Q1. Some people have said they will not vote in the General Election on May 7th, while others have said they will vote, or have already voted by post. I would like to know how certain it is that you will actually cast your vote? On a ten point scale, if 10 means you are absolutely certain to vote and 1 means you are certain not to vote, how likely is it that you will cast your vote on May 7th?

Data derived from:-

Q1. Some people have said they will not vote in the General Election on May 7th, while others have said they will vote, or have already voted by post.

I would like to know how certain it is that you will actually cast your vote? On a ten point scale, if 10 means you are absolutely certain to vote and

1 means you are certain not to vote, how likely is it that you will cast your vote on May 7th?

Q3. Putting out of your mind for now the particular context and candidates standing in your own constituency of Sheffield Hallam, which party would you plan to vote for (or you have already)?

Data excludes those who definitely will not vote (2%), don't know who they would vote for (12%) or refuse to answer (8%)
