Baath Arab Socialist Party and the National Project

At the beginning there is a question : why did the Baath Arab Socialist Party appeared in the Levant . and specifically in Syria . not in Egypt or in the Maghreb?

Because our party is a product of the national liberation movement . and a result of a clash of nationalities, especially the Arab one who still evolving in the region.

Baath ideas are still urgent :

At the stage of the party foundation and in the phase that preceded the establishment of the Baath, there were a variety of political currents represented s the bourgeoisie allied with feudalism . such as the National Party . and the People 's Party in Syria, and of the Independence Party in Iraq . and the Wafd Party and the Liberal Party in Egypt .. There are parties and described as regional .ie. they did not consider Arabs as one nation . and there is the Muslim Brotherhood that called for an Islamic nation, and considered Arab nationalism and Arab nation as Zionist lies to disperse Muslims, and the Arab communist movement.

In such circumstances the Baath Arab Socialist Party appeared and defined its motto as " one Arab nation with an eternal message ". then defined its objectives of unity . freedom and socialism.

the party also adopted the concept of "religion is to God and homeland is for all" the national affiliation is the base of his theory..

So since the beginning of the twentieth century, a national advancement began to shape, to be escalated in the forties and sixties . and then it began to fade.

Unity is a fact and a need:

The Syrian-Egyptian unity confirmed the possibility of achieving unity among Arabs . and hence there is the need to adhere to the project of the Arab nationalist project . despite the state of division experienced by the Arabs now, we have to work for unity, regardless of some people point of view that the idea of Arab unity is just a romantic dream that can't be achieved.

Our Arab people . who had played a central role in the struggle for liberation and emancipation . they are convinced with the fact of belonging to the Arab nation and the consolidation of the idea of unity is in their consciousness.

There is no doubt that the Baath Arab Socialist Party, which gave a priority to the goal of unity, and work tirelessly to achieve unity in 1958, will remain keen to keep the concept of unity alive in the mind, and will struggle and sacrifice to achieve it, and the national project will remain its first national obsession . and there is no doubt that the Baath ideas and concepts are still alive and constitute an urgent need for the Arabs.

- وإذا كان تحرير فلسطين رهن بوحدة القوى التقدمية ونموها بالانسلاخ فان سياسة بمسئولية مرنة وثورية هي التي تستطيع ان تدفع القوي التقدمية في العالم الى تأييد قضية الشعب العربي في فلسطين ، بحيث يمكن تصفية هذه القضية بأقل قدر ممكن من ردود الفعل المباشرة من قبيل الاستعمار الذي خلق اسرائيل ويدها الان بأسباب الحياة والتوه ، كما ان مثل هذه السياسة - المبدئية - والمرنة - والثورية ، هي التي تستطيع ان تستفيد من كل امكانية متوفرة على الصعيد الدولي بما في ذلك الاستفادة من التناقضات الثنائية بين دول الرأسمالية والإمبريالية .

Discussing the Problems Needs Displaying of Achievements

The Arab world experienced a lot of tragedies, which created destruction and fragmentation, and abolished the social flow in the face of colonization and settlement, which enable scientific default, superstition and formalism, and postponement in Arab issues, especially the Palestinian cause.

Every nation is concerned about reading its history whatever it was, and if this nation didn't, so it doesn't realize what is happening and it is not able to experience development. But we as Arabs, did we read the stages of our history in a correct way? And did we realize the fact of the evolutionary context of moving from feudalism to bourgeois and socialism then to globalization? Is it true that we still at the same point and not moving forward at all? And what place do we occupy in this world? Everything is happening now used to happen before and after the so - called Arab Spring? Why do not we correct our knowledge and literature, and everything related to our mood, which does not discuss or argue, to move with this nation towards progress.

The Baath and changing the current Arab situation:

A national duty is waiting for the Baath Arab Socialist Party, where it should get over the wounds left by the Syrian crisis, and own a new political opportunity to change the current Arab situation, recovering from which the Arab nation, and this need a unified national and secular efforts in the Arab arena, for the creation of the Arab national project again, it is the task of the party, because it is the most convenient organization to mobilize the Arab masses by a democratic mean, where the revolution is for the people and by the people, and avoid the bloody conflict and division, and achieve unity, solidarity and freedom.

In order to accomplish this task successfully, the party should be constructed by a democracy which committed to its ideas, realizing the existing culture of creating the civil society with transparency, privacy, and depth, through dialogue to achieve these great goals.
