Verse 28. Agrippa interrupted him. "Do you think you can persuade me to become a Christian so quickly?" Verse 29. Paul replied, "Whether quickly or not, I pray to God that both you and everyone here in this audience might become the same as I am, except for these chains." Verse 30. Then the king, the governor, Bernice, and all the others stood and left.

448 Chapter 27. When the time came, we set sail for Italy. Paul and several other prisoners were placed in the custody of a Roman officer named Julius, a captain of the Imperial Regiment. Verse 2. Aristarchus, a Macedonian from Thessalonica, was also with us. NLT

We left on a ship whose home port was Adramyttium on the northwest coast of the province of Asia; it was scheduled to make several stops at ports along the coast of the province. Verse 3. The next day when we docked at Sidon, Julius was very kind to Paul and let him go ashore to visit with friends so they could provide for his needs. NLT

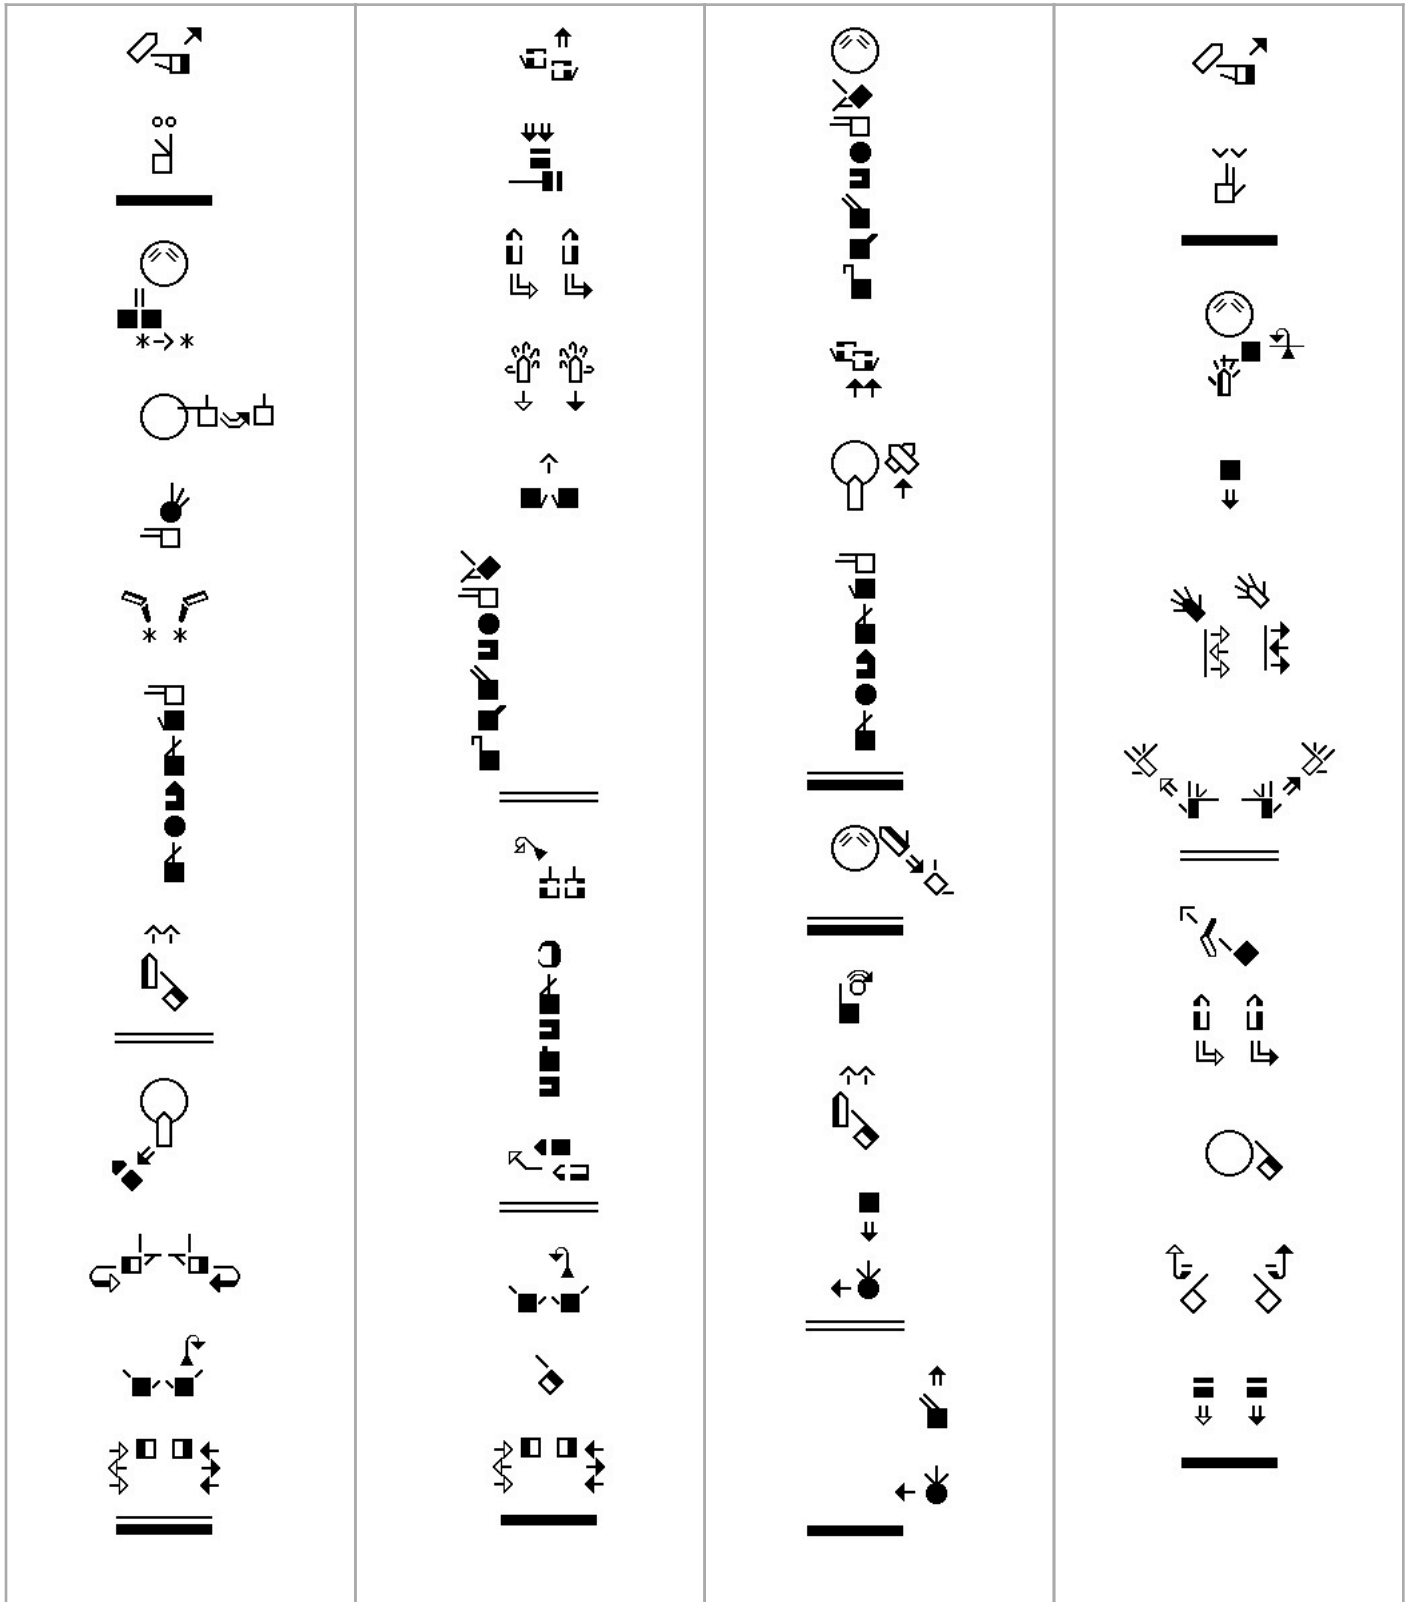

450 Verse 4. Putting out to sea from there, we encountered strong headwinds that made it difficult to keep the ship on course, so we sailed north of Cyprus between the island and the mainland. Verse 5. Keeping to the open sea, we passed along the coast of Cilicia and Pamphylia, landing at Myra, in the province of Lycia. NLT travel because it was so late in the fall, and Paul spoke to the ship's officers about it. Verse 10. "Men," he said, "I believe there is trouble ahead if we go on -- shipwreck, loss of cargo, and danger to our lives as well." Verse 11. But the officer in charge of the prisoners listened more to the ship's captain and the owner than to Paul.

454 Verse 12. And since Fair Havens was an exposed harbor -- a poor place to spend the winter --most of the crew wanted to go on to Phoenix, farther up the coast of Crete, and spend the winter there. Phoenix was a good harbor with only a southwest and northwest exposure. Verse 13. When a light wind began blowing from the south, the sailors thought they could make it. NLT

So they pulled up anchor and sailed close to the shore of Crete. Verse 14. But the weather changed abruptly, and a wind of typhoon strength (called a "northeaster") burst across the island and blew us out to sea. Verse 15. The sailors couldn't turn the ship into the wind, so they gave up and let it run before the gale.

456 Verse 16. We sailed along the sheltered side of a small island named Cauda, where with great difficulty we hoisted aboard the lifeboat being towed behind us. Verse 17. Then the sailors bound ropes around the hull of the ship to strengthen it. They were afraid of being driven across to the sandbars of Syrtis off the African coast, NLT so they lowered the sea anchor to slow the ship and were driven before the wind. Verse 18. The next day, as gale-force winds continued to batter the ship, the crew began throwing the cargo overboard. Verse 19. The following day they even took some of the ship's gear and threw it overboard.

and not left Crete. You would have avoided all this damage and loss. Verse 22. But take courage! None of you will lose your lives, even though the ship will go down. Verse 23. we were being driven across the Sea of Adria, the sailors sensed land was near. Verse 28. They dropped a weighted line and found that the water was 120 feet deep. But a little later they measured again and found it was only 90 feet deep. Verse 29. At this rate they were afraid we would soon be driven against the rocks along the shore,

462 so they threw out four anchors from the back of the ship and prayed for daylight. Verse 30. Then the sailors tried to abandon the ship; they lowered the lifeboat as though they were going to put out anchors from the front of the ship. Verse 31. But Paul said to the commanding officer and the soldiers, "You will all die unless the sailors stay aboard." NLT

Verse 32. So the soldiers cut the ropes to the lifeboat and let it drift away. Verse 33. Just as day was dawning, Paul urged everyone to eat. "You have been so worried that you haven't touched food for two weeks," he said. Verse 34. "Please eat something now for your own good. For not a hair of your heads will perish."

464 Verse 35. Then he took some bread, gave thanks to God before them all, and broke off a piece and ate it. Verse 36. Then everyone was encouraged and began to eat -- Verse 37. all 276 of us who were on board. Verse 38. After eating, the crew lightened the ship further by throwing the cargo of wheat overboard.

Verse 39. When morning dawned, they didn't recognize the coastline, but they saw a bay with a beach and wondered if they could get to shore by running the ship aground. Verse 40. So they cut off the anchors and left them in the sea. Then they lowered the rudders, NLT

466 raised the foresail, and headed toward shore. Verse 41. But they hit a shoal and ran the ship aground too soon. The bow of the ship stuck fast, while the stern was repeatedly smashed by the force of the waves and began to break apart. Verse 42. The soldiers wanted to kill the prisoners to make sure they didn't swim ashore and escape. NLT

Verse 43. But the commanding officer wanted to spare Paul, so he didn't let them carry out their plan. Then he ordered all who could swim to jump overboard first and make for land. Verse 44. The others held onto planks or debris from the broken ship. So everyone escaped safely to shore.

468 Chapter 28. Once we were safe on shore, we learned that we were on the island of Malta. Verse 2. The people of the island were very kind to us. It was cold and rainy, so they built a fire on the shore to welcome us. Verse 3. As Paul gathered an armful of sticks and was laying them on the fire, a poisonous snake, driven out by the heat, bit him on the hand. Verse 4. The people of the island saw it hanging from his hand and said to each other, "A murderer, no doubt! Though he escaped the sea, justice will not permit him to live." Verse 5. But Paul shook off the snake into the fire and was unharmed.

470 Verse 6. The people waited for him to swell up or suddenly drop dead. But when they had waited a long time and saw that he wasn't harmed, they changed their minds and decided he was a god. He explained and testified about the Kingdom of God and tried to persuade them about Jesus from the Scriptures. Using the law of Moses and the books of the prophets, he spoke to them from morning until evening. Verse 24. Some were persuaded by the things he said, but others did not believe. Verse 25. And after they had argued back and forth among themselves, they left with this final word from Paul:

Verse 27.
