Not Flashy

Don't go looking for something shocking or flashy on Jethro Tull's first release in three years, Crest Of A Knaive. However, as Tull have been playing an important role on the folk-rock scene for years, they can be sure of some attention although some will be disappointed by the routine treatment of the genre. Vocalist/multi-instrumentalist Ian Anderson, who entirely composed and produced the album, plays a lot of flute, for example on Jump Start, an elaborate track featuring the haunting drum sound of Gerry Conway, one of the band's guest drummers. But the best track on the LP is Mountain Men which combines all the group's qualities.

Actually by Pet Shop Boys this week's most interesting release. The duo continue to experiment with their typical, somewhat enigmatic blend of 'shameless' commerciality and great originality. Julian Mendelsohn, Stephen Hague and David Jacob were on the knobs for this album which has a highly engineered feel.

Clear, open, danceable rhythms alternate with basically simple tunes which have been blown up to monumental formats. Apart from the two singles (It's A Sin and What Have I Done To Deserve This?) highlights include the tender, emotional Rent, the catchy Hit Music, the velvety It Couldn't Happen Here, the disco style Heart and the dreamy King's Cross. Listen out too for Pink Floyd's A Momentary Lapse Of Reason. Produced by Bob Ezrin & David Gilmore, it yields heavy 'spacey' rock of guaranteed quality, full of impressive sound effects, sudden changes of intensity, dynamic build-ups and muscular guitars. And yet... you have to love all this profoundly or you will get a little dizzy. The whole album seems to be one proclamation: 'Yes, we are Pink Floyd, we still exist!'

All Systems Go by Donna Summer ranges from bouncing disco numbers to sultry ballads, all in a highly fashionable production - mainly by Harold Faltermeyer. The danceable material is best represented in Bad Reputation, a very catchy track, strongly reminiscent of Madonna's 'Open Your Heart' - Paulinho Da Costa, who handled the percussion on the Madonna number provides it here too. In fact, so other participants from 'True Blue' appear on the new Summer LP: guitarist Benn Huff and Paul Jackson Jr, background vocalist Siedah Garrett and Edie Lehmann. And it shows, especially on Love Shock. Other contributions include Mickey Thomas of Starship who sings a duet with Summer on Only The Fool and Breda and Russel who wrote, co-produced and co-performed Dinner With Gerushin, a wonderful funky track with striking arrangements - and the LP's first single.

Breeding guitars, melancholic ditties and intriguing lyrics are the ingredients of Document, the fifth album by the American guardians of basic, R&R rooted pop: R.E.M. All 11 songs are jewels, revealing the band's conscientious approach to composition, arrangement and performance. Best tracks: The One I Love, It's The End Of The World As We Know It, Fireplace and Finest Worksong.
