FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1874. THE foreign arrivals since last report have been : Nov. 14th, H. S. M.'s S. Tenedos, from San Francisco, bringing the mails; American whaleship Josephine, from the Ochotak; 17th, British mail steamer Macgregor, from Auckland, to C. Brewer & Co.; American whaleship Europa, from the Arctic

The departures were: Nov. 17th, U. S. S. Benicla and steamship Macgregor, for San Francisco.

The southerly gale which commenced on Tuesday night, still continues, and interrupts inter-island communication. We note a credit sale at auction by Mr. Bartow at salesroom, advertised for Wednesday and Thursday next, on account of Mesers. Hoffschlaeger & Co. The non-arrival of the mail steamer, due from San Fran cisco since the first part of the week, is causing considerable speculation. Consignees and others expecting goods by her, effected insurance this morning.

BAN FRANCISCO, November I, 1874. Sugar-We note an advance of ic W ib on all Golden Col fees from the refineries, now that the San Francisco & Pacific has sold out their last 500 bbls of stock. The schr General notate beought over only 109 kegs and 16 bags. Our present supply of Hawaiian grocery grades is very light and insignificant—XXX washed having all been closed out at 105@105c. The present price of Yellow Coffees at the refineries is 104@11c for bbls and bf bbls. We note a purchase of 1,000 bags Peravian, grocery grades, private, but quoinble at Sc. The Bay Refloery continues to supply the market with its superior Cube and Loaf, while the California Refinery feeds the trade with Cube, Crushed, etc. There is quite an active demand for all white refined at full rates, and for Hawalian grocery grades, while the demand for dark grades for refining is light at low and nominal rates. We note Hawalian grocery grades at 71@101c.

RICE—The market is slack with full stocks of all kinds. We quote Siam recleaned at $5.40@5.50; China, $5.25@5.75; Hawalian, $7.007.50 F 100 fbs. We note a closing out sale of 6,000 pockets recleaned Patna, upon terms withheld. Print-In the absence of sales we continue to quote Hawaiiau at 9c, a low figure, owing to large stock accumulations. We note sales of 139 bales, private.

AUCKLAND, October 31, 1874. Sugar.—The market is barely supplied as compared with the consumption going forward. Good yellows and browns most required. Of late, whites and second whites have sur-leifed the market, and the keen competition has left no profit to importers. The stocks of Honolule sugar fast to meet the consumption, and greater regularity in shipments must be ob-served it Honolulu is to retain the thriving trade already es-tablished with this market. There is now a certainty of Fig. coming into competition for the supply of the colonial market with these descriptions of sugars, and the advantages in position of that group place it in an especially advantageous posi-tion for supplying the Auckiand market. The first sale of Fiji sugars here took place on the 29th of last month, when bright yellows realized £38 10s; yellows, £36; brown, £35.

ALLEGED OCTUBERENK AT FIJE .- Strange rumors are tions in Fiji, and it is asserted that annexation, which had not, when flags were exchanged on the 2d, received the final assent of Sir Hercules Robinson, has been seriously interrupted by a revolt of chiefs who deny Thakambau's right to cede Fijian territory to any foreign power. These rumors are said to have their origin in private letters received by the Jessie Kelly, which arrived from New Caledonia on Wed-nesday, but we understand that she cannot possibly bring later Fijian news than that received by the Mikado. Still those reports, taken in connection with the alleged fillibustering expedition contemplated by Maafu, and the purchase of arms in Sydney, point to the probability of there being fresh troubles in store for Fiji.

We understand that Mr. Russell, representing the Government of New Zealand, in Sydney, in the matter of the mail service via San Francisco, will return to New Zealand to-day by the Macgregor.

most satisfactory that could be arrived at in the present state of matters. THE PACIFIC Commercial Adbertiser

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21. Ar 11 A. M. on Tuesday last, His Majesty the King embarked on board the U. S. S. Benicia, apt. Hopkins, and a few minutes after the noble ship steamed slowly out of the harbor and took her departure for San Francisco. The entire populace apparently was out to witness the King's departure. More than fifty years have elapsed since a similar occasion, the departure of Kamehameha II. for England, in 1823. Then, as now, the people pressed in crowds to the shore to bid farewell to their King-but the numbers in the first instance will bear no comparison with the at 11 o'clock. scant population of to-day. A fair estimate however will put the numbers at 3,000 to 4,000 persons who lined the wharves and the esplanade and very naturally averse to formal farewells at the wharf, though the people who pressed about him as he alighted from his carriage, amid mingled sobs and cheers, would fain have detained As the boat pushed out from the wharf. bearing the Royal Standard, salutes were fired from H. B. M.'s Ships Scout and Tenedos and by the battery on shore, and all three vessels manned yards. As His Majesty ascended the Benicia's side, the Royal Standard was unfurled from the main, and that ship thundered forth a salute. As she passed along the esplanade, the crowds gathered there cheered repeatedly, and the waying of hats and flutter of handkerchiefs was continuous, until the vessel was gone from sight. And thus Hawaii bade farewell and God-speed to

Never before in the history of nations did such an embassy go forth, with such an object in view and under such circumstances, or so freighted with the prayers and hopes of a whole people. During the next three months, or until the return of the Royal Party, every incoming mail will be looked to with deep interest for tidings of the welfare and prosperity of our Embassy. As was remarked by the Prince in his address at Kawaiahao on Monday last, the King has undertaken this journey in response to the united wish of the people, and he is thus fulfilling the behests of his subjects. To quote from Hamlet :

"He may not, as unvalued persons do, Carve for himself; for on his choice depends The safety and the health of the whole state, And therefore must his choice be circumscrib'd Unto the voice and yielding of that body.

AT THE present moment, the seat of government is without a single Judge of the Supreme Court, Judge Harris, the one member of the Bench remaining in the country, having left town on Tuesday, to attend the Circuit on Hawaii. While it is possible, and to be hoped, that no emergency may arise whereby public or private interests will suffer through the utter discountry is non est inventus at the capital, is a con- and finally concluded in substance as follows dition of affairs that, to put it mildly, should not be allowed to exist. And should unfortunately one of a great many reasonably supposable contingencies arise in which the authority of a Judge of that Court is alone applicable, then all that has been said during several months past against the absenteeism of the Judges, could be reasserted with added force.

THE ROYAL BIRTH-DAY.

Prayers for the King. Monday, the 16th inst., was observed in Honolulu with great honor as a National Holiday. It was the King's thirty-sixth birthday, and moreover His Majesty had, by Royal Proclamation, invited His People to join in the offices of religion in invoking 50th at 4 p st; discharged and sailed next day at 5.10 a m. In the protecting care of Divine Providence over our Ruler during a visit to the United States of America. and elsewhere abroad.

> His Majesty and Suite attended the Churches of the three principal denominations in our city, to join in the prayers offered up in his behalf.

> His Majesty first attended the early morning service at St. Andrew's temporary Cathedral, and received the Holy Communion at the hands of the Lord Bishop, in company with Her Majesty the Queen, and Queen Dowager Emma. And thus Kalakaua, Kapiolani and Emma kneeling together at the same altar, gave happy assurance of the peace

Afterwards His Majesty, accompanied by His Royal Highness the Heir Apparent, Their Excellencies J. S. Walker, Minister of Finance, and W. L. Moehonua, Minister of the Interior, Their Excellencies Governors Dominis, Allen, Kapena, Kanoa, and the Royal Aids, arrived about 10 A. M. at the Catholie Church of Mariekamalu, where they were met by the Commissioner of France, Mr. Ballieu, and the Chancellor of the French Legation, Mr. Pernet, in full uniform,-who conducted the royal party to seats near the altar. The Rev. Dr. O'Connor now stepped forward to the rail in front of His Majesty, and made some happy and pertinent remarks. The Reverend gentleman's words were neither too short nor too long, and by their felicitous appropriateness to the occasion and effective delivering proved that we were listening to a pulpit orator of no ordinary ability. Quoting from Isaiah, the words beginning with, "Arise, oh Jerusalem !"-he spoke of the grandeur and the splendid hopes centered in the Holy City,-had she been only true to her faith, and had faithfully recognized the Almighty's dispensations in her behalf;-and in this connection com menting upon the blessedness attending a recognition by Princes and People of Divine Guidance. And then the Reverend Father, addressing especially His Majesty, said: "And indeed, oh King! it is a glorious sight to see you this day invoking the assistance of the Great Ruler of the World and asking His protectien in your journey, undertaken for the good of your country,-and this act of devotion to its welfare must forever enthrone you still more in the affections and in the hearts of your people. As the history of the world tells us, the Church adapts herself to every lawfully constituted government. She teaches obedience to lawful authority. She is the friend of human progress, the guardian of rational liberty, and Your Majesty will see and feel her influence in the Great Republic you are about to visit. And your presence here to-day acknowledges her mission of peace and loyalty."-Then after alluding to the conflicts of the Church, he went on to say-" But here in these lovely islands, under your benign sway, the in in Sydney regarding fresh complica- Church is free and unfettered, for you govern with and wisdom, and I know that from the moment our

the skillful direction of Father Hermann. At 12 o'clock His Majesty met an assembly of his people at Kawaiahao Stone Church; but preceding our report of this occasion, we must speak of the offerings of prayer to God, and of a discourse in honor of the day at Fort Street Church, commencing

After prayer by the Rev. Mr. Frear, in which Di vince guidance and protection were especially invoked in behalf of His Majesty, the pulpit was filled on Tuesday forenoon. The King was evidently by the Rev. Dr. Damon, who preached an admirable discourse from the text, "Them that honor Me, I will honor." He showed how the spirit of this country. ever since its first dawn of religious light had been to honor God, whose mercies thus far had never failed it in its hour of need. But we need not comment here, as we print the discourse in full on another page. But this we will say, -that the discourse breathes a spirit of unbounded charity and hopefulness. Some may criticise the optimism of the Reverend Gentleman, but it is in accordance with the spirit of noble humanty and wide Christian charity, that leads him to accept the universality of Christianity under various opinions, conditions, and denominations. He partook of the "holy rivalry" mentioned by the Reverend Father in the Church across the way, and we must say, that notwithstanding we have our preferences in the exercises of worship, we were happy to-day to be present at so many different shrines, where fervent prayer, earnest words, and the sweet voices of choral singers lifting up our hearts with sacred melody, inspired the warmest emotions of brotherly love and Christian sympathy.

At the native Church of Kawaiahao, the regular thanksgiving services were held in the morning, the Pastor, the Rev. H. H. Parker, preaching a sermon appropriate to the occasion, before a large audience. But the culminating proceedings of the day were the services held in this church from 12 o'clock until 2. which were attended by their Majesties the King and Queen, His Royal Highness, Prince Leleiohoku, their Royal Highnesses the King's Sisters, Her Highness R. Keelikolani, the Hon. Mrs. Bishop, the King's Ministers, and the members of His Suite. An extensive platform had been prepared on a level with the is suffering a severe business depression. upon his mind is the saving of this nation. To accomplish this is the aim of his existence, and if he accomplishes his desires the independence and life of this nation will be maintained. But life and death are in our own hands, this whole nation are digging their own graves. Do not think your King can save you. He can only tell you what you should do, can only be a guide for you. You must save yourselves. This question is a hard one to answer; do not puzzle yourselves to solve it, for you cannot do it. Oh, for some prophet, to solve this mystery-I will be the prophet to give this answer. It is this: Let every parent gather his children together, place around them his arms, and vow that he will not let them, both daughters and sons, wander away into the paths of evil. In this way alone will this nation be saved. He who stands at the helm of the ship of state wishes to direct her prow towards the port of salvation. The great desire of our King is to seek aid for the agricultural interests of the country—the cane fields, and the rice fields are the soul of this country. Take them away and the country will be like a corpse. Now what shall we do to show our love to our King, must give curselves up soul and body a sacrifice to God. We must ask God to protect our King on his journey. Let us pray God to control the winds and still the waves that Lie may be returned to us in safetrust in God and in Him alone; that He may not arose, and stepping forward spoke as follows: My PEOPLE: On this the first anniversary of my birth-day occurring after my accession to the Throne, I have thought it fit and proper that it should be made a day of national thanksgiving to Almighty God, for His many mercies and blessings to us as a people; and, as it occurs on the eve of my undertaking a long journey to a far country, that you may also on this day implore the Divine protection for me in my absence, and a blessing on my mission.

In the history of nations, we may learn that it is no unusual thing for the Head of one Government to visit that of another for the purpose of seeking the welfare of the people. It is for this purpose, -in the endeavor to forward the best interests of you, my people,-that I am about to visit the seat of government of our good friends, the United States of America. That Government has given another instance of its friendship to us, by placing one of its war vessels at my disposal to convey me to its shores. To-day, our country needs the aid of a Treaty of Commercial Reciprocity with America in order to ensure our material prosperity, and I believe that if such a Treaty can be secured, the beneficial effects will be soon apparent to all classes, and our nation, under its reviving influences, will grow again.

It is with these impelling motives and hopes that now reluctantly bid farewell for a time to the dear land of my birth, and to you my people. In conformity with the Constitution, I have appointed His Royal Highness my brother, to act as Regent and Head of the Government during my absence. feeling confident that in his hands the conduct of affairs will be safe. And I ask for him, the Queen, and my sisters, the same consideration and lovalty that you have accorded me.

Let your united prayers ascend to the Almighty that He will grant me His protection during my absence, a prosperous termination to my mission.

The King's remarks were listened to with marked attention, and in the pauses were greeted with justice and liberality, -the proddest prerogatives of all | loud applause. Then followed singing again, after Kingly power. And the Church, ever mindful of which Prince Leleioboku made an eloquent adher earthly benefactors, calls her priests and prelates | dress. Thus concluded the public observance of the fi anniversary, since his accession, of the birth-day King Kalakaua, and all must acknowledge that was most fittingly celebrated.

[From the Alta California, October 30th.] Hawaiian Reciprocity.

Among the passengers who arrived yesterday, from Honolulu, are Elisha H. Allen, Embassador to the United States, empowered and instructed to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with our Government, and H. A. P. Carter, who accompanies him as Commissioner, to co-operate in the negotiations. King Kalakana will follow them, leaving the Islands in the American war ship Benicia about the middle of November. We welcome the two diplomutists to our shores, and commend them to the favor of our merchants and officials. Even if, in a business point of view, reciprocity should not prove a source of much direct profit to us, i should still be granted. The Hawaiian Kingdom were opened with the Hawaiian version of "God relief, and that is, in reciprocity with our Governaudience joining and accompanied by the Band. under many obligations to do it. (From the San Francisco Chronicle, October 30th.) California and the Hawaiian Islands. The geographical position of the Sandwich Islands is such as to make it a matter of very great mportance to the United States that they should not fall into the possession or under the influence of any foreign power. The area of the entire group is only some 6,000 square miles; the popu lation does not probably exceed 80,000. Hence, whatever importance the islands may have is chiefly derived from their position in the Pacific. their admirable harbors, some of them protected by barrier reefs of coral, and their value as a naval station. The predominance of American influence in the Pacific demands that neither France nor England, nor any other European nation should be permitted, under any pretense, to establish a "protectorate" over these islands. Yesterday the Hon. Elisha H. Allen, Minister Plenipotentiary duly accredited by the Hawaiian Government, and H. A. P. Carter, member of the Privy who is doing so much for us and our country. We Council, arrived in this city en route for Washington. Their object is understood to be to negotiate a treaty of reciprocity between the United States and the Hawaiian Kingdom. For some years the ty. We must pray that the heart of the King may trade between the islands and the Pacific Coast has been steadily diminishing. The Australian colonies coveted that trade and sought to secure it by reducing duties on imports. We impose an average duty of three cents per pound on the raw sugar that comes to this port from the islands, while the duty in the Australian ports does not exceed one cent per pound. It would seem to be clearly for the interests of the country at large, Large Discount off the Cost Price and it is certainly for the interest of California to establish the relations with the Hawailan kingdom which it is the object of the present Embassy to promote. For a period of twenty years the Hawaiian Government has been anxious to make a reciprocity treaty with the United States. There have been Presidents and statesmen who were in favor of it; but the Senate has been uniformly opposed to the idea. An objection often urged against reciprocity is that it would diminish the revenue. Such diminution in this particular case would be too triffing to have in itself any weight in influencing the policy of the Government. A much more important consideration is the establishment of the precedent. If we adopt the policy of reciprocity with the Sandwich Islands, on what grounds are we to repudiate that policy when urged upon us by Canada for instance. Practically and in its material results the question of reciprocity with the Sandwich Islands is not one of vast importance, but as a precedent and the indication of a general line of policy it is a matter of no little consequence.

spectable Bank of Hamburg. They are heavy in every sense of the word; for not only are they of vast amount, but they are required to be paid in silver, at the rate of about a waggon-load to a bill; and it is not so much the difficulty of procuring the silver, but of coining it fast enough, that has taxed the energies of the commercial capital of Germany. Fortunately a crisis, which at one time seemed almost inevitable, has been averted by the zeal and co-operation of the private bankers, as the State was not permitted to interfere, and the first of these monster bills has been paid. The circumstances are these :-- A large part of the latest instalment of war indomnity raid by France to Germany consists of bills of exchange, and of these were drafts be under the strict surveillance of the police. The on Hamburg to the tune of 48 million marks banco -a coin of about eighteen-pence value. On the 12th of September the first bill for about 25 millions became due, and consequently nearly two millions of money had to be provided in eighteenpenny pieces. Such a thing had never been heard of before; but the bills had been duly accepted, and being at short dutes, had to be provided for by the acceptors, Messrs L. Behrens and Sons. without loss of time, by some unusual operation. as all the money in the bank was inadequate for the purpose. This sum varies from week to week according to the quantity of bullion in the cellars of the bank, anyone being at liberty to deposit there his bars of silver; for which his account is credited in marks banco at a fixed rate of about fifty-nine marks banco per medical pound of fine silver. In ordinary times, this balance has ranged from sixteen to twenty millions of marks value. and in order to facilitate the ever-increasing financial operations, a concession has been granted to the Bank to create banco money, no longer exclusively by silver bars, but by the deposit of gold in bars called Belehnungen. In this manner the stock at the bank at the end of August had risen to thirty-two millions of marks value; but of this more than ave millions were Belebnungen, and consequently not available, for the monster bill was drawn and made payable, not in gold, nor even in silver thalers, but in marks banco; and nothing but marks banco would do. The Hamburgers proved equal to the emergency. By great exertion, working night and day, 20,000,000 marks were forthcoming; the day before the bill became due they were delivered to the bank in 7,000 bags of 200 marks each, and on the 12th the bills were paid in the usual manner by a simple cheque on the bank to transfer the amount to the credit of the holder! No wonder that with transactions of such colossal magnitude a great sensation was created in the Hamburg Exchange a few days ago by the exhibition of one of those monster bills by the Provincial Discount Company, to whom it had been sent to get it accepted. This extraordinary document was drawn on Messrs La Behrens and Sons, and in one sum of 24,650,000 marks banco, the bill stamps amounting to more than 6000 thalers (about £900), which goes into the Imperial Treasury, and which France has to pay.

TRIAL OF THE ASSASSIN OF BISMARCK .- Kullman declined the aid of counsel offered by the Government and defended himself. In his address to the Probably the heaviest bill transactions (says the Court he related his history and the causes that Daily News of London) that the world ever saw are and impelled him to seek the life of Bismarck. He now straining the resources of the ancient and restated that his apprenticeship in early life had corrupted him and led him into the path of vice. He had borne the taunts of protestant apprentices associated with him until they had broke his temper He had then sought for means of revenge upon protestants and upon the imprisonment of Archbishop of Posen for his opposition to the German ecclesiastical laws, the assassination of some prominent protestant suggested itself, and he finally fixed upon Bismarck as his victim. The still ness of death prevailed during the prisoner's

> The Court, in addressing the prisoner previous to passing seentence, referred to the enormity o his crime, which, but for the interposition of Divine Providence, might have brought him to the scale fold. Kullman was then sentenced to 14 years imprisonment, at the expiration of which he is to be for ten years deprived of all civil rights, and to prisoner was very calm and collected while stand ing to receive his sentence. He refused to appeal from the verdict of the Court. BRUSSELS, Oct. 26 .- The Le Nord discredits the report of the agreement of France to support Russia in her policy in the East, and positively contradicts recent reports that Germany was about to send a note to France endorsing the Spanish com plaints with reference to the Carlists. The Le Nord strengthens the contradiction with a statement that the German Foreign Minister is far from approving of the tone of Spain's last communica
