather than the pacemaker.

The following websites have been references for the area records: Africa: www.caaweb.org; Asia: athleticsasia.org; Europe: www.european-athletics.org; South America: www.consudatle.org; United States: www.usatf.org; North/Central American & Caribbean: www.athleticsnacac.org; Central America & Caribbean: www.athlecac.org, though not updated since 2008 (the marks shown below are the best known by the compiler); Oceania, www.athletics-oceania.com

EVOLUTION OF WORLD INDOOR RECORDS

These lists show the evolution of world indoor best performances and recognised IAAF World Records. The marks which were officially ratified by the IAAF are shown in bold, but because this process did not start until January 1, 1987, they are preceded by a longer list of unofficial "world indoor bests". In that category, hand times are shown only if better than the best automatic timing on record. Some footnotes contain "professional" marks set in years when athletes were largely amateurs and professionals competed often with different and possibly less strict rules. Updates since the 2016 edition – including historical adjustments – are denoted by a vertical bar ("|") in the right margin.

^a = awaiting ratification as at January 31, 2018
