

Our FireRescue1 Editorial team of editors and expert columnists ambitiously covers the broadest array of firefighting and rescue topics of any fire media organization. In addition to our regular coverage, we have several major editorial coverage efforts planned for 2017 – many of which offer great content sponsorship opportunities.

DIGITAL SUPPLEMENTS

Our print-style digital editions bring a sharpened focus to a specific topic of importance within the market, combining perspectives from top experts with original feature reporting.

- Wildland-Urban Interface: A Growing Danger to Firefighters and Communities: March 2017
- How to Build a Fire Station: July 2017
- Fire Chief's Guide to Emerging Technologies: December 2017

MAJOR COVERAGE THEMES

While we'll be covering the same broad range of essential fire topics, we will be targeting a few for expanded focus given their current importance to firefighting and rescue.

- Fireground Operations and Tactics
- Firefighter Safety, Health and Wellness
- Firefighter Training
- Fire Department Management

SPECIAL COVERAGE SERIES

Our special editorial coverage series tackle major firefighting and rescue topics with expanded reporting and special features, delivered over several weeks via several special report packages.

- How Private-sector Technology Breakthroughs Can Change the Fire Service: February 2017
- Firefighter Recruitment & Retention: Matching the Diverse Communities Fire Departments Serve: October 2017

TRADE SHOW & EVENT COVERAGE

FireRescue1 will be producing expanded original coverage of the following major industry events in 2017.

- FDIC: April 2017
- Fire-Rescue International: July 2017
