No updates required since March 6, 2023

Alabama

 No state public accommodations nondiscrimination law enumerating sexual orientation or gender identity

Alaska

- No state public accommodations nondiscrimination law enumerating sexual orientation or gender identity
- Formerly, state agency explicitly interpreted existing protections against discrimination based on sex to include both sexual orientation and gender identity for employment, housing, public accommodations, credit/lending, and government agencies/practices. See archived capture of Alaska State Commission for Human Rights (announced Dec 2020), agency social media post (Dec 2020), and subsequent guidance with further detail (Feb 2021). However, under pressure from conservative interest groups amid the 2022 election season, in August 2022 the agency rescinded its interpretation for all areas except for employment, which was explicitly covered by the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in Bostock v. Clayton County, Georgia (2020). See this coverage for more details about this reversal, and see also the agency's social media post announcing the change (August 2022).
