INTRODUCTION

The papers of Jacob McGavock Dickinson (1851-1928), Tennessee Supreme Court Justice, 1891-93; Assistant Attorney General of the United States, 1895-97; Secretary of War, 1909-1911; and Chicago lawyer until his death, were given to Tennessee State Library and Archives by his son, Jacob McGavock Dickinson, Jr.; Mrs. Henry Dickinson, the widow of another son; Mrs. James Lowery, a descendant of a sister of Jacob McGavock Dickinson's father; and Hamilton Gayden, Jr., a grandson. The gifts were made over a period of several years from 1956-1969.

The materials in this finding aid measure 29.93 inear feet. There are no restrictions on the materials.

Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Jacob McGavock Dickinson Papers be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The papers of Jacob McGavock Dickinson, numbering approximately 40,200 items and 67 volumes, contain correspondence, speeches, diary material, briefs, sketches, reports, records of his Arkansas plantation, biographical and genealogical data, scrapbooks, photographs, clippings, and personal memorabilia dating from 1812 to 1946. The bulk of the material falls in the period 1909 to 1911 when he served as Secretary of War in William Howard Taft's Cabinet. The date 1812 of a letter of Judge Dickinson's grandfather, Jacob McGavock, to his father, Hugh McGavock, is the earliest found in the collection. There are 18 letterbooks of Judge Dickinson for the years 1904-1911. Seven volumes contain diary material kept for the Secretary of War while on his trip around the world in 1910. The genealogical and biographical data contain deeds, wills, early letters, sketches, and accounts of the Carr, Claiborne, Dickinson, Grundy, Maxwell, Overton, Waller, and kindred families.

A file of the speeches made by Judge Dickinson dating from 1868 to 1928 seem to be a complete set and are on a variety of subjects including the concentration of power in the Federal Government, race problems, International Arbitration, and many subjects dealing with the South and its progress and problems. Letters, notes, and clippings relating to the Alaskan Boundary Arbitration at which Judge Dickinson represented the United States and made the summing up speech are in the collection. In addition the notes of Lord Alverstone who represented Great Britain which were given to Judge Dickinson at his request are among the papers. There are 16 volumes of records of the Kenson Plantation, Joiner, Arkansas, and a large volume of business correspondence dealing with the management of the plantation from 1915 until its sale in 1919. There are lengthy reports on Porto Rico, Panama Canal Zone, and the Philippines, all of which came under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of War.

Among Judge Dickinson's correspondents are Charles Francis Adams, Lord Alverstone, Newton D. Baker, R.A. Ballenger, Albert J. Beveridge, William E. Borah, Foster V. Brown, Neal Brown, William J. Bryan, Joseph W. Byrns, Andrew Carnegie, F.W. Carpenter, Joseph H. Choate, Grover Cleveland, Calvin Coolidge, Caruthers Ewing, Stuyvesant Fish, W. Cameron Forbes, Henry Ford, J.W. Foster, Finis J. Garrett, Lindley M. Garrison, George W. Goethals, W.C. Gorgas, T.W. Gregory, J.M. Harlan, Judson Harmon, F.H. Hitchcock, Herbert Hoover, Charles E. Hughes, J.W. Judd, Jules Jusserand, William S. Kenyon, Philander C. Knox, Robert Lansing, Luke Lea, James Hamilton Lewis, Robert Lincoln, Horace Lurton, W.G. McAdoo, J.C. McReynolds, Franklin MacVeagh, G. Von L. Meyer, Richard Olney, Thomas Nelson Page, Charles A. Peabody, Goerge R. Peck, John J. Pershing, Theodore Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Henry L. Stimson, William H. Taft, John J. Vertrees, Joseph Wheeler, E.D. White, Albert H. Whitfield, George W. Wickersham, Woodrow Wilson, Leonard Wood, and Marcus J. Wright.

In addition to these correspondents, there are some early family items of the Dickinsons and the McGavocks and several letters of Felix Grundy, Andrew Jackson, John Overton, and John Sevier.

Judge Dickinson's son, Jacob McGavock Dickison, Jr., has added to the collection of his father's papers some of his own. Included in these are five volumes containing the original battle papers used during the World War I and a portfolio of drawings by the French artist, Jean Berne Bellicour. Also he has presented 6 items dealing with the Tennessee State Guard of which he was the Commanding Officer until his resignation in August 1946.

NAME INDEX

This index contains the names of those persons with three or more letters in the collection except in cases where one or two letters have been considered of such importance, either because of the person or the subject matter, as to warrant attention. Authors of letters petitioning for minor positions and letters of a purely business nature, such as bank notices and bills, have been omitted from the index. The figures in parentheses immediately following each name denote the total number of letters from that person in the collection; the dates are for the period covered by the letters; identification of the writer is included except in some cases where the subject of the letter is considered of more importance than the writer; and the last numbers given refer to the box or boxes in which the correspondence is to be found.
