

Navigating the NEW “Doing History, Keeping the Past” Website

HOME:

The homepage for this website is www.unco.edu/hewit/doing-history. The old homepage, (<http://www.unco.edu/hewit/dohist/>) will still take users to the new website.

MAIN TOPICS:

The former “Doing History, Keeping the Past – Topics Menu” has been removed. Now, topics can be found in the “top navigation” of the website. These are:

- Colorado Indians
- Colorado Miners
- Colorado Farmers and Ranchers
- Trappers and Traders
- Colorado Cities
- 20th Century Colorado
- Virtual Field Trips

The following links to teaching resources are available from the HOME page by clicking on the Teacher Resources button, and are located in the footer on the far right (accessible from any page).

- About/A Note to Teachers
- Lesson Plans & Activities
- Online Resources
- Colorado History Essays

Fig 1: Home page

SUB-TOPICS:

There are TWO ways to access the sub-topics for each primary topic mentioned above.

1. In the top navigation, hover over (on mobile – click) the topic you want to learn more about and a drop-down list will appear of sub topics. Click on any to go to that page.
2. In top navigation, click on the topic name and a page with links to sub-topics will appear (Fig 2).
3. Each page within a topic will have links to the other topics in a side navigation (Fig 3).

Fig 2: Main “Colorado Indians” page

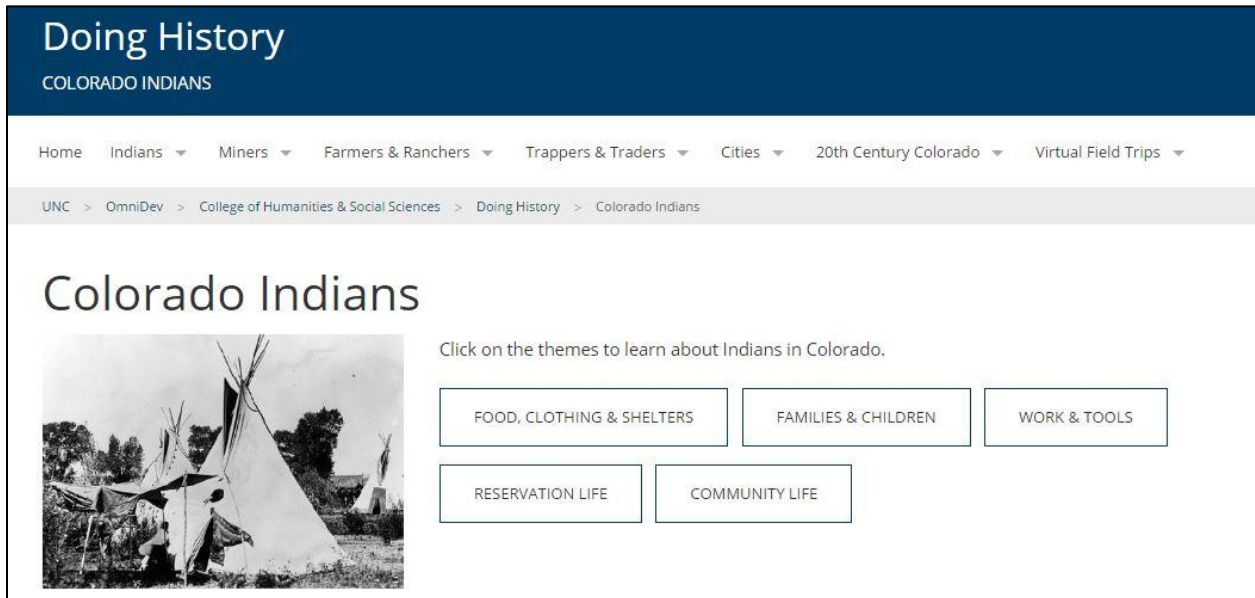

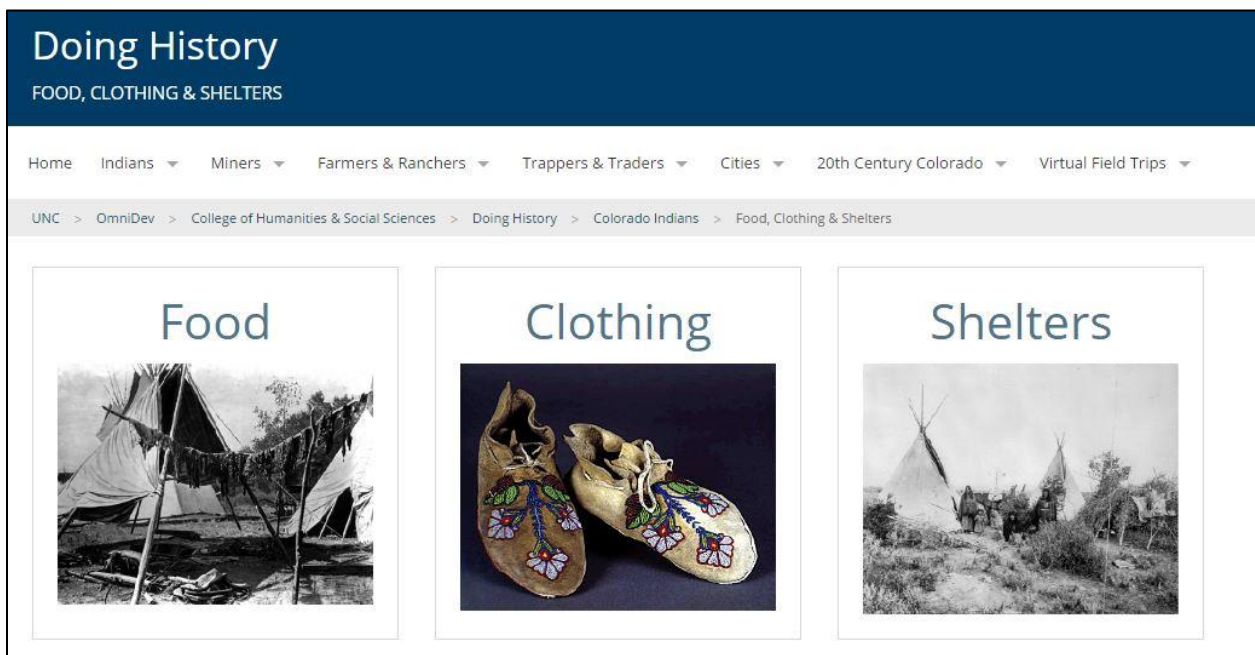

Fig 3: Main “Colorado Indians: Food, Clothing & Shelters” page

CONTENT PAGES:

On each sub-topic page mentioned above, you will find a slideshow (notice the arrows on either side of the first image) that gives the pictures, captions and further information for students. You can toggle the sub-topics easily by using the navigation on the right-hand side (see Fig 4).

Fig 4: "Colorado Indians: Food" page

Home Indians ▾ Miners ▾ Farmers & Ranchers ▾ Trappers & Traders ▾ Cities ▾ 20th Century Colorado ▾ Virtual Field Trips ▾

UNC > OmniDev > College of Humanities & Social Sciences > Doing History > Colorado Indians > Food, Clothing & Shelters > Food

Food

What do these photos tell you about the food that these people ate?

American Bison (Buffalo)

This is a bison or American buffalo. Millions of bison once lived on the Great Plains of North America. In the 1800s, they were the largest animal native to North America. An average buffalo cow provided about 400 pounds of meat. That was enough meat to feed one person for at least 200 days.

SITE MAP

See the links below to access any of the topics directly!

- Home
- Colorado Indians
 - Food, Clothing and Shelters
 - Families and Children
 - Work and Tools
 - Reservation Life
 - Community Life
- Colorado Miners
 - Food, Clothing and Shelters
 - Families, Children and Schools
 - Work and Tools
 - Mining Towns
 - Community Life
 - Transportation
- Colorado Farmers and Ranchers
 - Food, Clothing and Shelters
 - Families, Children and Schools
 - Farm Work and Tools
 - Ranch Work and Tools
 - Market and Supply Towns
 - Community Life
 - Transportation
- Colorado Cities
 - Food, Clothing and Shelters
 - Families, Children and Schools
 - City Work Places
 - Large Cities
 - Community Life
 - Transportation
- 20th Century Colorado
 - Food, Clothing and Shelters
 - Families, Children and Schools
 - Work and Tools
 - Community Life
 - Transportation
- Trappers and Traders
 - Beaver Ecology
 - Trappers' Daily Lives
 - Trappers' Work and Tools
 - Indian-Trapper Relations
 - Trappers' Rendezvous
 - Bison Ecology
 - The Santa Fe Trail
 - Bent's Fort
- Virtual Tours
 - Colorado Indians Tour One
 - Georgetown's Historic Houses
 - Georgetown's Historic Stores
 - An 1860s Farm
 - An 1890s Farm
 - Denver's Historic Larimer Square
 - Denver's Historic Lower Downtown
 - Denver's Historic 17th Street
 - The Lebanon Silver Mine
 - Denver's Historic Civic Center
 - Denver's Historic Uptown District
- Teacher Resources
 - A Note to Teachers
 - Site Map
 - Lesson Plans and Activity Ideas
 - Online Resources
 - Essays on Colorado History