

news

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – 14 April 2008

ELFAA welcomes clickair as a new member

BRUSSELS - The European Low Fares Airline Association (ELFAA) today announces a new airline member, clickair, bringing the membership to a total of 11 airlines.

John Hanlon, Secretary General of ELFAA, said:

“We are delighted to announce this excellent addition to our membership. clickair is one of the key players in Europe’s low fares airline market, and will add significant weight to ELFAA as a representative body of low fares airlines and their customers. The extension of the ELFAA airline representation to the important Spanish market will further strengthen ELFAA’s constituency and help ensure that the interests of low fares airlines and their customers are taken into account in regulatory decisions impacting our sector.”

Alex Cruz, Chief Executive Officer of clickair, said:

“Spain is one of the most dynamic LFA markets in Europe and clickair is Spain’s largest, most dynamic and most innovative LFA. With 7.2 million passengers forecast for 2008, we feel we can contribute valuable perspectives to ELFAA and, in return, receive the benefit of forming part of the organisation that represents the industry’s fastest growing and most forward looking segment”.

Notes to the editor:

clickair is based in Barcelona’s El Prat Airport. Founded in late 2006, Spain’s leading Low Fares Airline has grown at an incredibly fast pace. It plans to carry over 7 million passengers by the end of this year, which will be done over 54 routes to 45 cities in Spain, Continental Europe, the British Isles, North Africa and the Middle East.

ELFAA airline members include: easyJet, Flybe, Myair, Norwegian Air, Ryanair, Sky Europe, Sterling, Sverige Flyg, Transavia, WizzAir.

ELFAA members carried over 120 Million passengers in 2007, using a combined fleet of some 500 of the most technologically-advanced, environmentally-efficient aircraft.

Low Fares Airlines constitute some 30% of scheduled intra-European traffic.

Register at www.elfaa.com to receive ELFAA press releases and newsletters as they become available