STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE			VA AV

The Chamber of Commerce building on Liberty Street was completed andformally dedicated in 1902. It was designed by the architect James Barnes Baker (1854 - 1918), from whose plans were built the Hanover Bank, the Spence School on West 54th Street and the Presbyterian Building on Fifth Avenue at 20th Street. The building was planned to symbolize the importance of the Chamber of Commerce in the community. A part of it has always served as the headquarters of the Commerce Club.

The white Vermont marble structure shows the direct influence of the architectural style taught at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, although Baker did not study there. The style is illustrated by the ornamented oculus windows, closely-spaced columns and the convex mansard roof with richly enframed dormer windows. The ground level is treated as a heavily rusticated base, above which the Great Hall (the outstanding interior feature) is expressed by a monumental order of Ionic columns, paired at the corners, and large framed, swagged and garlanded bull's-eye windows.

Originally the three spaces between the columns on the second floor held sculptured figures of famed New Yorkers: Alexander Hamilton and John Jay by Philip Martiny, and DeWitt Clinton by Daniel Chester French. These figures have been removed, and are presently in storage. The main entrance, at ground level on Liberty Street, was crowned by a broken segmental pediment carrying a sculpture group by Karl Bitter, which has also been removed.

Inside the Chamber of Commerce, the Great Hall (60' x 90' x 38') was designed to recall the early Guild Halls of London. Contained within it is one of the most notable collections of portraiture in the City, comprising portraits of 284 important Americans. The paintings represent the work of such artists as Copley, Trumbull, Stuart, Vanderlyn, the Peales, Durand and Johnson.

The four and a half story Chamber of Commerce building stands as a contrast to the newer tall buildings around it.
