MOBO 2011

Destination Glasgow...

One of the world's most prestigious music events - the MOBO Awards will be returning to Glasgow in 2011, 2013 and 2015 following on from the huge success of our annual celebration in Scotland in 2009 when it drew an extremely enthusiastic audience of MOBO fans and VIPs alike.

The annual star-studded ceremony will as always be attended by UK's leading MOBO Music performers, international artists, high profile VIPs and thousands of fans and will take place at Glasgow's SECC on 5th October.

The MOBO magazine...

MOBO is publishing a Souvenir Magazine to complement the show. With an estimated readership of 350,000 and broadcasting to a global audience of many millions in over 50 countries around the world, both on- screen and on-line. In the UK the show will be broadcast on both BBC1 and BBC3. MOBO will print up to 50,000 copies of the 2011 magazine and will be distributed in the larger HMV retail outlets across the UK, including personal copies for all performers and distinguished guests.

Distribution will also be managed by the MOBO office via an established extensive and unique network of international and domestic recording artists, writers and producers, celebrity presenters, agents and managers, record company executives, industry professionals and crew, as well as media head honchos.

Copies will be available to those who attend on the night and given out to table guests, in addition to exclusive placement inside goody bags for VIPs, nominees and winners. The magazine will also be available online at www.mobo.com

The MOBO generation...

"MOBO is a way of inspiring, educating and motivating young people so they can reach their full potential through a variety of initiatives and enterprises." Kanya King, CEO

- Founded in 1996, the MOBO Awards celebrate and recognise the outstanding achievements of established and up and coming artists who perform music in genres ranging from Gospel, Jazz, Soul, R&B and Reggae right through to Hip-Hop and Grime.
- Performers have included Tina Turner, Jay Z, Beyonce, Rihanna, Amy Winehouse, P Diddy, Sade, John Legend and Mary J Blige. Keynote past presenters: Diana Ross, Janet Jackson, Missy Elliot and Quentin Tarantino. There have also been high profile attendees from sports, business and politics.
- Based in the UK, the MOBO Awards is the first and only awards show of its kind broadcast on terrestrial television, distributed internationally across the continents. In 2010, BBC1 and BBC3 audience figures in the UK totalled as many as 5 million.
- The audience is between the ages of 16 and 55 with the majority being in their early twenties.
- The popularity of MOBO music has increased dramatically in recent years to become mainstream. Similarly the audience has widened and become truly multicultural, with 57% of viewers being female.

Aimed at a contemporary audience, the upmarket MOBO publication with high editorial and production quality will appeal to aspirant, stylish, lifestyle, music listeners with disposable income and seeking fulfilling leisure time. Influenced by trendsetters and trail blazers, inspired by the professional achievements of those in the industry, amongst the MOBO Magazine readers of today will be professional individuals and community leaders, as well as celebrity superstars of tomorrow and those making it happen for them.

Hot off the press...

- They're the taste-makers' awards. Something like the BRITs is a celebration of what has been, but the MOBO Awards are a celebration of what's to come.

The Guardian

- In the oldest sense of the word, RESPECT.

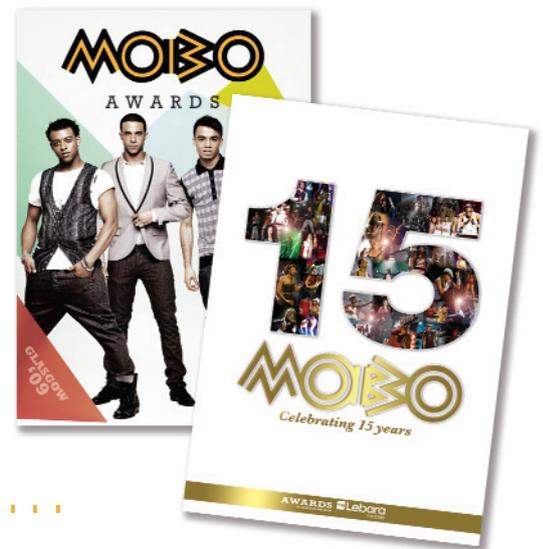

The Observer

- An event that has become every bit as important as the BRITs in the music industry calendar.

Blues & Soul

- A very special event.

The Mirror

MOBO benefits, coverage and readership...

- The MOBO Organisation and brand has access to a unique audience from consumers at large to those harder to reach people such as celebrities in the worlds of music, fashion, sports, politics, TV and film; to directors, financiers and other industry professionals. The MOBO network features the whole gamut of international and domestic recording artists, writers and producers, presenters, agents and managers, parliamentary friends and lobbyists.
- The MOBO Magazine is the only annual British publication aimed at the urban audience with a minimum national print circulation of up to 50,000 copies.
- The MOBO Awards Show is one of only a small handful of music ceremonies consistently broadcast on terrestrial television during two primetime scheduling spots and the opportunities for digital replay in 2011 are limitless.
- Each edition of the MOBO Magazine has unprecedented retention value, gaining coffee table status with an estimated readership of 350,000 in Britain; the high quality of the published product endears it as a souvenir keepsake for readers.
- Many organisations and brands have enjoyed and continue to reap the benefits of association with the MOBO brand and the Awards. These include MasterCard, Malibu, Western Union, Lebara Mobile, Bebo, Topshop, Estee Lauder, Storm, L'Oreal, HSBC; in addition to major and independent record labels, tourist boards, universities, newspapers, radio and the BBC to name but a few.
